BRITAIN IN LAST EFFORT TO KEEP ENTENTE ALIVE

Prime Minister Baldwin Declares Differences With France Not in Aim But in Methods

BY JOHN STEELE
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, July 12.—France is to have another chance to save the Entente. That, in the fewest possible words, is the meaning of the British government's statement read in the House of Commons this afternoon by Prime Minister Baldwin and in the House of Lord almost simultaneously by Lord Curzon.

If France cares enough for the alliance to modify its policy, Great Britain is anxious and willing for it to continue, but if France insists on pursuing its present policy, Great Britain is determined to take her own line.

HOUSE PACKED

The House was packed from floor to ceiling when Baldwin stood up this afternoon. The temperature was high in the nineties and the members evidently were suffering from the heat, every seat was filled and in the galleries gaily dressed women tried to keep cool by a constant movement of fans, while black-coated men sweltered and mopped their brows with handkerchiefs.

As a matter of courtesy, foreign secretaries and ambassadors attended the House of Lords, while the diplomatic gallery in the House of Commons was filled with counsellors and secretaries of the embassies.

Lawyer Accused of Jury Bribing Avers Frame-up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 12.—William J. Fallon, prominent criminal lawyer, who has appeared as counsel in the Arnstein, Fuller, Ward and other famous cases strode into Federal Judge FitzHenry's chambers in the Woolworth Building today and pleaded not guilty to charges of having bribed a juror and conspired to obstruct justice. He was held in $5000 bail and given until a week from Monday to enter a demurrer or change his plea.

Then from the office of his counsel, Fallon issued a statement declaring that he had been the victim of a vindictive newspaper campaign and that his indictment with the juror asserted to have been bribed and five stock brokers, was the result of a frame-up and "a dirty trick," involving an employee he had discharged.

Daugherty Injunction Against Railroad Workers Made Permanent by Federal Judge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 12.—In a decision which may be sweeping in its effect on the relations between railroad employees and employers, Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today handed down an order making permanent the temporary injunction granted against the rail unions during the strike last fall.

Although the settlement of the strike and the restoration of normal rail service ended the situation in which the injunction was a factor, Federal officials and labor chiefs see in Judge Wilkerson's ruling the establishment of a precedent that must govern largely in future controversies.

The judge declared that the decisions of the Railway Labor Board have behind them the power of public opinion and must be respected.

He called attention to the fact that despite the brief duration of the strike, property valued at $96,000,000 was damaged and that the evidence presented at the injunction hearing showed that clashes incidental to the walkout had resulted in nineteen deaths, 1500 cases of assault, fifty-five kidnappings, 300 fire and dynamite cases and fifty derailments.

ORDER WAS SWEEPING

The injunction which was granted on motion of Atty-Gen. Daugherty was one of the strongest ever invoked in a strike. It enjoined the defendants from interfering with railroad properties, from indulgence in threats, jeers, taunts or entreaties, from missionary work at the homes of strike-breakers, from loitering near railroad property, and from taking part in demonstrations in the furtherance of their strike. The funds of the union were tied up so far as their use in the strike was concerned.

In his decision making the injunction permanent, Judge Wilkerson said:

"It seems almost incredible that warfare of the kind disclosed by the voluminous record in this case should have been waged in this country. It is even more ominous that this unlawful assault upon the commerce of the nation should have found apologists and defendants, including some (happily a few, however) of those charged with the duty of protecting property and enforcing the law.

"This strike was more of a con-

TURKS AGAIN GET BALKY

American Stand Causes Split

Opposition to Protocol Concessions Disrupts the Lausanne Meet

Chester Grants Are Bone of Contention With France and Britain

BY VINCENT SHEEHAN
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAUSANNE, July 12. — The American opposition to protocol concessions annexed to the Allied-Turkish Treaty, has caused the Near East Peace Conference to break wide open tonight.

All the Allied delegates abruptly walked out of the conference room at 9 o'clock, when the Turks, encouraged by the American protest, withdrew their acceptance of the protocol and also refused to permit each power to keep two cruisers in thte Straits until all questions are finally settled between the Turks and Allies.

A serious rupture undoubtedly has occurred on the eve of the signing of peace. The Allies are talking of adjournment until the Turks become reasonable.

CHESTER CONCESSIONS

The fight over the concessions protocol not only concerns the Chester concessions, but two English prewar concessionaires, the Turkish Petroleum Company, which controls the Mosul fields, the Vickers-Armstrong Works and also the French Railway Company. The protocol provided that these three have their old concessions restored or indemnified.

The Turks already had accepted this agreement, but withdrew their acceptance of it tonight.

When the Allied delegates walked out they remarked that the Turks were showing such bad faith that it was useless to discuss further with them.

A large section of the Chester concessions are rendered practically worthless by the Allied "protocol on concessions."

This annex takes up twenty pages of detailed provisions regarding Turkish recompense for prewar concessions. The annex in principle was negotiated at Lausanne in the presence of the American delegation, but the provisions in detail resulted from private conversations carried on in Angora between Raouf Pasha and French and British concessionaires.

VALIDITY RECOGNIZED

In principle Turkey recognizes the validity of the prewar concessions and in this discussion the American delegation followed every detail of the conversation.

But by the provisions of the annex Turkey was to agree to surrender to the French and British companies such Chester concessions as conflict with the Allied claims. If such surrender were not made in six months from the signature of peace, Turkey was to agree to pay a huge indemnity in terms set

WHAT LOS ANGELES THINKS OF SAN FRANCISCO AND SAN FRANCISCO THINKS OF LOS ANGELES

In an effort to, once for all, let 'em get it out of their systems and thereby clear the atmosphere, the Los Angeles Times and the San Francisco Chronicle have undertaken to print what has long been supposed to be the unprintable—what San Francisco thinks of Los Angeles and what Los Angeles thinks of San Francisco. Each paper has sent one of its best writers to the other city and each writer is preparing a daily article, stating frankly what he thinks of the other man's town. These articles are exchanged nightly on the direct wire between the Times and Chronicle offices and each paper runs each article in parallel columns every morning for six mornings.

LOS ANGELES, July 13. — While it may be asserted without fear of successful contradiction that a Los Angeles realtor can spout verbiage which can charm a wild canary out of a tree, still he is a piker when stacked up against Los Angeles oil salesman.

But before I attempt an inadequate description of the ubiquitious oil salesman, let me point out his stock in trade.

The typical Los Angeles oil salesman's principal stock in trade is not oil but suckers, and of suckers the land is running over.

"One born every minute and two to take him" refers distinctly and truly to the sucker and Los Angeles oil salesmen.

This is not my own judgment. It is the frank admission of the oil salesmen themselves.

Of course, oil is a magic word and spells liquid gold to the ordinary mortal.

So, what with thousands of fresh dollars flowing into Los Angeles every hour (see Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce folder) it is little wonder that the oil salesmen have pretty pickings.

You will observe that I have called them "oil salesmen."

As a matter of fact, no true oil salesman in Los Angeles will admit anything else.

Of course, they call it selling "oil units," which, stripped of its syrupy sound, is only another way of saying "oil stock."

COME-ON LITERATURE

Strange as it may seem, in light of the figures as given out by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, there are these days when the supply of suckers does not come up to snuff. Those are the days when the wily oil operators park elderly women in downtown doorways.

Each elderly woman holds in her good right hand an assortment of come-on literature that would delight the heart of the student of persuasion and her methods.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—San Francisco is in the grip of a complex.

This is hatred and fear of Los Angeles.

It manifests itself in strange ways—such as the delusion that to deny the operations of the law which would give Los Angeles the legislative representation fixed by the constitution would in some miraculous way make the proportionate population smaller.

It makes me think of the alarm of some decrepit old beau in a toupee and with a corset cinching in his tummy — alarmed to see some gay young sheik making progress with the girls. He shakes his cane and stumps indignantly upon the sidewalk and calls down anathemas upon the wretch and complains bitterly to the barber who dyes his moustaches.

I remember that San Francisco used to refer spitefully to Los Angeles as a country town.

We used to have it rubbed in upon us in the Pullman washrooms when one San Francisco drummer would ask another:

"Been to Los?"

"Yeh."

"Have any fun?"

"Aw, I don't care for country life much."

Then they gradually changed their tune of scorn.

Then they pictured Los Angeles as a collection of consumptives staggering weakly upon the streets and dying at the corners. They said that they never dared to stop to speak to any one on the sidewalk for fear he would die upon their hands before the ambulance could arrive.

As the Southern City went on roaring with zip and strength and enthusiasm, they changed their bitter accusation to another terrible arraignment. They said we were from Iowa. Just why we shouldn't be from Iowa, was not clear. But they said we were from Iowa and went to bed at 9 o'clock.

SLIGHT DISCREPANCIES

And on top of that, although it seemed a dizzy and contradictory leap, they pictured us as debauches and routes and leering boule-

FIRPO BEATS WILLARD

Jess Takes Count in Eighth

Ex-Champion No Match for the Argentine Mauler in Slashing Fight

Record Crowd Sees Battle; McAuliffe is Knocked Out in First

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RINGSIDE, JERSEY CITY (N. J.) July 12—Jess Willard, the man mountain from Kansas, went back to fistic oblivion tonight but he staged the last, though futile act of his comeback before a vast throng of more than 100,000, the greatest in ring history, that filled Boyle's Thirty Acres to overflowing.

Luis Angel Firpo, the dark brown mauler from the Argentine, closed the door to Willard's attempted return to fistic fame by knocking out the giant former champion in the eighth round of a slashing battle—one of the greatest in recent heavyweight history. Incidentally he reached the goal at which he has aimed for the past year of his meteoric rise to prominence—a match for the title with Jack Dempsey.

There was no question of the superiority of the brilliant Argentine battler tonight. Willard's superior weight, height and reach enabled the big Kansan to check Firpo's rushing attacks in most of the early rounds but, despite the American's gameness under fire, the tide of battle swung inevitably in favor of the younger and more rugged fighter.

NO HINT OF DISASTER

The final round opened slowly. They sparred at long range and there was little hint that the end was near. But suddenly Firpo unleashed a savage drive to Willard's head and body. The fury of that attack had never before failed to bring down the South American's quarry and big Jess, despite his towering size and stamina, wilted. Step by step Willard gave ground trying almost blindly to ward off the volley of jolts to his head and body. Backed up against the ropes his head sank, then a right shot to the head sent him to his knees. He kneeled as Referee Harry Lewis started counting, shaking his head and trying to life himself up, but the waning strength in that great bulk was unequal to the task and he sank into the arms of his handlers at the final count.

Four years ago Willard came up after being knocked down seven times in the first round in the fight in which he lost his title to Jack Dempsey, but while the same courage remained today he could not muster the strength to arise after that devastating attack of Firpo's. Firpo's greater speed and

SENATORS MAY USE EAR MUFFS

Will Need Them if Magnus Johnson Wins

Has Bull Strength and Same Kind of Voice

Farmer-Labor Candidate Will Eat 'Em Alive

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. PAUL, July 12.—If Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor candidate for United States Senator from Minnesota, gets to Washington, the mighty Senate will realize at last how irresistible are the elemental forces, how hopeless their circumvention by puny man. With those forces when operating from without its chamber the Senate has been accustomed to deal simply by effectively adjourning, for example, when hail on the skylight and sometimes rain alone drown out debate.

But with the election of Magnus the Senate would find to its horror a noise out-thundering thunder loosed within the sacred cloister, a veritable explosion drowning out not only debate but rain and hail, Tom Heflin and the racket of William Brookhart's cowhide boots.

One is constantly reminder by his many admirers that "Magnus may not be the smartest man in the world, but he bellows like a bull." He needs no magnovox. If you follow him about you notice that not all his auditors take the trouble to assemble in the Courthouse square. When he begins to speak you will see folks put aside their papers a block up Main street and give attention to Magnus's agrarian gospel.

SNAPS HIS GALLUSES

Without coat or waistcoat, Magnus, every inch a working farmer, leaps upon the platform, snaps his galluses a few times to test their tension and proceeds to sail into the "interests." He is a swarthy man of medium height, 53 years of age, strong as a bull, with merry, spectacled eyes, and a heavy drooping black mustache. He was born in Sweden and speaks English with a Swedish accent, with "w" sounded as "v," and "j" as "y." He acquired his lung power as a glass blower in his youth.

First, he pays his respects to his opponent, Gov. Jake Preus, grandson of a Norwegian immigrant.

"Yake," he says, "he is a lawyer an dI am glad he is running against me. I tell you, friends, Magnus is a lucky cus. Have you been reading what Yake has been saying? He is so Progressive that he is a bigger Socialist now than Magnus Johnson is. They say I can't speak English. What do you think about it? Whether I can speak it or not, I can understand it well enough to vote yes or no and in the right way when the time comes. I can vote yes with La Follette in keeping the Supreme Court from declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional, and if I had been in Washington last year I would have known enough English to vote no when they moved to seat that man Newberry.

KNOWS WHATS WRONG

"I tell you, Magnus Johnson knows what is the matter. I got a pretty good farm and I got a good-sized mortgage on it, too. And I got a wife and children, and I got twenty-four cows and my wife and children milk those cows, too.

"I married a Yankee girl and she could understand me all right ven I asked her."

At this point Magnus, who has become overheated, rips off his collar, promising not to peel farther, while the good wives blush and titter at the suggestion.

In an interview after his speech Magnus gives his views generally on the job of legislating at Washington.

"I don't believe in digging too deep into things," he says. "These lawyers in Washington, they say they know so much, but half of it is just to fool the other fellow. I am for the common people and I want to be common.

"I don't give a damn for books. I want things that are alive, not things that have been dead thousands of years. I have read more history than any man, but I can't see a thing in them. Only about Lincoln. I stand where he stood. He was a great man. I quote him in my speeches.

"I have been a fighter, and generally won out. I held ten offices at one time.

NEVER REVERSED

"You know I have been legislating all my life. I was justice of the peace, interpreting the laws, and there never was a case in which I was reversed. They didn't dare to go to the county seat to dispute my decisions.

"That is the way I look at those lawyers in Washington. When I get down there and start a fight they will know me. I never quit. I don't always win, because the cards are stacked against me, but I am always right. When they start to make long speeches and try to mix things up with parliamentary procedure I'll straighten them out. I did it in the Legislature and I'll do it there.

"I don't believe in being too definite on issues. I'll wait until I get Brookhart's report before I decide on foreign relations. I don't want to get tangled before I know something. La Follette knows a lot about these things. I'll listen to him. But there is not anybody, man, woman or child, who is going to tell Magnus Johnson where he is at.

"I told a judge once, right in the Governor's office, and I had 225 farmers behind me: 'You bluff most all the people, but you can't bluff Magnus Johnson.' That judge has been meek as a lamb to me ever since."

ASKS ACTION BY POWERS IN ORIENT

Britain Suggests Means to Restore Normal Conditions Along Chinese Coast

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Joint action by the powers is understood to have been suggested by Great Britain as a means of restoring normal conditions along the Chinese sea coast and up the great rivers upon which the export cities are located.

The British suggestion, as understood here, would contemplate the use to a limited extent of naval resources but would not necessarily involve the military forces.

The British suggestion is understood to have been a result of conferences in Peking following the recent bandit activities in China and the American Minister is said to have opposed any action which would weaken the already shaky Chinese government. A dispatch from Tokio today indicated that Japan also was inclined not to favor any naval demonstration.

It apparently has been the hope of the conferees to clear up to a large extent the entire Chinese situation which recently has been complicated by a disagreement between China and France overpayment of remaining installments of the Boxer indemnity. This dispute is held responsible in diplomatic quarters here for France's failure to take up the two Chinese treaties negotiated at the Washington conference.

troversy between employer and employee. Its manifest purpose, as shown by the evidence, was to cripple and destroy interstate commerce, and to create by this assault a public opinion hostile to the decision of the board. The primary purpose of the combination therefore is unlawful, and it may not be carried out by means that otherwise would be legal.

"Even if the strike is regarded merely as a controversy between employer and employes, the evidence shows beyond doubt that it was part of the purpose of those engaged in this combination to carry on the strike by assault and acts of violence. Certainly upon such a showing the injunctive belief will not be limited to forbidding acts of violence which are done in secret, and for which it is hard to fix responsibility and to impose punishment, and thus leave defendants free to encourage injury to persons and property by open word and deeds which, in themselves, appear peaceful and lawful.

"Bulletins issued by the union organization leaders show the responsibility of the officers of the defendant's organization for the management of the strike. They also show that those officers in the midst of a campaign of violence unparalleled in American industrial history were continuously inciting the members of the defendant organization to greater activity."

Answering the contention of the unions that the temporary injunction interfered with free speech, Judge Wilkerson said:

"It is a misnomer to characterize any acts of the defendants as 'peaceful.' The peaceful words of pickets, the peaceful exhortations of strike leaders take on, by virtue of the atmosphere of lawlessness and violence in which they are spoken, a force not inhering in the words themselves and therefore transcending the right of free speech."

Widow Accused in Husband's Death

Mrs. Oesterreich, she spent the afternoon with friends and returned home with her husband about 11 p.m., the night of the murder. Oesterreich, she said, parked his car in a driveway and unlocked the front door for her, then snapped on the lights in a front room. As Mrs. Oesterreich went upstairs, she said, her husband started toward the rear of the house and she never saw him alive again.

"After I turned on the light in my room I heard a noise as though my husband had tripped on the rugs," she told the police. "Just as I placed my coat on a hook I heard three shots and as I turned to run out the closet door was slammed and locked in my face; then I heard the bedroom door closed and the key turned in it.

"I screamed and hammered on the door with my shoe, but I don't know if anyone heard me. Then I must have fainted for the next thing I remember was when police and neighbors unlocked the closet and pulled me out."

Mrs. Oesterreich declared her husband usually carried $300 to $600 in money with him. The police found only a couple of dollars in his pockets when they searched his body. There was nothing missing from the house, nor was there any sign that burglars had entered. The French window opened from the inside and none of the doors or windows bore jimmy marks. The police asumed that the window might have been left unlatched and that the supposed burglars entered through it, leaving the same way after stripping the manufacturer's pockets.

"Oesterreich did not have an enemy in the world," declared Fred Keune of 845 West Tenth street, the dead manufacturer's closest friend in this city, and the last man known to have seen Oesterreich alive. The Oesterreichs spent the evening of the murder at the Keune home. Keune said he had known Oesterreich for fifteen years, and had been associated with him in business in Milwaukee.

NO CLEW AT INQUEST

No clews to the murder were developed at the inquest, at which the widow, apparently overcome and mourning deeply, told the same story she told the police. It was shown that two of the bullets struck Oesterreich near the heart and that the third, apparently fired as he was falling, penetrated the back of his head.

The Oesterreiches came here from Milwaukee in the summer of 1918, and Oesterreich established a branch factory at 2830 North Broadway. The slain man left two brothers in Milwaukee, and his wife's mother, Mrs. M. Korschell, also lived there.

The manufacturer's will, filed in Milwaukee in October, gave his estate as $235,000 in personal property and $7000 in real estate. All was left to the widow, Mrs. Wilburga Oesterreich.

by a man to whom it had been given by the murdered man's wife!

The man to whom the gun was entrusted made one mistake when he endeavored to fulfill what the detectives say were Mrs. Oesterreich's orders to him "to make away with it."

He approached the sump hole—into which sabre-toothed tigers and mastodons of former ages had sunk to remain forever—threw the gun as one rids himself of a loathsome thing, and fled.

The gun never reached the sump hole. It was found eighteen inches from the brink. It will be the strongest link in the chain of evidence to convict the woman under arrest, declared Detective Cline.

Mrs. Oesterreich when brought to the police station last night, screamed denials to every accusation. So taut became her nerves under the questioning that she fainted and was put under the care of police surgeons.

Taken to the police station with the woman was Attorney Herman S. Shapiro, who has offices in the Story Building. Detective Lieutenant Cline declared that Shapiro admitted that he had been living at the house of Mrs. Oesterreich since January of this year in the home she occupied after the murder at 101 North Beachwood Drive, the address where she was arrested.

ATTORNEY FREED

Attorney Shapiro was released only after a lengthy conference between Captain of Detectives George K. Home and Detective Cline, when Cline declared that Shapiro had been wearing a watch believe dto have been the property of Mrs. Oesterreich's husband, and which had been reported by the widow to have been stolen on the night of the murder.

The arrest and questioning of yesterday afternoon came about after information had been brought to the police of a .25-caliber automatic pistol, the same calibered weapon with which Oesterreich had been slain, had been disposed of by Mrs. Oesterreich. Following the trail of the pistol, detectives traced the weapon to a sump hole near Venice, and there recovered it. The weapon had been broken with a hammer and the numbers filed off.

A second .25-caliber pistol was also discovered by the police and traced from the owner back to Mrs. Oesterreich, they say. In both cases the names of the persons who informed the police that they had the pistols, is being kept secret. Capt. Home yesterday declared that his informers state that they were given the weapons by Mrs. Oesterreich. The transfer of the weapons is said by the police to have taken place four days after the mysterious slaying.

In a complete statement to Capt. Home, Mrs. Oesterreich yesterday denied all of the charges against her. She stated that she knew nothing of the killing of her husband and had been locked in a closet in her home when the fatal shots were fired. She denied giving away any pistols and stated that she did not know anything about the matter.

Three bullets from a .25 caliber automatic pistol, fired at close range, killed Fred Oesterreich, wealthy apron manufacturer, in his home at 858 North Andrews Boulevard near midnight on August 22, 1922. A fourth bullet from the same pistol was found embedded in the ceiling, and on the floor, near the body, were four ejected shells.

From the fact that the police found Mrs. Oesterreich locked in a clothes closet of her bedroom, the outside door of which was locked; that there were signs of a struggle in the room where the dead man lay—rugs crumpled, a chair turned over, and that a French window at the side of the house was open, the police concluded at first that the manufacturer had been surprised in his home by burglars, who had entered during his absence, one of whom had killed him. The other was believed to have locked the wife in a closet.

LOS ANGELES

elderly woman bait, he is doing a fair day's work.

If Los Angeles is oil mad, the oil salesman is a raving maniac.

If you stop to light a cigarette in a cigar store and bat half an eye, you will have half a dozen oil babies crawling your frame.

Of course a certain percentage of suckers stand without hitching and shell out their shekels at a mere gesture from the commanding oil salesman.

But there is that class of sucker who is timid.

He must be shown, although he may come from Iowa and not Missouri.

Here is where the oil salesman gets in his slick work.

It is advertised that one of the most prominent darlings of the screen will attend a doings at Signal Hill, in person, and while there will personally give away a bungalow which cost $12,000 on the hoof. It is surprising how many suckers will trek out to Signal Hill.

The bungalow is quickly given away to somebody who will give it back again in time for next Sunday's performance, and then in steps the oleaginous oil salesman.

In dulcet tones he will ask the sucker to please step forward and look at this one.

More than $9,000,000 a minute will pour out of this well before breakfast next day, if the sucker only lends his financial support, according to the oil salesman.

Being there on the ground, the sucker promptly signs on the dotted line.

After that he is, to use a trite expression, a goose which has left for another destination.

He is nothing but an aching void.

His heart suffers from that desolation which arises from the recollection of some cherished endearment no longer possessed, meaning his bankroll.

Such is the oil salesman.

Of course, the average realtor of Los Angeles may scoff and sneer at the puny assertion that his tongue-waving ability pales into nothingness when compared to that of the average Los Angeles oil salesman, but that's my story and I stick to it.

FULL OF ORANGE-ADE

Speaking of sticking, another money-getter is this: All over Los Angeles one finds orange-ade stands and huge brown barrels which house vast quantities of root beer. Of course, there are plenty of places down here where it is possible to obtain something a trifle stronger than orange-ade, but I was speaking merely of soft drinks.

The vicious feature of these soft drink stands lies in the fact that they are so sweet that one drink means another. Thus it will be seen that it requires money to soft-drink your way about the town.

Still, such tactics are not fair. It is a rank play to absorb the profits of the "self-serving restaurants," for, by the time you are supposed to dine, you are so filled with soft drinks that the mere mention of food is sufficient to arouse your extreme anger.

Another method of getting the money is the drinking cup. You can't, at least I couldn't, get yourself a free drink of water, should you happen to step into a hotel lobby.

True, there are plenty of water spouts but you must dig up a penny before you can accumulate a paper cup.

They don't overlook a cent down here in Los Angeles.

A penny or a million—it's all the same to Los Angeles.

In a sneering mood, so it is related, a visitor once called a fourbit piece a "Los Angeles dollar."

The sneerer was escorted to the city limits (up near Bakersfield) and severly told never to return on pain of death or boiling in oil, or some such dreadful punishment.

But, after all is said and done, there is a great deal of money in Los Angeles.

John Tait of San Francisco has opened a new restaurant down here.

He proudly told me yesterday that he feeds an average of 8000 persons daily.

Personally, I don't know how they get in.

I couldn't when I tried this noon.

SAN FRANCISCO

vardiers making the nights of Hollywood hideous and staining the whole nation black with iniquity.

And having thus flattened us out with these various iniquities they said that we were not really a big town anyhow. I notice that my colleague observes with biting wit that the only reason we didn't annex Bakersfield was because of the mountains between.

They hooted at our harbor, until, to their dismay, it was selected as the strategic base for the great Pacific battleship fleet.

In fact it is a plain pathologic case. The wildness and the recklessness of the frenzy suggests a sad twist in an otherwise brilliant mentality.

In its hysteria, San Francisco grows frantic, incoherent and amazing.

In a medical sense, delusions and hallucinations consist of seeing things fixedly as they ain't.

And that's the way San Francisco sees Los Angeles.

One has only to examine the facts to see that San Francisco is in a serious mental condition.

Although it would be highly creditable to Los Angeles, if it were made up of Iowa people, the fact is that the States contributing most heavily to our population are New York and Illinois.

The high lights of Hollywood are another hallucination. Read the lists of the churches, the schools and the meager police record to find that Hollywood is the most respectable town on the map.

As to the accusation that Los Angeles has scooped up all the towns not nailed to the map and compressed them into one city is also apart from the real facts. Incidentally I observe that San Francisco is only deterred from annexing the other cities around the bay by the fact that they refuse to be annexed.

Only temporarily dismayed by the fact that they will have none of her, the San Francisco gathers them all—these towns who scorn her—hastily under her banner anyhow; and calling them all "one metropolis," triumphantly emerges from the corner muttering with a million population. This goes purely and alarmingly into the realm of diseased ego—(maginary grandeur, etc.

IMAGINARY PAST

Another fixed delusion of San Francisco is an imagined past.

Up here in San Francisco they tell you in hushed whispers about the grand city that it was before prohibition; before the Eighteenth Amendment laid its withering blight upon the place. Somehow or other, its supremacy has been filched by the White Ribbon and in some mysterious way, Los Angeles is to blame.

I might have believed it if I hadn't seen San Francisco in those glorious days.

The fascination of the vanished night life of San Francisco is all bunk. I have seen them all—those romantic cafes of that romantic preprohibition era.

And of all the tedious, tiresome, noisy bores that ever afflicted guilty humans, those Bohemian resorts were the most irksome.

The Barbary Coast sounded great in Jack London stories; but it was very dull in actuality. The houris who were supposed to have given the San Francisco of that day its color were bone headed swine who always looked bored to the point of tears and were fairly pathetic in their efforts to smile.

No, Kipling found Flora McDonald in the cerebrations of his brain; not in Spider Kelly's joint.

If San Francisco would stop glaring down at Los Angeles and tend to its own knitting and stop crying over its alleged glories that have departed; and stop sighing over the color that was really only red paint—

Well it would be happier in spirit and clearer of soul.

by the Allies and included in the protocol.

No action has been taken on America's protest against Article 57 of the Lausanne Treaty, which guarantees to the Allies 5,000,000 gold pounds belonging to the "allied and associated powers."

The money is relatively a small sum, but the American action was taken on the question of principle. Minister Grew, acting on instructions from Washington, notified the Allies more than a week ago that the United States considers Article 57 an infringement on previous agreements. The money in question now lies in the bank of France to the account of the Reparations Commission for the Allied and Associated Powers. America's right in the money has been specifically recognized on several occasions by the Reparations Commissions.

Nevertheless last week in Article 57 of the Peace Treaty here Turkey formally recognized the Allies' ownership of the money.

Unless Paris and London take time off from other business and perform an operation on Article 57 the status of this cash will be settled definitely when peace is signed here. Since this is the only actual cash to which America has rights in the whole reparations tangle it assumes a certain importance beyond the actual money value.

The £5,000,000 were German gold bullion credited to Turkey. The council on the Ottoman debt in 1915 authorized the emission of bank notes in that amount, but the gold never actually reached Constantinople. It was seized by the Allied and American high commands at the time of the armistice and transferred to Paris, where the Reparations Commission assumed charge in the name of five powers—England, France, Italy, the United States and Japan.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Cannibals may be correct in their theory that they gain enemy's strength by eating them, according to Dr. William Held of Chicago, who sailed for Germany today on the Westphalia to obtain a chimpanzee upon which to conduct rejuvenation experiments.

"Perhaps these ancient and primitive people hit upon a great scientific truth," said Dr. Held. "For instance, take the adrenalin glands, which are the glands of courage. We are now using this fluid from sheep as a heart stimulant, and in some instances babies and human beings whose vitality has been suspended, have been brought back to life."

WEBB RULES POINT IN BUDGET CONTROVERSY

DISPUTE OVER PAY SOURCE FOR FOREST RANGERS IS SETTLED

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Atty.-Gen. Webb solved one phase of the controversy over the budget bill when he ruled in an opinion to M. B. Pratt, State Forester, that the salaries of forest-fire rangers can be paid out of the support appropriation allowed in the budget bill.

Pratt asked for the opinion on the advice of the State Controller's office and Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, budget author and member of the State Board of Control, as there was doubt whether the support fund could be used for paying salaries of the rangers.

Mrs. Pierce announced that in view of Webb's opinion she would approve the annual budget as presented by the Board of Forestry, which provides for paying the fire rangers out of the support appropriation. The Controller's office, it was said, also will abide by the decision.

LASTING PEACE PLAN GIVEN

Former Vice-President Marshall Wants Those Who Declare War to Do Fighting

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The real way to help the world on the road to lasting peace is to let the people who do the fighting pay the bills determine whether a war shall be waged, Thomas Marshall, former Vice-President of the United States, has written Edward W. Bok, donor of the $100,000 prize for the best solution preventing future conflicts.

Concretely, Mr. Marshall proposes the allocation of the law of every civilized nation so that no war shall be fought until a referendum has been taken among all men and women more than 18 years of age in the countries affected, and that if war is resolved upon by this popular vote, a sixty-day interim shall ensue before hostilities begin.

Mr. Marshall's letter reads in part:

"I modestly suggest that if we are to consider new ways of helping to measurably assure peace in the world, we reverse the process; suppose we try the experiment of permitting the people who do the fighting and pay the bills to determine the question. I know that the world around the universal cry is 'peace,' but I have no means of knowing whether the whole world or even half of it wants peace.

"If the world and the people thereof do not desire it, all documents guaranteeing it are 'as idle as a painted ship upon a painted ocean,' if the people of the nations of the world or a great majority of them are really destitute of saving peace, I am vain enough to believe that I know the steps whereby they can attain unto their hearts' desire.

"Through diplomatic channels let the government of the United States propose to the several nations of the world that the organic law of every civilized people shall be so altered as to provide that no war shall ever be waged until after the question of the waging thereof has been submitted to a referendum of all men and women more than 18 years of age, and not then until six days have expired after the announcement of the result of the referendum. That all officers, soldiers and sailors of the army and navy of the country shall be sworn not to leave the territorial land or water of the country and wage war until after the referendum shall have directed them to do so; and that every person who shall either give or obey an order without this authorization shall be taken to be an international criminal, subject to trial for the offense in an international criminal court; none of these changes to become effective until the great powers and two-thirds of all the nations have agreed thereto.

"That then an international criminal court shall be established, consisting of one judge from each nation, and to it shall be given authority to promulgate rules with reference to this international crime of making war without authority, to fix the grades of punishment that are to be inflicted upon violators of the law; providing that all who ordered the war without authority and all who led the armies and navies in the war without such lawful authority shall be guilty of homicide against the peace and dignity of the world, and upon conviction thereof shall suffer death; that those who obey orders, upon conviction, shall be found guilty of homicide in the second degree and shall suffer punishment by imprisonment for such term as the court may decree, finally, that by an international treaty all the other nations of the world, in the event of the lawful waging of war, shall send their military and naval forces, arrest the offenders and bring them before an international criminal tribunal for hearing and trial.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 12.—The little town of Tea, a community of 685 persons, is located in Susquehanna Valley, in the heart of York county, Pa., near the waters of Muddy Creek.

Heretofore the village has caused no commotion, on the map, but few persons heard of it. However, the before the advent of Prohibition self-admitted champion cracker eater of the world. Peter is 19 years of age and his manager, Maurice Lefax, is 17.

They were picked up on a street this morning by a policeman, who did not know the time he was arresting a champion. It was explained at the police station that what began as prize-fighting and other feats in some localities, are frowned upon in Tea, Pa., by cracker eating feats. The champion and his manager said they had financed their way to California and this is made by meeting and defeating other cracker-eating contestants. ## URGES ONE HEAD FOR CONVICT LABOR CAMPS

SEVERAL CHANGES RECOMMENDED IN REPORT MADE TO COMMISSION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—A number of changes in the conduct of convict labor camps in California to conform to provisions of the Convict Labor Compensation Act passed by the last Legislature, are recommended in a report filed today with the State Highway Commission by Julian H. Alco of San Francisco, who was appointed to make a survey of the subject.

Under the terms of the act, convicts assigned to the road camps will receive a maximum wage of $2.50 per work-day, but the maximum net wage cannot exceed 75 cents per workday. Considering the cost of maintaining the camps, which includes food, transportation, guarding and maintenance, clothing, medical attention and other deductions which will be made from the daily wage, the report states that the average net earnings of convicts would be less than $15 a month.

One of the principal recommendations of the report is that the highway commission appoint a general superintendent of the prison road camps, who would be in direct charge of the work of the various convict crews. For this position, Alco recommends L. H. Taylor, who has har charge of convict camps in Sierra, Shasta and Siskiyou counties.

EXPLORER FILLS AIR WITH NEWS

Radio Picks Up MacMillan in Arctic Sea

Gigantic Bergs Drive Ship Into Harbors

Three of Crew Have Narrow Escape in Ice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright, 1923, in the United States and Great Britain by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.]

BOSTON (Mass.) July 12.—The following message from the Arctic schooner Bowdoin, Capt. Donald B. MacMillan, was copied direct this morning from the schooner, now nearing Battle Harbor in the North Arctic by R. B. Bourne, operator of radio station 1 ANA at Chathamport.

"Radio station WNP, schooner Bowdoin, Henley Harbor, Labrador, July 10.—Three of my men had a close call while we were anchored at Greenly Island, Labrador, Thursday. Just off of the Bowdoin was a very large flat-topped iceberg which particularly interested the new members of the expedition. Desiring to climb aboard to get some photographs at close range, they rowed out to the berg.

"By cutting footholds in the side with a hatchet, after slipping and sliding around, they reached the top. After they had finished their picture-taking, they slid down a rope from the top of the boat. As the last man got in there was a terrific report and hundreds of tons of ice, from one end of the berg crashed down into the sea.

SEA OF ICEBERGS

"Only a few minutes before, the boys, Jaynes, Mix and Fairbanks, had been standing on that point of ice. After viewing the amount of ice that went floating away from the berg, the boys lost some of their enthusiasm for iceberg exploring. And we have passed an unusual number of bergs up to this point, with hundreds continually visible. Their beauty and odd shapes have proved a sufficient attraction to drag men, who were off watch, from their warm forecastle to the deck.

"One berg, the men declare, presented a perfect image of old Tut-Ankh-Amen. The menace of these bergs in the thick fog at night, however, has caused us to put into harbor at Greenly Island, Red Bay and Henley Harbor in as many days. This has proved interesting for the men and has given Richard Geddard, of the Carnegie Institute, an opportunity for magnetic observations.

This work at Red Bay should prove valuable to mariners for charts of this bay bear notations that there are unusual disturbances there. Residents there have had two bad fishing seasons and almost before our anchor was lowered, small boats were headed for the boat, coming from all directions. From the occupants came requests for everything from clothing to mayonnaise dressing. In return they wished to sell us skins, double American prices; also to sell us cigars. Where these latter came from is a mystery, unless they are off the British warship Raleigh's wreck at Point Armour, which we passed en route here.

BIRDS FILL AIR

We were offered a remarkable spectacle at Parrequet Island. Thousands of puffins or parkeets filled the air. When E. F. MacDonald, the Chicago radio manufacturer, and I went ashore, we found the island literally covered with nests.

From this island we noted a tent on the mainland and guessed that it was some scientist studying this bird life. Later we discovered that it was the abode of a warden appointed by the government to guard the island. The government had merely failed to provide him with a boat in which to get there.

Static is bothering our radio work, but we have enjoyed several excellent concerts, and have picked up amateur stations in Waterloo, Ia.; Belton, Tex.; Wilmington, N. C.; many other places throughout the eastern and middlewestern part of the United States, and also Bordeaux, France. Transmission has been successful so far, except that Bill Lewis, our cook, is losing a little sleep because of the motor hum. Bill asserts that he has been shipmates with many strange things, but this is the first time he has been shipmates with such a contraption.

After arriving Sunday, we went ashore and climbed a high cliff from which we saw the yacht Cossack, as she cautiously nosed through the ice and anchored near by. This fifty-footer is owned by L. O. Crane of Boston, who is here on a fishing trip. She will probably accompany us tomorrow to Battle Harbor unless we are both prevented by ice and fog.

[Signed] MAC MILLAN.

ALASKA SHINES FOR PRESIDENT

"Harding Weather" Prevails on Entire Trip

Bright Skies Greet Chief as He Lands

Water Scenery Rouses Party to Enthusiasm

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KETCHIKAN (Alaska) July 12. Everybody in Ketchikan believes there is something to the stories about "Harding weather." It was a bright clear day when President Harding arrived here on his Alaskan tour and such days are few and far between in the territory's southernmost port where no less an authority than Admiral Rodman asserts that "it rains 360 days every year and drizzles the other five." This portion of the coast really has about thirteen feet of rain annually.

From the time it was announced definitely at Washington that the President was planning to visit Alaska, the people of Ketchikan began hoping and almost praying that the sun would shine on Mr. Harding when he stepped ashore. And, sure enough it did.

The phrase "Harding weather" grew out of the 1920 campaign during which not a drop of rain fell in Marion on any of the days that Mr. Harding received visiting delegations on his front porch.

ONLY ONE DRIZZLE

Also it never rained during any of his campaign trips. The phrase gained further basis during the recent trans-continental trip which was marked by fair weather except for the day in Tacoma, and even then there was only a light drizzle which did not operate to interfere with the Chief Executive's program.

All of the members of the Presidential party arrived here enthusiastic about the beauty of the scenery of the Inside Passage from Tacoma or Seattle to Ketchikan, more than 500 miles of which are through Canadian waters. The marine transport Henderson, on which the party travelled, and the Corry and Hull, the destroyer escort wound in and out among half-submerged mountains, sometimes near at hand and at other times, when the channel widened, only dimly visible in the distance. Many of the peaks were covered with snow, which ever has been a welcome sight to members of the party who remember that hot weather that prevailed in the East and Middle West at the start of the trip.

The treeclad slopes of the mountains rise from the waters edge so that in places where the channel is narrow, the Hendersop seemed to be sailing along between solid walls of green. Submergence of the mountains acted to make bays and inlets of what were formerly valleys, and these bays and inlets greatly resemble the fiords of Norway.

CAN'T BEAT THE BAND

The United States Navy Band stationed regularly in Washington, but detailed to the Henderson during the Alaskan trip, endeavored during the voyage from Tacoma to give its daily concerts as much "local color" as possible and succeeded, according to members of the Presidential party. The concert the first night out began with Sousa's March, "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine" in recognition of the President's membership in the Shrine. Another number on the same program was the march "Call Me Henry," composed by Charles Benter, the leader, and dedicated to Henry Lansburgh, former potentate of the Washington, D. C., temple of the Shrine.

Mrs. Harding's favorite "The End of a Perfect Day," was played at almost every concert, and "Beautiful Ohio" was frequently heard.

The "landlubber" members of the party, as is always the case, were all confused until they learned the difference between port and starboard and the meaning of such terms as "fore" "aft," "stern" and "bow." Naval officers and the more sea-wise members of the party had a good laugh on hearing one of the secret service men say that his quarters were "on the righthand side of the boat near the tail-end."

ELKS OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Giant Parade Closes Atlanta Convention

Pasadenan Receives Honors at Grand Lodge

Aquatic Carnival Stirring Feature of Meet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) July 13.—Installation this morning of the grand lodge officers who were elected Tuesday morning occupied the entire time of the final business session of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks meeting in fifty-ninth annual convention at the Lyric Theater.

The annual parade of all lodges, drill patrols, bands and floats this afternoon at 3 o'clock brought the reunion to an official close and while the entertainment events have been provided tonight and Friday, the parade is the last official business of the meeting.

A resolution thanking Atlanta for its cordial entertainment and praising the Atlanta lodge for the excellent manner in which the convention was handled was adopted.

INSTALL CALIFORNIAN

Grand Exalted Ruler McFarland, immediately after his installation, announced the appointment of John P. Sullivan of New Orleans, chairman of the committee on social and community welfare and M. R. Baskerville of Watertown, S. D., Lodge No. 642, as secretary to the Grand Exalted Ruler. The convention adjourned at 1:36 to meet again July 7, 1924, at Boston for the sixtieth annual reunion.

James G. McFarland of Watertown, S. D., unanimously chosen for the new Grand Exalted Ruler, succeeding J. Edgar Masters of Charleroi, Pa., was installed in his office with impressive ceremonies as were all of the other grand lodge officers as follows:

Harry M. Tickner of Pasadena, Cal., Grand Esteemed Leading Knight; George J. Winslow of Utica, N. Y., Grand Esteemed Loyal Knight; Clement Scott of Vancouver, Wash., Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight; Fred C. Robinson of Chicago; re-elected Grand Esteemed Secretary; John K. Burch of Grand Rapids, Mich., Grand Esteemed Treasurer; William P. Murphy of Brownwood, Tex., Grand Esteemed Inner Guard and J. F. Mayer of Globe, Ariz., Grand Esteemed Esquire.

Meanwhile the visiting ladies were entertained at the Elks' clubhouse while a number of impromptu sightseeing tours were arranged. The crowning features of the entertainment program of the week were the several events at Lakewood Park during the afternoon and evening. The barbecue was the piece de resistance and it was estimated that 25,000 persons were guests of the local Elks. The band competition followed by the concert given by the combined bands which succeeded the burbecue was a delightful event and the large concrete grand stand was filled to overflowing.

Then as darkness fell over the park, the Venetian carnival interspersed with fireworks was given on the lake. This event was one of the prettiest aquatic and fireworks displays ever given in Atlanta. At the auditorium later in the evening "A Night in the Old South" was repeated followed by the grand cotton ball given in honor of all visiting patrols.

The California delegation began leaving tonight. Some will leave tomorrow and Saturday while a few will remain for the Jeff Smith-Bob Roper fight Monday, returning home via Mammoth Caves, Yellowstone Park and other points of interest.

AIR ARMAMENT ANNOYS LONDON

House of Lords is Warned of French Plans

Strong Plane Fleet is Urged in Debate

England, However, Ready to Quit War Clothes

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, July 12.—A motion to register the opinion of the House that "in view of the growing importance of air power, the contemplated expenditure in the naval estimates is disproportionate," aroused heated debate in the House of Lords last night. Lord Birkenhead and his disciples heatedly attacked the government's proposal to build a huge and costly naval base at Singapore while starving the air branch to the imminent danger to England.

"Whatever our financial circumstances might be, we cannot afford to fall behind in relation to our air defense," declared Lord Birkenhead. "Vast armaments in the air are being created by a continental nation. We are cornered with facts, not with intentions. We must have an air force equal to that of any other country, if only that the wishes of England may be considered in the counsels of Europe and the world."

In reply, the Marquis of Linlithgow, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, admitted the growing usefulness of the airplane, but stuck to the conviction of the old blue water school of naval experts that the battleship is the supreme unit of naval power, and that naval power is only complementary.

Replying to a further motion by Lord Gorell that the government should take immediate steps to cooperate with other governments for the limitation of air armaments, the Marquis of Salisbury stated that the British government had decided that England must have an air force equal to any other in the world, but "in view of the heavy expenditures involved, they had not gone beyond the necessities."

In the meantime the British government is ready and anxious to co-operate with other countries in limiting air armaments, he said, when "the position of Europe is less strained than at present. The British government desires to carry out the principles of the Washington treaty regarding air, army and naval forces. But we will have an adequate air force until we can arrange some terms on which there can be some mutual limitation of armaments. But the probability is that any immediate step would not be fruitful, but would almost certainly be misunderstood."

Lord Gorell's motion was withdrawn and his previous motion rejected.

ROME'S HISTORIC SHE WOLF DIES

Superstitious Citizens Fear Disaster as Capitol Cage is Empty

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROME, July 13.—Superstitious citizens here are fearing a disaster due to the fact that the historic wolf cage on the Campidoglio is tenantless.

The last capitoline she-wolf—the symbol of Rome's fabled origin—died a fortnight ago, due, it is said, to a broken heart.

From time immemorial it has been the custom to keep a wolf on the steps of the Capitol, as well as three eagles, to symbolize the Romulus and Remus legend of the might of imperial Rome.

The authorities have announced that when a new, spacious cage is finished, a fine young she-wolf will be brought from the Abruzzi Mountains.

According to the traditional interpretation, the wolf's death is an augury of misfortune to Rome.

CANNING-PEACH MEN ANNOUNCE PRICE CUT

OVERSATURATED MARKET IS GIVEN AS REASON FOR LOWER SCHEDULE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The California Canning Peach Growers announced today that they had reduced the price on best-grade clings from $45 to $30 a ton and on best-grade freestones from $35 to $25 a ton after a three-day conference of the directors of the organization. The higher prices had been announced May 31 for this season's crop.

The reduction followed a notification from the canners that they could not buy the peaches at the figure quoted because of an "oversaturated market," a big holdover from last season and a record crop this season.

No. 2 grade clings were quoted at $15 in the new tariff and all freestones outside of the Lowell grade were quoted at $20.

The canners said in the notification that the cling pack last season was 7,344,000 cases and that a similar or perhaps even larger pack would be the case this year as the result of a potential cling crop of 200,000 tons.

It was explained that it would be more profitable for the canners to buy up the excess of last year's pack to meet any demands, rather than buy the green fruit at the prices first quoted.

The freestone problem is an easier one, as the freestones not absorbed by the canneries can be dried, whereas this is not possible with the clings. Also the freestone production is but 20 per cent of the cling output.

Today's action was taken "after an exhaustive review of the market situation," the Canning Peach Growers' Association announced.

FREEDOM OF PHILIPPINES IS FORECAST

Naval Pact Ratification by France is Hailed by Independence Advocates

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MANILA, July 12.—French ratification of the Four-Power Naval Treaty is hailed by advocates of Filipino independence here as a big step toward driving the United States government from the islands.

In an interview Commissioner Isauro Gabaloon is quoted as saying:

"This ratification means liberation of the Philippines, because the United States will be practically forced to abandon the islands."

The commissioner added that the treaty guarantees the safety of the Philippines State, because no strong power can seize the islands if treaties mean anything at all.

Teorodo M. Kalawa, executive secretary of the Independence Commission, also holds that the United States cannot retain its grip on the islands under the treaty signed at Washington and made effective by the French signature. Mr. Kalawa adds:

"With the naval ratio set by these treaties, Japan could easily take the Philippines within three to seven days. The fortifications built by the United States here are very weak. It will be necessary to strengthen them before independence is granted to the islands."

Gov.-Gen. Wood declined to comment on the significance of the French action in reference to the Philippines.

COST OF IRRIGATION PROJECT TO BE NEARLY THREE MILLION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Actual construction work on the Merced River Dam for impounding water for the Merced irrigation district will commence within the next few weeks, it was announced here today by W. F. McClure, State Engineer, following a conference with attorneys and engineers for the irrigation district.

Plans were approved today for the reconstruction of eighteen miles of road for the Yosemite Valley Railroad to replace that which will be submerged, McClure said.

The cost of building the dam and replacing the railroad will be approximately $2,750,000, according to present estimates.

The irrigation district, embracing about 182,000 acres, voted a $12,000,000 bond issue to carry out the project.

RRIFIC RIGHT TO JAW SENDS OLD KANSAN DOWN FOR COUNT

ll of the Pampas" Takes Early Lead; Veteran is Cheered by Fans When He Threatens Youth in Third and Fifth Rounds

BY HARRY NEWMAN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YLE'S THIRTY ACRES (Jersey City, N. J.) July 12.—Jess Willard went crashing to defeat in the eighth round of a scheduled twelve-round affair in Jersey City tonight Luis Angel Firpo, the tigerman from the Argentine, unbuckled a right-hand swing landed flush on Jess's jaw. Firpo, scenting victory, crashed two cruel lefts into old Jess's and when the count of ten had been sounded Jess was still on the floor, but was trying himself up to the ropes.

Willard was on one knee when the ref- eree started the count. Jess reached over and grasped the rope in an endeavor to pull himself up, but the right to the chin and the lefts to the stomach were too much for the veteran boxer. The count went on with Ray Archer, Scotty Monteith and Jack Skelly, who were handling Jess, and the crowd all yelling for Jess to get up. Jess made one feeble effort to arise, but old nature rebelled. The old count was going over fast and old Jess was doomed.

Willard weighed 242, while Firpo scaled 214.

Floyd Johnson knocked out Jack McAuliffe II, Detroit, in the first round, after one minute and four seconds of fighting.

McAULIFFE DROPPED

After a slight exchange of punches, Johnson let go with a terrific right which landed on McAuliffe's chin. He went down in a heap, but managed to regain his feet at the count of nine, but Johnson pitched in with two lefts to the body and a right to the chin and McAuliffe went down again and was counted out, by the referee, Joe Jeanette. There was a lot of confusion over the action of the referee. Many fans thought McAuliffe was up before the count of ten, and some thaught that McAuliffe had been disqualified when his seconds showered him with water as he lay on the floor. However, McAuliffe was all in. Jeanette explained to those at the ring he had counted the full count over Jack and that it was a knockout.

In the second preliminary of the card, Cliff Kramer of San Francisco outboxed and outslugged Tiny Herman of Omaha after eight sensational rounds of fighting. Kramer finished strong and in the sixth round had Herman on the verge of a knockout. In the opening bout of the evening Al Bright, English heavyweight, a member of Firpo's training camp, and Tom Roper of Chicago, dragged through eight uninteresting rounds to a draw.

While the crowds were wending their way to Boyle's Thirty Acres tonight to see Jess Willard and Luis Firpo tear through their twelve-round joust, the betting on the event took a big shift in favor of the Argentine scrapper. Just a rush of money was sent through at the last moment at all sorts of fancy prices that Luis would take the aged Willard.

Of course, there was the usual amount of suspicion attached to

FIGHT BY ROUNDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ROUND ONE

Firpo came from his corner with a characteristic rush. Willard blocked his right and jabbed with a left. Firpo landed a light blow to the body. He drove his right again to Willard's ribs. Firpo forced Jess to the ropes and cuffed the big fellow about the head at close quarters. Blood trickled from a cut on Willard's left ear. Jess drove home a right to the side of the head and the bell sounded.

ROUND TWO

Jess carried the fight to Firpo, but missed a right uppercut. Firpo landed one in the ribs, but was short with a right. The big Kansan blocked Firpo's attempts to attack his body. Willard's left side showed splotches of red from his opponent's punches. Firpo shot a hard right to the jaw, but Willard stepped out of the way of another wallop aimed at the same spot as the gong sounded.

ROUND THREE

Willard jabbed Firpo about the head at close quarters. The Argentine forced Willard back into a corner with a body attack. Willard's long left stopped Firpo short as he tried to bore in. Willard seemed content to employ defensive tactic, blocking Firpo's powerful rights. They were sparring as the round ended.

ROUND FOUR

Willard jarred Firpo with a left to the head. Firpo swung both fists as they went into a clinch, but inflicted no damage. Willard caught Firpo with an uppercut coming in. Firpo bounded from the ropes, landing a right to the stomach. He pummelled Willard about the arena at close quarters and Jess only smiled. Willard was wild with a right and absorbed further punishment about the head. Firpo rushed in with both fists landing heavily. Jess rallied and drove Firpo to a corner as the bell rang.

ROUND FIVE

Willard sent Firpo's head back with a straight left. He took a hard right to the jaw as they clinched. Firpo was short with his right. They clinched repeatedly as Firpo was blocked in his attempts to reach Willard's body. The crowd, whose sympathies obviously were with the big American chorused "Hurrah Jess!" as the bell rang.

ROUND SIX

Firpo shot in his right to the neck. Willard covered up as he was short with his left. They jabbed lightly at long range as Firpo circled his opponent in search of an opening. Firpo drove rights and lefts to the jaw, but failed to shake Big Jess. Willard's left stopped Firpo short. The Argentine's aim was bad with his left, but he shot in a right to the body as the gong ended the round.

ROUND SEVEN

Willard shot in a hard right that sent Firpo to the ropes. He employed the rabbit punch to the back of Firpo's head in a clinch. Willard's left shot home twice to the jaw. Firpo showed a slight cut under his right eye. Willard took several blows to the head as the round ended.

ROUND EIGHT

Willard came out of his corner to take the aggressive. He landed two left jabs to Firpo's jaw, the latter clinched twice, apparently tiring under the relentless pace he had set. But as he drew away from Willard, he suddenly launched a whirlwind drive to both head and body. Sensing his advantage as Willard's guard dropped from a jolting right, Firpo rained a volley of rights and lefts to the giant former champion's head. Willard tried to ward off Firpo's drive, but his defensive tactics were ineffective. A powefrul right straight to the chin sent big Jess reeling back to the ropes. Dazed and groggy, he dropped slowly to one knee. He shook his head, much as a big mastiff might, as the referee tolled the count. He tried to rise at eight, but could not lift his big bulk to his feet. He was lifted to his corner in a daze.

JOE MITCHELL, JR., PITCHING NIFTILY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, July 12.—Joe Mitchell, Jr., of this city, who is attending summer school at the University of California, and who has been playing with the Colusa team, is attracting attention of the sporting world by his achievement. When Mitchell joined the Colusa aggregation several weeks ago that team held third place in the Sacramento Valley League. At the close of the first half Colusa was awarded the pennant, declared to be largely due to Mitchell's brilliant pitching. He was the only pitcher with the team and will fill the last half in the same position. Mitchell was a member of the varsity team which toured the Orient.

REACH SEMI-FINAL ROUND

Alonso, Bob Kinsey, Johnson and Tilden Remain in National Clay Court Title Net Tourney

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II,
World Tennis Champion 1920-21
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—Manuel Alonso of Spain, Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia, Robert Kinsey of California and I reached the semifinal round of the National City clay court tennis championship at the Woodstock Country Club today. The terrific heat of the past few days continued, making it a gruelling struggle for the players.

Manuel Alonso advanced by virtue of a crushing defeat of Howard Kinsey of California: 6-2, 4-0, 6-3. Alonso was in rare form in the early stages, pounding Kinsey's uncertain backhand and rushing the net to cut off the high returns for winning volleys. Alonso was marvelously steady off the ground and outclassed the young Californian.

KINSEY SHIFTS GAME

Not daunted by winning but two games in the first two sets, Kinsey suddenly shifted his game at the start of the third and began a series of soft, short chop shots that pulled Alonso close into cover, when Kinsey would lob deep to the backhand, running Alonso to the baseline. Kinsey reached 3-1 in the third set by this method, but Alonso's magnificent court-covering enabled him to make several marvelous recoveries that finally gave him the next two games for 3 all. It was the beginning of the end, for Alonso put on all speed and was not headed for the match.

It was only supertennis by Alonso that carried him to victory in the third set for Kinsey was playing a fine game. In the first two sets, Kinsey was far from his best, but in the last set he improved greatly. There is no doubt but what Alonso is a very serious contender for the national title.

BATTLE OF STEADINESS

The Wallace F. Johnson-Walter Wesbrook match was a battle of steadiness with Johnson's brain pitted against Wesbrook's legs. The Philadelphia star was slightly superior in the first set which he nosed out by the score of 6-4. Johnson's policy was to run Wesbrook from corner to corner until finally the Detroit star would advance to net. Johnson would then lob high and deep and Wesbrook would retreat to the baseline and the point would continue. The rallies were interminable, but Johnson usually found the unguarded spot. In the second set, Wesbrook jumped into the lead at 2-0, but

JESS RECEIVES $120,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RINGSIDE, JERSEY CITY (N. J.) July 12.—Jess Willard will receive about $120,000 and Luis Firpo approximately $80,000 as their shares of the gate receipts for their battle tonight. These figures were based on estimated total receipts of $400,000. Willard received 30 per cent and Firpo 22 per cent of the gross amount.

Official check, however, Tex Rickard said, will not be completed until tomorrow. His estimate of an attendance of more than 100,000, he said, was inclusive of all within the bowl, police, ushers and others who did not figure in the box office total.

DEMPSEY READY FOR FIRPO

"I'm somewhat surprised," spouted Jack Dempsey when told that Firpo had knocked out Jess Willard in the eighth round. "I thought if Firpo was to win he would turn the trick in five or six rounds at the most. I have always felt that the longer the fight lasted the better would be Willard's chances. Jess probably couldn't get into as good condition as he thought he could, especially the condition he was in when he met me at Toledo.

"I get this idea from the way Jess took the count on one knee. He was probably all in physically and just couldn't pull himself to an upright position. Of course, from my standpoint it is better that Firpo won. I have beaten Jess and I think people would be more interested in a bout between me and Firpo.

"My manager, Kearns, was at the ringside and will probably match me with Wills or Firpo for Labor Day. One thing I can assure my friends this time, and that is, no matter who I meet on Labor Day, I will be in the best shape of my life."

FIRPO HAS KIND WORD FOR JESS

Says Willard Gave Him Tough Battle; Is Anxious to Fight Dempsey

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RINGSIDE (Jersey City, N. J.) July 12. — Luis Angel Firpo, conqueror of Jess Willard, took his triumph with the same solemnity that he displayed in the eight and a fraction rounds he required to put the giant Kansan down.

"Willard is a fine man. I am proud to have defeated him," he said.

Told that Willard had declared he would make "a great match" for Champion Dempsey, he said:

"I have never seen Dempsey in the ring, but I am anxious to get in the ring with him. I believe I can beat him."

Firpo said Willard had given him a tough battle. The blows the former champion landed, he said, hurt, backed, as they were with the big Kansan's 242 pounds of bulk.

Willard characterized Firpo as a good, tough hitter.

"He certainly gave me a good, hard fight," Willard said. "I don't want to alibi as I was fairly beaten, but my left arm was so sprained in the training that I could scarcely use it at all. I had many openings for Firpo's face, but I couldn't hit hard enough to down him."

Willard said the blow that put him down for the final count was a hard right cross to the jaw, which had him groggy for several minutes after he had been counted out. Indeed, he appeared a trifle groggy thirty minutes after the fight as his trainers were patching him up in his dressing-room.

Willard said he had not yet made his plans for the future, but that he probably would return to his home in Los Angeles in a few days.

JAPANESE NET STAR MUST GIVE UP GAME

Zeonzo Shimizu, the Japanese lawn tennis celebrity, has been ordered by his physician to give up the game for the present, according to word received here from New York yesterday. Shimizu has been suffering for the past month with whooping cough, and was compelled to withdraw from the entry list of the Nassau Country Club tourney. The Japanese star captains the Davis Cup team of his nation, and was anxious to compete in various tournaments this summer. His physician's ultimatum, however, has put a severe crimp in his plans.

GOLFERS PLAY FOR OPEN TITLE AT INWOOD TODAY

Final Qualifying Round Completed Yesterday; Premier Mashies Wielders After Honors

BY WALTER HAGEN
Former British and American Open Champion
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, July 12.—Every player in the field today at Inwood breathed a sigh of relief when the scores had been turned in the fourth round. We are all set now for the big championship, which begins tomorrow.

I doubt very much whether a championship will ever be played with the same conditions prevailing. The four qualifying rounds have been most uninteresting indeed and the lack of attendance at Inwood has proved this. When the field is divided up into four parts not enough stars can get together to make the day interesting. Next year I am inclined to believe that sectional qualifying rounds will be in vogue. This will have to be done or a club will have to be selected which possesses two golf courses. It is hard to see a way to limit the field as it is an open championship and everyone has a right to play.

MANY AMATEURS

Many amateurs enter this tournament who do not have a handicap low enough to make them eligible for the amateur championship. If there was some method by which the weaker players could be weeded out it would add greatly to the interest of the big event. This I think could be done easily with sectional qualifying rounds.

No score was turned in today which equalled the mark set by Joe Kirkwood on Tuesday, so Joe is entitled to all the honors, medals, etc., that go with winning in the preliminary round. Joe's total was 144; the best score turned in today was 150. This mark was shared by Long Jim Barnes and Johnny Farrell. They had the same scores in both rounds, 74 in the morning and 76 in the afternoon. Another interesting pair today was Bobby Jones, the Atlanta youngster, and Bobby Cruikshank of Schackamaxon. They played together and drew the large gallery. The crowd on hand was not as large as yesterday.

CLOSE CALLS

The day lacked interest. Few of the stars had what might be termed a close call.

The openings to the greens are very well guarded; only the most expert iron play will permit one to touch par figures. From the back tees the course is very difficult and many will find this out to their sorrow tomorrow and Saturday.

The first of the week I predicted that 294 would win this championship, but I am inclined to stretch these figures by two or three points now after observing the way the field has played. If one could do as well in four rounds as Kirkwood did in his double round the total would be 288, but I think that this will be impossible. It is hard to move around this course without some hard luck. Sarazen played more to the average than Kirkwood. The latter had no wind to battle against.

I never knew a golf course to be in better condition than the course at Inwood for championship play. The test is the hardest we've had in years. Nearly all the stars agree with me on this point. The field, however, is an exceptionally good one, and I believe some one of us will be at the very top of our game. The fight should be interesting from the very first round.

The following named players qualified in the final day's play:

Jesse Sweetser, Fulham, 74; 76; 150.
Robert Cruikshank, Schackamaxon, 74; 83-157.
Johnny Farrell, Quaker Ridge, 74; 76; 150.
Peter Harmon, Onondaga, 83; 79; 162.
Barney McCarthy, Green Valley, 77; 80; 157.
Cyril Walker, Englewood, 76; 83; 159.
S. Sanderson, unattached, 82; 80; 162.
George Bowden, Cincinnati, 78; 83; 161.
R. Walsh, Scottish American, 83; 82; 164.
L. Chisholm, unattached, 82; 82; 164.
Robert T. Jones, Atlanta, 77; 79; 156.
James Hendry, Manchester, 77; 81; 158.
William Klein, Garden City, 77; 83; 160.
Eddie Held, St. Louis, 78; 83; 161.

Harold Calloway, Reno, N. Y., 79; 82; 161.
E. E. Lamar, Columbus, Ohio, 81; 80; 161.
William Keefe, Upper Mont Clair, 79; 79; 158.
Thomas Harmon, Jr., Hudson River, 79; 79; 158.
C. H. Hoffner, Fullmont, Pa., 80; 83; 163.

BENGALS SMEAR VISITING CREW

Seven Pitchers Come in for Share of Hard Knocks

Vernon Bruisers Slug Seven Runs Across in Sixth

Northerners Tie the Count, but Finally Lose Out

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Vernon was a multitudinous pastime from Seattle by a telephone number yesterday, evening up the belated series, 14 to 10. Customers were not sure whether they were watching at ball game or witnessing the horrible spectacle of a freight train loaded with Harlem spaghetti crashing into a scow with a cargo of Hongkong noodles.

Speaking in the large, it was a pitchers' battle, Seattle using four and Vernon three, proving that weight of numbers doesn't always win. Red Killefer was a four-in-hand manager. He pitched Gregg, Schnell, Williams and Blake. Essick pitched Foster, James and Gilder. Everything was pitched except horse shoes and loose furniture. Pawing around in the debris, one finds that Gilder won and Blake lost. All the others were merely lost in the shuffle, torn loose from the pastime and swallowed up in oblivion.

GET OFF WELL

Siwashes got away to a Paddock start with two in the initial canto. Billy Lane walked, stole second and took third on Rowher's fly to Chadbourne. After this dazzling exhibition he scored on single by Jimmy Welsh. Brick Eldred then pasted a triple, and Welsh was wound up in such a way that he registered from first. Orr and Crane were more reasonable.

Vernon also put away one in first, Murphy delivering on his own single, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

Vernon seemed to start deteriorating in the second, but pulled out despite errors by Murphy and Foster. In the third, the Bengals bumped a reef and the Siwashes salvaged two runs out of the flotsam and jetsam. Welsh topped the inning with a single, and Eldred walked. Orr bunted. Locker charged in on the same, and then whipped far and wide to third, trying for a force-out. It was a long error of great power, permitting two front-runners to register, while Orr took second. Foster paddled out without further damage from his support.

TIGERS RALLY

Tiger tally developed in the fifth. Foster, a hustling sort of hurler, beat out an infield hit. He took third on Chadbourne's single after Murphy had retired, later scoring on Bodie's fly to Lane. The decision at the plate was snug, but George got the umpire's vote.

Gregg duplicated Foster's achievement in the sixth, when he went out and got a run for himself. Vean singled and rounded the circuit on hits by Lane and Rowher.

One minute later Gregg cracked under the after-effects of this effort. Smith and Bodie spanked him for singles right off the reel, and Hannah emblazoned a two-bagger against the scoreboard. This sent Smith home, and Gregg to the hotel. A stranger by the name of Schnell went in to see what could be done, but found the water too deep.

FOSTER SAFE

Foster was safe on Baldwin's low throw to Welsh. Murphy and Chadbourne cracked back hops over Welsh and Crane. Both were hard-hit balls and went for singles. High went in and slashed a single for Schneider, and Bodie belted one on his own account. Williams replaced Schnell, which proved to be a change for the better. Hyatt then chalked the first out with a roller to Orr. Smith walked, after which Rader and Hannah popped. This was a bargain inning. A dozen up and seven in.

A four-run lead is only an item in these days, and Seattle tied the score in the seventh. One was down when Eldred walked. Orr and Crane singled. Billy counting. This was a fadeout for Foster. Bill James went in and remained long enough to walk Baldwin, filling bases. Roy Gilder made a gilt-edge debut by whiffing Tobin, but Yam Yaryan dulled the edge and knocked the gilt off. Yam, batting for Williams, walloped a double to the center-field fence, emptying the bases on the plate and tieing the count. Lane Smith subdued the riot by throwing out Lane.

Rallies were now so common as to be regarded as of the garden variety. Blake took hold in this round. One error spanned the difference between a clean slate for Blake and three runs in this round. Two were out when Crane threw wild on Chadbourne's grounder. Passes to High and Bodie filled the bases, and Hyatt singled two in. Smith singled a third runner across. Welsh, Eldred and Crane knocked a run out of Gilder in the eighth. The bengals fed up their lead with two in the eighth. Thus runs continued to drip into the evening and wear away the daylight. The score:

CHIEF YELLOWHORSE HOLDS SERAPH CREW

SACRAMENTO, July 13.—Big Chief Yellowhorse had too much on the ball for the Angels today at Moreing Field, and the Solons went into the lead on the series again; score 7 to 2. He was nicked for a quartet of safe wallops netting three runs in the sixth and Koehler homed with two on ahead of him in the seventh. Score:

ALL-STATES PICNIC SET FOR TOMORROW

The annual All-States reunion and basket picnic to which every resident of Southern California who is not a native is invited, is scheduled for tomorrow at Sylvan Park, Redlands. A program replete with special features has been arranged and a number of prizes will be awarded in various contests. A large committee, whose members represent practically every State in the Union, will be in charge of the affair. Children are invited to the picnic and the new plunge at the park will be opened to them. Refreshments will be served to those who fail to bring lunch baskets.

Ownie Carroll of Newark, crack pitcher of the Holy Cross team, is 19 years of age. He won thirteen out of fifteen games for Coach Jack Barry's team this year. Seven games were shutouts, in five he held opponents to a run, in two others two runs, and in another four. He beat Harvard twice by 1 to 0.

MURPHY TO TEST CARS TODAY

One of the two new two-seated 122-cubic-inch racing cars which Harry Miller is building for Jimmy Murphy, America's speedway champion, and Martin De Alzaga, South American champion, and which will be raced in Europe this summer, will be tried out by Murphy either today or tomorrow. Murphy had hoped to take a spin at Beverly yesterday, but neither of the cars was ready. De Alzaga's car is nearest completion and that will probably be the one which Murphy tries out before departure next Wednesday for New York, where he sails on the Aquitania for London.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Inability to hit Bob Shawkey in the early innings, coupled with a heavy bombardment by the Yankees, which drove Ted Blankenship off the mound, enabled New York to make it three straight from Chicago today, 10 to 6. Shawkey started the rally which put the league leaders out in front when he opened the third inning with a triple and finished the job by cracking out a double on his second time up in the inning, clearing the bases, which were filled. Ruth cracked out his twentieth homer of the season, with a man on. Score:

Entry Lists for Santa Barbara Yachting Events to Close Today

REGATTA DRAWS ALL YACHTSMEN

Santa Barbara to be Center of Nautical World

Annual Celebration Opens Next Sunday

Local Sportsmen Will Race Channel City

Seafaring sportsmen claiming Los Angeles as their home port will be noticeable by their absence for the next few days, during which time the Southern California Yachting Association's annual regatta will occupy their time and interest at Santa Barbara. Tomorrow the local fleet, comprising the craft of the California and Newport Harbor yacht clubs, will set sail for the channel city, some of the skippers making the voyage in leisurely fashion while others will compete for the Overton trophy in a race to the scene of the nautical celebration.

Staff Commodore Otto G. Wildey will start the race up the coast at noon tomorrow. At 12:15 he will send the handicap sloops on their way; five minutes later the yawls will receive the starting signal, and the schooners will take the breeze at 12:25 p.m. The competing craft will start off Minor Fill in Los Angeles Harbor.

Already a few early birds are dropping in on Santa Barbara to be in on the big doings, but the official opening of the monster regatta will not take place until Sunday. A week jammed full of races, society events, and good fellowship will follow, and the climax of the yearly affair will come with the start of the Santa Barbara to Honolulu race Saturday, July 21.

Sloops, yawls and schooners, sea mews, ketches and R boats, speedboats, cruisers and star boats—in fact, every kind and type of sporting craft will be found at Santa Barbara next week, and interesting competition will be furnished in races for all. About 300 trophies have been donated, and something like thirty racing events will be pulled off before the cups are distributed.

All yacht clubs on the coast, from San Diego to Vancouver, will be represented in the seven-day regatta, which bids fair to be the finest affair of its kind ever to be pulled off in Pacific waters.

It has been announced at local headquarters that the entry list will close today.

IMPERIAL MEN BEHIND NEW GOLF CLUB PLANS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, July 12.—El Centro business and professional men are organizing a golf club and it is proposed to arrange a first-class nine-hole course on a forty-acre tract of land near Heber. Promoters of the club predict that golfing will become popular in Imperial Valley in the winter season, because of the sun shining every day.

Opportunity

used to be said to come but once in a lifetime, but the "Business Chance" Column of THE TIMES reveals new opportunities every day.

GRAPPLERS HOLD STAGE WEDNESDAY

Lou Daro, pioneer Southern California wrestling promoter, has lined up a high-class trio of bouts for next Wednesday evening at the Walker Theater. Jim Londos, the Greek champion will meet Poggi Nozzerino, the Italian champ, in the main go. Nozzerino only recently defeated Renato Gardini. Andreas Castanos will grapple with Jack Washburn in the second bout on the card, while two first-raters, as yet unannounced will appear in the initial go. Daro claims that he is out to either make wrestling go in Los Angeles or die in the attempt.

GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA BUCKS BOUT

Executive Not Willing to Permit Dempsey-Gibbons Return Match

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, July 12.—"We've not gone back to barbarism yet in Arizona." was the answer made by Gov. G. W. P. Hunt when asked today whether he would consent to the use of the State Fair Grounds, near Phoenix, for a return engagement between Dempsey and Gibbons, as outlined in yesterday's Los Angeles Times. So there must be assumption that the State authorities would not help the match, if the expected effort be made to transfer it over from Southern California. The Arizona law not only limits bouts to ten rounds, but demands a permit from the County Sheriff or from the Chief of Police of cities. Here permission must come from a boxing commission, including Chief George Brisbois, George P. Ballard, Will Carpentin, Fred Webber and E. D. Harrington. The last-named sporting man for the Republican, states that the Los Angeles Times' information is the first he has received on the subject, but that it sounds good and that the matter might be arranged satisfactorily, with due consideration of the features that caused financial worry at Shelby. The fair-grounds grand stand has seating capacity for about 15,000 and several ball parks are available.

SALT LAKE BEES WIN FROM SAN FRANCISCO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE, July 12.—The Bees won their first game of the series from the Seals today, 8 to 7. The Seals with five runs in the seventh inning tied the score and the locals won in the eighth. The visitors had the tying run on third when Lewis made a shoe-top catch of Agnew's liner in the ninth. Sheehan hit four doubles and got a walk. Courtney, who hit three homers Wednesday, knocked another today, with one on. The playing of Vitt and Pearce was remarkable. Score:

SPORT SHRAPNEL

By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

San Francisco occupies something of a paradoxical position in baseball.

That is, it has too good a ball team. Listens strange, but is true. Connie Mack once found himself in the same fix, only worse. Connie's old Athletics outclassed everything so far that the fans took it for granted they would win. They found that taking it for granted cost less than going out to the park and confirming their opinion.

San Francisco will make more money than the other seven clubs, most of whom will make none, but not as much as though the Seals were a trifle weaker. The profitable ball team is a pennant-winner, but one which is just good enough to win by a narrow margin—keep it a contest down to the last week or so.

Fans around the circuit needed to see the Seals only once to realize that they completely outclass the rest of the field. They were conceded the pennant after the first month.

Hardly a patron of the game who does not regard them as fifteen or twenty games stronger than their nearest competitor. But there is this about San Francisco. The Seals will draw at home when they are winning, even if it isn't a contest. But, of course, with them increasing their lead as they figure to, interest will languish on the road, and this will probably knock at least $50,000 off the Seal receipts. And that's going to hurt.

Where a lot of clubs will not make any money because they lack the class, here is one with so much class that it may cut down its own prosperity.

Many a clubowner is crying aloud in the wilderness for reinforcements which are not to be had, but here is a team with a positive entertainment of good athletes.

There is much talk of a slump on the part of the leaders which will tighten the race. This would appear to be a case of arousing false hopes. Perhaps this talk is being encouraged to stimulate interest. Really good ball teams seldom slump, particularly after midseason, and especially those with a great pitching staff.

This is the outstanding feature of the San Francisco club. It has the best stable of hurlers ever seen in the league. It has defensive strength, offensive power, smart, experienced baseball and balance. In short, it probably is the strongest team ever seen in the league in a year when a majority of the clubs are weaker.

San Francisco figures to come home on the bit at least fifteen games in front, and you will find no baseball man speaking honestly who holds an opinion to the contrary.

True, it might have been closer had things gone well with the other clubs, but the Seals had the talent rounded up, and would have won even had the other clubs experienced none of the misadventures of the diamond.

Much has happened to Vernon, particularly the loss of French and Doyle. There were the usual injuries.

Most of the Los Angeles plans went wrong. Crandall was out the first six weeks. Hughes, Lyons, Ponder and Jones were all on the shelf for a protracted period, mainly with arm ailments. Elmer Ponder, dopped to be the club's headliner, has been of so value. Only in the last month, or since changing his style, has Jones shown effectiveness.

Krug was out with a broken finger, and Deal was in a distressing batting slump the first two months. Had everything gone well, what a difference it would have made. But such things are a part of the game, although an unkind fate seems to harpoon some teams more ruthlessly than others.

Krug is very strong for Howard Lindtmore. This may surprise many who do not regard this hustling player as quite up to Class-AA standard.

"He is always giving his best, and for that reason I like to have him in the line-up," declared Marty.

When Krug's finger was broken he set an example to his men, which will not soon be forgotten. The finger was broken in two places, and also thrown out of joint. It swelled to three times its normal size. Yet in two weeks he was back in the game. Jimmy McAuley had a very bad finger himself. He had intended to remain out of the game two or three days and give the digit a chance to heal.

Then he caught one sight of the thing on Krug's hand which once resembled a finger.

"By ——, if you can play with a hand like that, here's one of your men who is going to stick in the game regardless," declared McAuley. And Jimmy stuck.

MUIR HIKERS TO GO TO CATALINA

The Muir Hikers, headed by Mrs. E. B. Gillett from the B. H. Dyas Log Cabin, will leave tomorrow morning on the fourth annual invasion of Catalina Island. A full entry list was obained for the trip several days ago.

Entries for the annual trip to Yellowstone Park, to be started on July 20 and of two weeks' duration, also have been coming in fast. Only a few remain open. The Yellowstone trip will be the most extensive the Dyas hikers have yet taken.

MISS WILLS WILL PREPARE FOR TILTS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Miss Helen Wills, 17-year-old tennis star of Berkeley, Cal., arrived here yesterday to prepare for a campaign of more than two months on eastern courts.

The young western girl is to be picked, it is reported, for the American team which will oppose four British women stars in an international match at Forest Hills August 10 and 11, as an introductory feature to the national women's championships on August 13.

NEW ARENA FOR VERNON

BY ED O'MALLEY

The manly art of self-defense has a prestige at present in Los Angeles that is hardly second to that of any other city in the Union. True, we are not allowed to swing but four-round bouts, but these short-session affairs have become a fad and in many cases are more replete with torrid action than are the longer tilts in the East. So popular has the game become in the last year or so that the home of the four-round sport in Southern California—Vernon arena, if you please, is absolutely too small to accommodate the fans when an enticing program is offered.

Feeling the necessity for a larger pavilion, Jack Doyle, several days ago, broke ground for his new arena which he expects to have finished inside of ninety days. The site is about 100 feet north of the old structure and the building will boast a spectatorium that will seat close to 9000 people. Doyle will spring a number of innovations in the comfort and convenience line for his army of fistic followers.

MARSHALL THERE

Hollywood's bid for boxing favor flowered when the American Legion launched its famous stadium with the enterprising Roy Marshall at the helm. The post attempted to swing a reckless entertainment for a while, but was soon brought face to face with the impolicy of such a move and wisely put on a canopy. Ever since that time the sport at the stadium has been an unqualified success. The big amphitheater is dark this week, during which time a new concrete floor with a sharp dip will be put in. The spectatorium seats about 4000 fans.

It has been broadly hinted a number of times that Los Angeles is soon to have another Richmond in the field, and his name is the Ambassador Hotel. Should the big hostelry throw its castor into the ring, it will endeavor to give its pastimes a sort of society flavor. Society often gives its stamp of approval to the Gotham game, and why not Los Angeles?

DADDY OF GAME

Jack Doyle is the daddy of the four-round game in this neck of the woods and it all came about in this way. Jack started a training camp entertainment in a small way on the site of his present pavilion. In the early days of Tom McCarey's fistic promotive reign, many of the best scrappers that graced his arena, trained at Doyle's. The oil king used to draw pretty good crowds on Sunday, but by some measly prank of fate many of the birds that trained at his camp proved losers at McCarey's arena, some three blocks up Santa Fe avenue.

If we remember right, Jack swung about ten straight losers until the word "jinx" gained currency around his place. Then the scrappers began to rub their chins when asked to get in condition at the Vernon camp. Doyle grew desperate. In his exigency, he hit upon the idea of burning the jinx. In this he was aided and abetted by the sporting writers of Los Angeles.

One night at that witching hour "when churchyards yawn and hell itself breathe out contagion to this world," the old hoodoo was ceremoniously cremated in solemn and awful silence. Then followed a feast at which all the prominent sporting men of Los Angeles were present and, until the wee hours of morn, incantation after incantation was chortled by all present.

A MIRACLE!

Miraculous to be told—that bacchanalian seance put the blink on the malignant jinx and ever since that night Jack Doyle's prosperity has gradually augmented. Incidentally, Jack sent thirteen straight winners into McCarey's domain, headed by the valiant Joe Rivers. We have always cooked McCarey's fistic promoting reign.

FIRPO IS VICTOR OVER WILLARD

ability to attack his big target at more angles gave him an early advantage. But the South American often displayed bad judgment of distance and this, coupled with Willard's ability to block his opponent's rushes resulted in little effective battling.

Willard, except for an occasional jab with his left, stayed on the defensive waiting for a chance to shoot in an uppercut but Firpo, a shifty object, gave him few opportunities.

JESS SHINES IN SECOND

In the first Firpo cut Willard's ear and in the fourth he pummeled the big Kansan about the ring with a drive to the head. Jess absorbed heavy punishment, but came back in the next round with his only real offensive.

Firpo backed to the ropes under a barrage of blows to the head but Willard failed to follow up his advantage, brief as it was. He seemed lethargic and hesitant to carry the fight to his opponent.

After that one flicker of flattic fire, Willard subsided. Firpo paved the way for the end with a slashing attack in the seventh, weakening the big Kansan with rights to the body. Willard showed a few flashes of form in the seventh, but they were ineffective and the end came in the eighth after one minute and fifty-five seconds of fighting.

Thus ended a fight that has no parallel in ring history for a bout in which no championship was at stake. But the fact that two of the foremost picturesque figures the game has ever known—one a veteran trying to scale the heights again and the other a rugged, brilliant youngster—were to fight for a chance at the throne now occupied by Dempsey, proved the greatest magnet of any match in history.

The main bout of the evening was followed by a flash of the dramatic which on another occasion would have attracted greater attention.

JOHNSON QUICK WINNER

Jack McAuliffe of Detroit, matched to meet Floyd Johnson, the flashing heavyweight from Des Moines, was knocked out in the first round of their bout after a minute and four seconds of fighting.

Johnson flew from his corner at the opening. There were a few slashing blows, nearly all of them delivered by Johnson. McAuliffe retreated, but Johnson caught his quarry and in an instant McAuliffe was flat on his back. He arose only to be knocked half through the ropes in a sitting posture by a right to the jaw.

Crawling back into the ring, he crouched by the ropes and was unable to rise until Joe Jeannette, the negro referee, had counted him out.

While he was crouching, his handlers showered him with water and when the bout ended, hardly before it began, numbers at the ringside thought he had been disqualified.

BURGLARS ESCAPE OFFICERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, July 13.—Two burglars escaped amid shots from officers' revolvers last night after they had removed two skylights from the roof of the Passley Motor Company Garage at Fifth and Birch streets and were preparing to descend into the building. Nightwatchman Fred Parker discovered the two men and called for assistance. Two burglars dropped over the side of the building and escaped in the darkness.

PETER THE BREWER, VICTOR

Son of Peter the Great Leads Field in 2:03 Trot at Grand Circuit Meeting

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOLEDO (O.) July 12.—Peter the Brewer, son of Peter the Great and driven by Nat Ray, won the 2:03 trot, feature of today's card of the Grand Circuit meeting at Fort Miami track, in straight heats, stepping the second mile in 2:04½. Czar Worthy was second in the first heat, but Great Briton placed in the second. The third was trotted by Peter Brewer in 2:05½.

The track was fast after the start was delayed thirty minutes to give more times for drying out after the rains of the last two days.

The 2:08 trot with eleven starters went to Clyde the Great, bought Monday by the veteran Tommy Murphy from Clyde Lammle of Louisville for $25,000. Murphy's horse took the second and third heats after finishing second to Fayette National in the first mile.

Three heat winners forced the 3-year-old trot to the fourth mile and was won by Etta Axworthy over Joe Mc in the slowest time of the day, 2:21¼. Ethelinda, after winning the second mile, was distanced in the third.

FIRPO KNOCKS WILLARD OUT

the bout. There always are a wild flock of rumors connected with every big fight around these quarters, but it was rather surprising to see the way the boys with a fondness for a game of chance were ignoring the Kansas farmer near the time for the start of the rumpus.

Jimmy Deforest, veteran handler and the man who brought Firpo along as a boxer, was dead sure that Luis would grab the old champion. Firpo spent the day quietly with several friends and did not appear to be worrying about the big engagement he had with the Kansas giant.

CROWD COMES EARLY

The crowds made their way early in the evening in the direction of the famous quarrel site and early estimates indicated that the attendance would almost reach that which attended the famous Dempsey and Carpentier row two years ago. Willard had finished his camp work at Yonkers under the careful eye of Jack Skelley, the old-time featherweight. Skelley had a notion that Jess would hop off in front right off the reel and make short work of the South American.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, breezed into town early today to take a slant at the two giants as they tripped through their stuff. Kearns was quoted as having said that he would consider an offer for something like a million dollars to have his champion battle the winner of tonight's fuss. Nothing small about Kearns when it comes to asking for something. What's a little thing like a million dollars for a fight? Especially when you have to cut rates for places like Montana and other points north of Hoboken.

Tex Rickard was all smiles as the crowd came tripping and long before the first preliminary started the big pine saucer was pretty well filled. It was estimated that there were more than 60,000 on hand when the boys made the ring ready for the first battle.

RISE OF THE UNKNOWN

The rapid rise of Firpo had the crowd doing a lot of guessing. Here was a boy that came to this country a little more than a year ago and scarcely got a tumble from the wise eggs. They voted him a bug. The daily news found the big fellow sunk away in an old fire house at Nutley, N. J., and it was not long before Luis was in there knocking over a lot of guys, until suddenly it was the wise ones who had passed him up began to take notice. From an unknown fighter, Luis came along in that short space of time and right now he is on the threshold of a smack at the big champion, Jack Dempsey.

Willard arrived at the scene of battle early in the evening and informed his friends and boosters that he was in fine fettle for the fray and expected to be returned a winner. The one big thought in the veteran's mind, however, was another bang at the Dempsey man.

TOURNEY DOWN TO SEMI-FINALS

Johnson pulled even to 2 all. Wesbrook had a chance to reach 4-3, but Johnson made it 3 all by a beautiful placement and a service ace.

BITTERLY CONTESTED

The eighth game was bitterly contested, but Johnson had a slight superiority which finally gave him the lead at 3-5. Wesbrook fell twice in this set, trying to recover Johnson's placements. Second set, Johnson 6-3.

Bob Kinsey of California cut-classed Johnnie Hennessey of Indianapolis throughout the match, which he won, 6-0, 6-1; 6-3. Kinsey was deadly accurate and remarkably clever, passing Hennessey if the Indianapolis star came in and running him and out placing him from the baseline.

I defeated Phil Bettins, 6-4, 6-3; 6-0, playing the best tennis I have shown in the tournament.

FAVORITE'S ADVANCE

In the men's doubles, all the favorites except Alonso and Johnson, advanced easily, but these stars stopped at one set all with Waltz and Emerson. Johnson showed the effect of his match with Wesbrook, and was far off form. In the boys and juniors, the seeded players advanced, according to dope as expected.

Tomorrow the schedule is uncertain as the committee had not made up its collective mind about holding the semifinals in singles Friday or Saturday. R. Kinsey meets me while Johnson will be out for revenge against Alonso. Somehow I rather think that it will be Spain's champion against America's in the final.

Bruins Will Compete for Olympic Club

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 13.—A number of University of California athletes who helped win the eastern collegiate track and field games for the third successive year, will compete under the colors of the Olympic Club of San Francisco when the National A.A.U. outdoor junior and senior championships are held on Stagg Field, August 31, September 1 and 3, under the auspices of the Illinois A.C.

Although the Bears won only one first in the eastern games on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, late in May, their performances were good enough to score points in almost any competition.

Witter of California was second in the shotput with 45 ft. 2 in., and Norris tied for first place in the pole vault with an effort of 12 ft. 9 in.

Neuviele took the discus with a throw of 138 ft. 11¼ in. and was second in the javelin with 189 ft. 1¼ in. Serrenti of the Bears was third in the same event with 188 ft. 6¼ in. Mullen and Boren should score in the running high and broad jumps.

TEE, FAIRWAY AND GREEN

BY "CHICK" EVANS

THE AMATEUR CHAMPION

This year's national amateur championship, to be held over the course of the Flossmoor Country Club at Flossmoor, Ill., some thirty miles south of Chicago, about six weeks hence, will provide the hardest test of championship golf this country has ever known. In view of additional hazards now being built into the already difficult Flossmoor course, I am inclined to say that the championship will be the toughest one the game of golf has ever staged.

A good championship course might measure anywhere from 6100 to 6400 yards. If the course measured from that distance anywhere up to 6500 to 6700 yards, it would be a hard one. Imagine, then, what the title-chasers will encounter at Flossmoor when they trudge around the course which, from the championship tees, will measure 6934 yards. This constitutes the longest course in the Chicago district, and, so far as I know, the longest eighteen holes of golf in this country.

Flossmoor is a beautiful course, with about half the holes open and the other half skirted by woods. The course has the most deceptive water hole ever designed by a golf architect. This chip is a short one, something like 150 yards, but the hole is in such a setting of trees, hillsides and water that something of an illusion is created—and many a golfer will splash into despair, and, perhaps, defeat, at this amazing hole. The green for the hole is a tiny one, and the edge of the green toward the tee dips directly into the water. The green is trapped all the way round otherwise so that anything shy of a perfect pitch is sure to yield trouble for the player. I have seen many a ball from my mashie blade drop into the water in front of the green, and always to my great surprise because, until I saw the ball fall into the water, my only concern in each instance was whether the shot would come down soon enough to avoid carrying clear over the green.

This Flossmoor test of golf proves that we have stiffer championship competition in this country than British golf calls for. The British open championship in June was played over the old course at Troon, Scotland. The old course measures 3185 yards out and 3230 yards in—total, 6415 yards, as against 6934 yards at Flossmoor. There is a difference in yardage equal to one good long hole with a par of five, and really equal to an added par four-hole and one par three-hole. In another way, our amateur championship this year will be equal to twenty holes, instead of eighteen, on the famous Scotland course.

The holes at Flossmoor are being changed around considerably, too, to make the course still more difficult. New traps are being added and the greens are being made more difficult of approach where they were not 100 per cent difficult before. The player who leaves Flossmoor with the championship cup will for a fact be a champion.

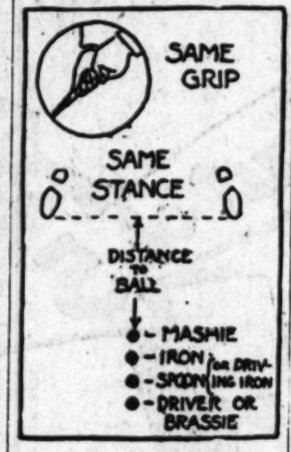
LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports



Is the same stance and grip used in addressing the ball with a wooden club as with an iron?

Answered by

JIM BARNES

American open champion, 1921; recognized everywhere as one of the greatest golfers in the world. In British open championships, 1923, he finished second, one stroke behind Walter Hagen, the winner.

* * *

I advise the same grip for both woodens and irons—it becomes a matter of habit and makes for better golf. When using irons, the player should stand a bit nearer the ball than when woodens are employed and the feet should be slightly closer together. Of course, the distance a player stands away from the ball is regulated by the length of club he is using.

TENNIS CARDS GETTING HARD

Expert Suggests Scheme to Bridge Difficulty

Players Must be Consulted Previous Day

Thinks Club Should Charge Gate Receipts

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN,
World's Champion Tennis Player, 1920-21

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Every year the tournament schedule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association becomes larger and more unwieldy. The leading players are swamped by requests to compete, with the result that their final decision rests on the management of the events. Every player enjoys a tournament that is well conducted, has a good entry list and a committee and gallery that show onterest. Certain fundamentals are essential to tournament success.

First, the players who are the logical finalists and semifinalists must be taken care of in the matter of hours of play so that they are not killed by too many hard matches at the end of the tournament. Many committees fall down by allowing the early rounds of an event to drag, because local second-class players prefer to play late in the day or not at all the first day. Charity may begin at home, but no charity should be shown to local entrants in a tournament if by so doing the ultimate finalists are delayed.

Every leading player in America is willing to play several easy matches the first two days of an event if by so doing he can relieve the strain the end of the week and even allow for a day of rain.

Second, the gallery must be cared for. Not only should adequate seating arrangement be provided, but the feature matches should be published each day in the paper, together with the hour. The time scheduled should be strictly adhered to if at all possible. The players must co-operate in this, but I have never found any star yet who would not, pleased to do so. A man would far rather play at a certain hour which he knows in advance than sit around the club all afternoon and then possibly, receive a default.

CONSULT PLAYERS

The best way to secure the result desired is to consult the two players involved on the afternoon previously, telling them the hour you desire them to play. In nine cases out of ten both men will agree. If one can only play at a certain hour, his opponent can usually manage to do so. It is only in cases of absolute conflict, where neither player will meet the other's wishes, that the committee should become arbitrary and set a definite time, irrespective of anyone's wishes. A regular clock-like schedule of matches on the feature courts insures a keen and appreciative gallery and a public well pleased.

I am heartily in favor of a club charging gate receipts. The players must be the guests of the club, that is the ones who are making the event a success and bringing the galleries. They are entitled to it. The club should not be a loser through its own hospitality and, provided the money is used to foster tennis in the club, I feel that it is entitled to a reasonable profit. Every tournament can be made to pay if efficient management is used and extensive publicity and advertising are given.

The Little Warrior

BY P. G. WODEHOUSE

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

Freddie Rooke, a young English aristocrat, takes the welfare of his friend, Sir Derek Underhill, M.P., very much to heart. Sir Derek has lately become engaged to Jill Mariner, but in the eager eye of Lady Underhill, Derek's mother, she falls to fulfil the requirements of the Underhill traditions. Under his mother's influence Derek criticises Jill's actions at a theater party one night, a situation which casts Freddie in the role of peacemaker next day. At the time he was in one of London's slum districts, Nelly Bryant, an American chorus girl, is starting out in search of work while Bill, her pet parrot, finding his cage door open, steals to the outer yard for a breath of air. A passerby, seeking to make friends with Bill, is severely bitten and the interest he shows in Bill's owner, Nelly Bryant, causes Freddie rush to the rescue. As either of the two is attracted to the scene and at his request the rescuer journey to Jill. Believed to be Jill goes to meet her genial uncle and guardian, Major Christopher Selby. Uncle Chris has been gambling in the stock market and had that day lost the last of Jill's fortune, for which he had been trustee. Jill receives that fatal news like a little warrior.

Jill sat down on the lounge and laughed till there were tears in her eyes. Uncle Chris might be responsible for this disaster, but he was certainly making it endurable. However, greatly he might be deserving of censure, from the standpoint of the sterner morality, he made amends. If he brought the whole world crashing in chaos about one's ears, at least he helped one to smile among the ruins.

"Did you ever read 'Candida,' Uncle Chris?"

"'Candida'?" Uncle Chris shook his head. He was not a great reader, except of the sporting press.

"It's a book by Voltaire. There's a character in it called Doctor Pangloss, who thought that everything was for the best in this best of all possible worlds."

Uncle Chris felt a touch of embarrassment. It occurred to him that he had been betrayed by his mercurial temperament into an attitude which, considering the circumstances, was perhaps a trifle too jubilant. He gave his mustache a pull, and reverted to the minor key.

"Oh, you mustn't think that I don't appreciate the terrible, the criminal thing I have done! I blame myself," said Uncle Chris cordially, flicking another speck of dust off his sleeve, "I blame myself bitterly. Your mother ought never to have made me your trustee, my dear. But she always believed in me, in spite of everything, and this is how I have repaid her." He blew his nose to cover a not unmanly emotion. "I wasn't fitted for the position. Never become a trustee, Jill. It's the devil, is trust money. However much you argue with yourself, you can't—dash it, you simply can't believe that it's not your own, to do as you like with. There it sits, smiling at you, crying 'Spend me! Spend me!' and you find yourself dipping—dipping—till, one day there's nothing left to dip for—only a few of rustlings—the ghosts of dead bank notes. That's how it was with me. The process was almost automatic. I hardly knew it was going on. Here a little—there a little. It was like snow melting on a mountain top. And one morning—all gone!" Uncle Chris drove the point home with a gesture. "I did what I could. When I found that there were only a few hundreds left, for your sake I took a chance. All heart and no head! There you have Christopher Selby in a nutshell! A man at the club—a fool named—I've forgotten his damn name — recommended Amalgamated Dyestuffs as a speculation. Monroe, that was his name, Jimmy Monroe. He talked about the future of British dyes now hat Germany was out of the race, and . . . well, the long and short of it was that I took his advice and bought on margin. Bought like the devil. And this morning Amalgamated Dyestuffs went all to blazes. There you have the whole story!"

"And now," said Jill, "comes the sequel!"

"The sequel?" said Uncle Chris breezily. "Happiness, my dear, happiness! Wedding bells and—and all that sort of thing!" He straddled the hearth-rug manfully, and swelled his chest out. He would permit no pessimism on this occasion of rejoicing. "You don't suppose that the fact of your having lost your money—that is to say—er—of my having lost your money — will affect a splendid young fellow like Derek Underhill? I know him better than to think that! I've always liked him. He's a man you can trust! Besides," he added reflectively, "there's no need to tell him! Till after the wedding, I mean. It won't be hard to keep up appearances here for a month or so."

"Of course I must tell him!"

"You think it wise?"

"I don't know about it being wise. It's the only thing to do. I must see him tonight. Oh, I forgot. He was going away this afternoon for a day or two."

"Capital! It will give you time to think it over."

"I don't want to think it over. There's nothing to think about."

"Of course, yes, of course. Quite so."

"I shall write him a letter."

"Write, eh?"

"It's easier to put what one wants to say in a letter."

"Letters," began Uncle Chris, and stopped as the door opened. Jane the parlor maid, entered, carryin a salver. "For me?" asked Uncle Chris.

"For Miss Jill, sir."

Jill took the note off the salver. "It's from Derek."

"There's a messenger boy waiting, miss," said Jane. "He wasn't told if there was an answer."

"If the note is from Derek," said Uncle Chris, "it's not likely to want an answer. You said he left town today."

Jill opened the envelope.

"Is there an answer, miss?" asked Jane, after what she considered a suitable interval. She spoke tenderly. She was a great admirer of Derek, and considered it a pretty action on his part to send notes like this when he was compelled to leave London.

"Any answer, Jill?"

Jill seemed to rouse herself. She had turned oddly pale.

"No, no answer, Jane."

"Thank you, miss," said Jane, and went off to tell the cook that in her opinion Jill was lacking in heart. "It might have been a bill instead of a love letter," said Jane to the cook with indignation, "the way she read it. I like people to have a little feeling!"

Jill sat turning the letter over and over in her fingers. Her face was very white. There seemed to be a big, heavy, leaden something inside her. A cold hand clutched her throat. Uncle Chris, who at first had noticed nothing untoward, now began to find the silence sinister.

"No bad news, I hope, dear?"

Jill turned the letter between her fingers.

"Jill, is it bad news?"

"Derek has broken off the engagement," said Jill in a dull voice. She let the note fall to the floor, and sat with her chin in her hands.

"What!" Uncle Chris leaped from the hearth rug, as though the fire had suddenly scorched him. "What did you say?"

"He's broken it off."

"The hound!" cried Uncle Chris. "The blackguard! The—the—I never liked that man! I never trusted him!" He fumed for a moment. "But—but—it isn't possible. How can he have heard about what's happened. He couldn't know. It's—it's—it isn't possible!"

"He doesn't know. It has nothing to do with that."

"But . . ." Uncle Chris stooped to where the note lay. "May I . . ."

"Yes, you can read it if you like."

Uncle Chris produced a pair of reading-glasses, and glared through them at the sheet of paper as though it were some loathsome insect.

"The hound! The cad! If I were a younger man," shouted Uncle Chris, smiting the letter violently, "if I were . . . Jill! My dear little Jill!"

He plunged down on his knees beside her, as she buried her face in her hands and began to sob.

"My little girl! Damn that man! My dear little girl! The cad! The devil! My own darling little girl! I'll thrash him within an inch of his life."

The clock on the mantlepiece ticked away the minutes. Jill got up. Her face was wet and quivering, but her mouth had set in a brave line.

"Jill, dear!"

She let his hand close over hers.

"Everything's happening all at once this afternoon, Uncle Chris, isn't it." She smiled a twisted smile. "You look so funny! Your hair's all rumpled, and your glasses are over on one side."

Uncle Chris breathed heavily through his nose.

"When I meet that man . . ." he began portentously.

"Oh, what's the good of bothering! It's not worth it! Nothing's worth it!" Jill stopped, and faced him, her hands clenched. "Let's get away! Let's get right away! I want to get right away. Uncle Chris! Take me away! Anywhere! Take me to America with you! I must get away!"

Uncle Chris raised his right hand, and shook it. His reading glasses, hanging from his left ear, bobbed drunkenly.

"We'll sail by the next boat! The very next boat, dammit! I'll take care of you, dear. I've been a blackguard to you, my little girl. I've robbed you, and swindled you. But I'll make up for it, by George! I'll make up for it! I'll give you a new home, as good as this, if I die for it. There's nothing I won't do! Nothing! By Jove!" shouted Uncle Chris, raising his voice in a red-hot frenzy of emotion, "I'll work! Yes, by Gad, if it comes right down to it, I'll work!"

He brought his fist down with a crash on the table where Derek's flowers stood in their bowl. The bowl leaped in the air and tumbled over, scattering the flowers on the floor.

BOY PIRATES DIG UP OLD INDIAN RELICS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, July 13.—Small boys, playing pirate, yesterday discovered a quantity of Indian headwork and other material, including fragments of pottery, on the H. G. Fox ranch, near Santa Susana. The treasure, which had been hidden away perhaps a century ago, has been sent to the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles. To the Pioneer Museum at Ventura has come an interesting old relic that has been in the Arrellanes family for many years. It is the compass of the old steamship Kalorama which was wrecked on this Coast in 1876 and for which Kalorama street is named. The Kalorama did a flourishing business in coastwise passenger and freight traffic in the 60's and 70's and some of those who afterward became leading citizens here and founded families that became wealthy, first saw Ventura from the deck of the Kalorama.

Pyorrhea

A REALLY effective weapon against Pyorrhea has at last been found. This weapon is the new antiseptic, Zonite. In connection with its use by the general public a dental authority has recently written us as follows:

"If you can educate the American people in oral prophylaxis through the daily use of Zonite you will justify all the dental profession in their efforts to control pyorrhea."

The above letter speaks for itself. Scented, pleasant tasting mouth washes have little or no germicidal power and fail to kill the germs that cause pyorrhea. By standard laboratory tests Zonite has greater germicidal power than pure Carbolic Acid, yet is non-poisonous, non-irritating and perfectly safe to use.

A teaspoonful of Zonite in a quarter of a glass of water disinfects the mouth and eliminates breath odors.

If you wish to protect yourself against Pyorrhea, throw away scented, pleasant tasting mouth washes, see your dentist regularly, and use Zonite at least once a day.

MEXICAN RADIO MAY AID FARMS

Obregon Considers Proposal for System

Six Stations Would Handle Pertinent Advices

Capital Plant Designated as Central Office

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, July 13.—What is described in the Mexico City press as a project of transcendent importance, and which probably will become an accomplished fact, inasmuch as it has already been considered by the President of the republic, himself, is the proposal emanating from the Mexican Ministry of Agriculture for the establishment of wireless transmitting and receiving stations in the suboffices of the department in Monterey, Chihuahua, Hermosillo, Guadalajara, Merida and Mexico.

The realization of such a scheme would be of inestimable value to agriculture, for a glance at the map shows that the result would be rapid communication between all the most important agricultural zones of the republic, and, by such means, farmers would be advised accurately, and what is more important, in good time, of the state of the weather, forecasts of weather, market conditions and any other items of importance to what is in some quarters now described as their prostrate industry.

The idea is that these stations shall have a sphere of action by which all may be in communication with the central station in Mexico City; that all may be intercommunicating and with a radius of not less than 300 kilometers. It is further the intention that from the central station shall be sent to the substations daily all notices and news which may be of interest to agriculturists, together with condensed items of news, which may, in turn, be advised if necessary by ordinary telephone to farmers in the respective districts.

The cities of Monterey, Chihuahua and Hermosillo have been chosen for stations in order that all the district of the republic bordering on the United States may be covered, these being the parts most necessary, says a leading daily in Mexico City, for American propaganda and influence to be arrested. The Hermosillo station will be the most lofty in order that during the night it may be able to cover the whole of the territory of Lower California.

Mexico and Guadalajara are to have stations because they will cover the most intense agricultural portions of the republic, and will have more ample material for transmission. Lastly, Merida has been chosen for another station, owing to its henequen production, which makes it absolutely necessary to be in close touch with the capital of the republic, although the zone is but sparsely populated. Special care will be taken not to interfere with commercial stations already in exirtence.

The three stations first to be erected will probably be those at Mexico, Chihuahua and Merida, and their cost is estimated to work out at about $40,000.

LONG PIPE LINE LAID

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 12.—An eight-mile pipe line that will have a daily capacity of 7000 barrels is being laid from Mirondo City, Tex., into the several oil pools of the Laredo district.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S.S.S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Un conocimiento práctico del español es de grandísima utilidad en este país, especialmente en el suroeste; como lo demuestra el hecho de que en Los Angeles solamente hay más de 15,000 personas que estudian ese idioma con profesores oficiales o particulares. Para esos estudiantes será un buen ejercicio, leer todos los días esta sección, donde encontrarán las palabras y frases más usuales del lenguaje español.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, julio 12.—Los funcionarios del Ministerio de Estado manifiestan que no se han cambiado comunicaciones con los ingleses, relativas a la controversia del Ruhr.

El Procurador General Daugherty, al comentar la expedición de un decreto final que hace permanente el mandato inhibitorio contra los operarios de talleres que se declaren en huelga, dice que ya no volverá a ser posible ningún paro muy extenso de los medios de transporte.

Un comité de economistas y peritos en estadística, que se ha reunido en el Ministerio de Agricultura, recomienda se reduzca la superficie sembrada de trigo de invierno.

Por primera vez, desde febrero último, la balanza mercantil vuelve a ponerse en favor de los Estados Unidos. Tal ocurrió en el mes de junio.

Se Fija el Precio de los Duraznos de Hueso Adherido

SAN FRANCISCO, julio 12.—Va a conservarse el precio de $45 tonelada que se fijó en mayo próximo pasado a los melocotones de hueso pegado. Así lo decidieron aquí ayer los directores de la Sociedad de Cultivadores de Duraznos para Conserva, de California.

Huelga de I.W.W. en la Penitenciaría de San Quintín

SAN QUINTIN, julio 13.—Desde de 23 de junio, día en que se rehusaron a trabajar en la fábrica de yute de la prisión, han estado en calabozos, treinta y cuatro miembros de los Industriales del Mundo. William Flannigan, que fué quien inició la huelga, capituló ayer, y ha sido repuesto en sus labores.

Van a Sindicalizarse Cien Mil Siderúrgicos

CLEVELAND, julio 13. — Se anunció que comenzaría hoy en serio la campaña para sindicalizar a los 100,000 obreros siderúrgicos del distrito de Cleveland, pues ha llegado William Hannon, secretario-tesorero del Consejo Ejecutivo de las organizaciones nacionales e internacionales de la industria del acero. Los ideales que persiguen son, la pornada de ocho horas, mejores condiciones de trabajo, salarios que permitan vivir, y una política de inmigración que proteja a los obreros americanos.

Estragos del Calor en Bruselas

BRUSELAS, julio 12. — Durante los últimos seis días, se han llevado a los hospitales ciento veinta pacientes de insolación, y de colapso producido por el calor. Han ocurrido asimismo varios accidentes ferroviarios, debidos a la expansión de los rieles por el excesivo calor.

NOTAS LOCALES

Aprehenden a la Esposa de un Industrial Asesinado

La Sra. Wilburga Oesterreich, cuyo acaudalado esposo fué muerto de un tiro en su casa, sita en el 958 del Bulevar South Andrews, hace poco menos de un año, fué recluída ayer tarde en la cárcel de ciudad, acusada de presunta asesina. Efectuóse la detención después de que el Capitán de Detectives Home y el Detective Cline hubieron interrogado por más de cinco horas a la señora.

La Sra. Oesterreich, cuyo pelo negro recortado se le mete por los ojos, se sentó frente al Capitán Home, y negó los cargos, dando gritos tales, que acabó por enronquecer. Metiósela luego en un auto de la policía, y se la trasladó violentamente de la Estación de Policía de Hollywood a la Central, donde fué encerrada.

El interrogatorio y la detención de ayer tarde obedecieron a que la policía recibió informes de que una pistola automática calibre 25, es decir, de calibre igual a la que había servido para matar a Oesterreich, había sido hecha desaparecer por la Sra. Oesterreich. Siguióse la pista a dicha pistola, y los detectives dieron con ella en un resumidero cercano a Venecia, y la recogieron. El arma había sido rota con un martillo, y sus números borrados con lima.

Flint Abandona a Johnson, y se Pasa a Harding

El Senador Frank P. Flint, ex-director de la reciente campaña senatorial de Johnson en Sudcalifornia, se manifestó ayer partidario decidido de la reelección del actual Presidente, con ocasión de un almuerzo dado en honor de William H. Croker, miembro del Comité Nacional Republicano. Esto indica que hay una sólida organización republicana en California en pro de la nueva designación del Presidente Harding, y en la que se anuncia, según parece, la eliminación del Senador Johnson como candidato presidencial, por lo menos, en lo que a California se refiere.

La inequívoca declaración del Senador Flint en favor de la candidatura de Harding, en momentos en que muchos partidarios de Johnson parece que están esperando una declaración autorizada, ya del mismo Senador, o de sus líderes más significados, debe ser considerada como de inusitada significación política. No sólo temó el Senador Flint parte conspicua en las campañas senatorial y presidencial de Johnson, sino que ha sido muchos años uno de los principales consejeros del senador.

El pleito homenaje rendido al Presidente Harding por el Senador Flint, provocó aplausos entusiásticos y prolongados entre los presentes, incluso los de buen número de señores y señoras que se distinguieron como partidarios de Johnson en las anteriores campañas.

El Sr. Crocker, que fué presentado por el Senador Flint, y que habló brevemente de la necesidad de que los republicanos apoyaran solidariamente a Harding, anunció que había nombrado a la Sra. O. P. Clark, miembro asociada por Sudcalifornia, al Comité Nacional Republicano.

DEPORTES

Boxeo

Luis Angel Firpo, púgil sudamericano de gran peso, dejó fuera de combate a Jess Willard, ex-campeón mundial de pesados, en el octave asalto de una pelea a doce, que tuvo lugar anoche en Jersey City. El escenario de este combate fué la arena Boyle's Thirty Acres, donde Dempsey puso k.o. a Carpentier hace dos años. Hasta el momento del derribo definitivo, que se produjo inesperadamente, parecía que Willard y el ganador se hallaban casi en iguales condiciones.

Tennis

Manuel Alonso, el as español de tennis, que sorprendió la semana pasada al mundo deportivo derrotando a William Tilden, campeón americano, venció ayer a Howard Kinsey, estrella de la Costa del Pacífico, en los campeonatos nacionales sobre cancha de arcilla, en Indianápolis. El ganador se llevó el match en series seguidas. Todo hace creer que Alonso tendrá que encontrarse otra vez con Tilden en la tanda final del torneo. El español es el favorito en esa nueva justa con el campeón americano.

Golf

Ayer continuó el juego en el torneo nacional de golf libre, en el Club Campestre de Inwood, Long Island. Jim Barnes presentó la más baja anotación del día, pues logró los 36 agujeros en 150 tiros. Ayer se calificaron veinte jugadores de golf.

Baseball

Vernon resucitó ayer y derrotó al equipo de Seattle por 14 a 10, en el parque Washington. Se caracterizó el juego por fuertes golpes de ambos lados. Foster, que lanzó por Vernon, tiró bien hasta al sexto turno, cuando lo desalojó el lanzador James.

Sacramento derrotó ayer a Los Angeles en Sacramento, por anotación de 7 a 2. El Jefe Yellowhorse, lanzador de Sacramento, no estuvo en peligro en ningún momento.

LEGION HEAD URGES MORE "SOVIET ARKS"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, July 13. — Alvin M. Owsley of the American Legion, said today that the United States had need for more "soviet arks" to carry back to Europe every disturber of American peace and industry.

"Forces of much strength," he said, "are advocating the destruction of our country. Anarchy is knocking at the door."

Family Escapes Poisoned Beans; Chickens Killed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OXNARD, July 12.—Precaution on the part of Mrs. C. H. Dunker in preparing the evening meal, last evening, prevented what might have resulted in the death of the entire family from botulinus poisoning. The result is that the Dunkers mourn all fourteen of their chickens.

Mrs. Dunker opened a jar of string beans she had canned herself. They looked fermented and did not smell sweet. She did not taste them but threw them out to the chickens.

Mr. Dunker went out to feed the chickens this morning and found them all dead.

LOCAL FIRMS IN HUGE PROJECTS

New Glass Plant Planned at Torrance

Will Provide Employment for 1000 Persons

Corner at Fifteenth and Los Angeles Sold

Approximately $1,500,000 is involved in one realty and one industrial project announced yesterday by Los Angeles firms. They include the erection of a large plant for the manufacture of glass by a new process and the building of a spacious office structure for the textile trade in Los Angeles streets.

Industrial experts in the East have been selected to prepare plans for a new plant for the Western Sheet Glass Company located at Torrance, according to a statement issued yesterday by executives of the firm, who are planning to expend more than $1,000,000 on new buildings, machinery and improvements during the coming year. Preliminary arrangements completed by officials of the project provide for the immediate commencement of building operations as soon as the necessary drawings have been finished.

Incorporation papers totalling $1,000,000 in capital stock were filed last week and it was stated yesterday that all the stock had been either pledged or taken thus assuring the success of the industry. Factory buildings and offices will be located on a ten-acre plot formerly owned by the Torrance Window Glass Company, who sold their holdings to the present organization several weeks ago.

MODERN FACTORIES

While a number of structures are already in place covering a piece of land in excess of two acres, it is the intention of the glass company to erect several additional modern factories to care for the growing business. A group of fireproof structures will be started immediately to make room for new equipment which will be installed to manufacture window glass by the Fourcault process of drawn sheet glass for which exclusive rights on the Pacific Coast have been secured.

The new process makes possible the manufacture of glass sheets fifty-four inches wide and twenty-six feet long directly from the furnace, and at the same time retaining the luster of the original enamel. The company plans to have a yearly output of more than 300,000 boxes and that approximately 1000 men and women will be employed when the plant has been put into full operation and with a large annual payroll.

In addition to the new process the firm will engage in the production of wire, metal and sheet glasses obtaining the raw materials in Los Angeles and vicinity with distribution points in all parts of the United States, and in the Orient.

Members of the glass concern are Arthur Asher, president; Robert H. Raphael, vice-president; Charles Bisbee, Eugene Roth and Adolph Sieroty, directors. A few of those who have announced an intention to acquire stock were said by the officers to be B. L. Frank, Ernest Collier, E. N. Weyl, F. H. Wurster and others.

Final transactions were consummated yesterday by the J. W. Lewis Company for the sale of the northeast corner of Fifteenth and Los Angeles streets to a local investor who contemplates the erection of a five-story loft building on the site, to be used by several textile manufacturers. Although the sum involved was not made public it is said to be in excess of $500,000 including the cost of construction and lot value.

According to E. A. Brashem, member of the local realty and prominent in the deal, the consideration was all cash. The seller was Jacob Steinberg, an Eastern investor, who acquired the property only recently. It is the plan of the buyer to start actual operations on the project within ninety days and to have the building ready for occupancy by the first of the year.

Preliminary drawings are being drafted by a Los Angeles architect who has been directed to use reinforced concrete in its construction and brick for outside walls incorporating the very latest conveniences and improvements. The Lewis Company will handle all leases for the structure and it was stated that several firms have already completed arrangements for space.

FALLS FROM SIXTH FLOOR

Slightly Injured Man Asks Pardon of Owner of Roof Which He Dented in His Drop

Early yesterday morning the proprietor of a garage on South Grand avenue heard a terrific clatter on the roof of his one-story garage. He hurried up to see what was happening.

As he reached the roof, Windsor Putnam, 19 years of age, of San Francisco, was picking himself up. He looked down ruefully at a big dent in the roof.

"Mighty sorry, old man," he said, "afraid I damaged your roof. But I fell from a sixth-story window in the Stillwell Hotel."

Putnam insisted that he was unhurt and started off. But the garage proprietor notified police and a few minutes later Detectives Parsons and Dryden found the youth wandering in a dazed condition at Ninth and Olive streets. Protesting, he was taken to the Receiving Hospital and treated for a broken jaw. Otherwise he was not injured.

Putnam came from San Francisco three days ago. He declared he leaned out of the window to get some fresh air and lost his balance.

Another fortunate escape from injury occurred yesterday afternoon, when Noble Craft, 20 years of age, an electrician, working on the Cumnock School Building on West Third street, fell three stories to the ground. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, treated for minor bruises and returned to work.

Hope Hampton Ends Role in "Gold Diggers"

With her work in "The Gold Diggers" completed, Hope Hampton, featured player of the production, is preparing to leave Sunday for New York and Paris.

Warner Brothers, sponsors of the production, were so pleased with Miss Hampton's work in "The Gold Diggers" that they offered her a contract to remain and do another picture. She has been working steadily for nearly a year and felt she deserved a rest. Besides this picture, Miss Hampton is featured in two other productions, "Lawful Larceny" and "Does it Pay," neither of which have been released.

Miss Hampton is planning to return to Los Angeles late in the fall to play the title role in "Irene" for Warner Brothers.

Paul Bern Will Write Scenario of Lubitsch Film

Paul Bern, scenario writer, who has made the continuities for many recent screen successes, has been engaged to write the continuity for the new feature photoplay which Ernest Lubitsch will produce this summer for Warner Brothers. The play, which has not yet been named, is an original story outlined by Lubitsch himself and will be a modern drama of European life.

Among Mr. Bern's recent adaptations are "The Christian," and Sir Hall Caine's "Master of Man," which Victor Seastrom is now producing at the Goldwyn Studio.

CHANGE TO CAMP OUT

A few more openings are available for the week of the 15th inst. at Camp High Sierra, maintained by the Playground Department of the city, it was stated by officials yesterday. Those wishing to avail themselves of reservations are instructed to call at Room 505, 156 North Spring street, by tomorrow morning. The camp is about 335 miles from Los Angeles, in the High Sierras, and is reached by train, automobile or stage. The elevation is 5000 feet.

VETERANS IN FILM OF CIVIL WAR

Camera Work on Blue and Gray Twelve-Reel Picture in Seventeenth Week

Civil War stuff is in process of filming this week for "The Dramatic Life of Abraham Lincoln," the twelve-reel photodrama of the Rockett Lincoln Film Company, now in the seventeenth week of its production. Under the direction of Phil Rosen the Blue and Gray, impersonated by members of the American Legion and a few of the younger veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars, are staging the final scenes of the war between the States in the big field a mile east of the Mayer-Schulberg Studio.

Here also has been laid out by the cinema engineers the largest set ever erected for war films. It is a reproduction of Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., as that famous thoroughfare was during the war, extending a mile and a quarter from the National Capitol to the White House.

On this street Director Rosen had 1200 people at work all day Saturday and Sunday and on Monday and Tuesday nights, and in the battle scenes today and Saturday he will have many more.

Col. John S. Bonner, U.S.A., late of the staff of Gen. Leonard Wood, is Director Rosen's military aide in staging the war scenes.

In the fighting today and Saturday several incidents of the Gettysburg campaign will be filmed and the Blue and Gray will be equally featured.

In the filming of Lincoln's address at Gettysburg and of the official reception at the White House, Director Rosen has had the advice of former United States Senator Cornelius Cole, who was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee during the Civil War and an intimate friend of President Lincoln. Senator Cole, who will be 101 years of age in September, has a vivid recollection of the martyr President and the details of his daily life.

Director Rosen extends a cordial invitation to veterans of all the American wars and the public in general to witness the mimic war at the location today and Saturday.

Drug Company, Closed by Court Order, to Reopen

Reopening of the Scholts-Mutual Drug Company's store at 749 South Broadway, which had been closed by a court attachment since last Thursday, was brought about yesterday after the creditors had agreed to a release from the court order, according to attorneys for the creditors.

Assurance has been given by drug company officials that all accounts will be taken care of, all assets preserved and liquidation of the company effected through a plan worked out in harmony with the creditors, it was stated. The liabilities of the drug company are said to amount to approximately $500,000, which are declared to be amply covered by assets of the company. Attorneys for the Bank of Italy and other large creditors said that the drug company is solvent and that the best interests of all will be served in the reopening.

An advisory board composed of representatives of the creditors will consult with drug company officials on details of the liquidation.

The drug company owns and operates besides the store here, one store in San Francisco and eleven in Denver. The local store was the only one closed by the attachment. The preferred stock issued by the company totals approximately $1,300,000, it was stated.

LIVE-STOCK MEN TO DISCUSS BUSINESS

The Southern California Purebred Live-stock Association meets tomorrow at the ranch of the Santa Monica Dairy Company. The principal speech will be delivered by Will G. Farrell of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will consider in a general way the importance of the live-stock industry and the agricultural, industrial and commercial growth of the entire Pacific Southwest. Live-stock men generally and others interested directly or indirectly in the industry have been invited to be the guests at a ranch luncheon.

SUMMER SESSION TO ATTEND BOWL CONCERT

Friday, the thirteenth, will not be considered unlucky by the summer-session students of the University of Southern California for it will be one of the red-letter days of the season. Several hundred students are planning a party to occupy a block of seats at the Hollywood Bowl that evening, as one of the social outings arranged for the scholars. Other outings will include a trip to the Los Angeles Harbor, the Pilgrimage Play and a tour of the Huntington Library, as well as several week-end hikes and outings.

WET FINES SHOW GAIN THIS YEAR

Federal Attorney Makes Report to Government on Office Activities

The annual report of the United States Attorney's office, sent to Washington yesterday by Attorney Joe C. Burke, indicates that business, even in fines for liquor violations, is growing in Southern California at a marvelous pace. In the fiscal year just closed $254,751 was actually collected from fines of $331,778 imposed by the Federal Court in criminal cases. This is $112,000 more than was collected during the fiscal year 1921-1922.

The report shows that there are now pending in the Federal Court 1442 criminal cases, there having been 1078 last year. During the year 1548 cases were commenced, and 1221 terminated. Convictions were 1083, acquittals eighteen, while 102 were discontinued and eighteen dismissed. Pleas of guilty entered were 1003. There were ninety-eight trials by jury, the Needles strike case consuming eight weeks, the Camp Kearney case seven weeks, and the Bowers case, at San Diego, five weeks.

In addition to the $254,751 collected from convicted law violators, $525 was paid to the United States Attorney without prosecution.

Of the 1442 criminal cases now pending, 969 are Volstead Act violations.

In the civil department, seventy-one cases were pending at the beginning of the year, while there are eighty-one now pending. During the year sixty-one were commenced, and fifty-nine terminated. Thirty-four judgments in favor of the United States were obtained. Cases discontinued were twenty-one. From the judgments for the United States the government realized $2651, the same amount as the fines imposed. Old judgments to the amount of $2005 were collected, while there was paid to Attorney Burke, without suits being filed, $10,845. This represents compromises and adjustments, and is remarkable in that last year only $133 was realized in this manner.

SEEK TO PLACE BLAME FOR DEATH OF INFANT

In an inquest to be conducted tomorrow at the morgue of the C. L. Closson Undertaking Company, Gardena, a jury will endeavor to determine which of two automobiles that struck a Japanese infant caused his death. The child is Hirifhi Murnaga, 3 years of age. Wednesday night Constable Balmer reported to the Sheriff's office that as the child was crossing a road one of the cars struck him with great force, knocking him in the path of the other car. The latter machine ran over the infant. The question for the jury to decide in placing responsibility for the child's death is to determine whether the boy was dead before being run over by the second car or whether it was the second car which caused death.

VALLEY GRAPE CROP IS HEAVY

Strawberry Patch Maintains Japanese Family

Alfalfa Hits High Total on Taylor-Jones Ranch

Lettuce Icing Rate Fight is Carried to Chicago

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, July 13.—C. H. Jones declares he has harvested Thompson seedless grapes from his vineyard in the Iris district at the rate of one and one-fourth tons to the acre. The vines are hardly two years old and for their age are declared by experts to have made a remarkable showing.

A Japanese gardener residing near Brawley is reported to have a strawberry patch of nearly one-half acre. In one year the Japanese has harvested enough berries to pay the living expenses of himself and small family. The success of the Japanese is pointed to by "Strawberry Tom" Elliott, special industrial agent of the American Railway Express, as an illustration of the big profits that can be obtained from strawberry growing in Imperial Valley.

The Farm bureau has a report of alfalfa production on the Taylor & Jones ranch near Mt. Signal that is declared to be the best record so far this year. The June cutting on sixty acres produced eighty tons. The July cutting produced 101 3-4 tons. The alfalfa plants are four years old.

TAX RATE STANDS

Imperial Irrigation District directors have decided to allow the the tax rate of $2.50, prevailing last year, to remain in effect this year. The decision of the board is unofficial but it is indicated that this will be the figure finally voted on after the board meets and passes on the assessment roll for the year. District directors assert that the district is paying its own way this year without being compelled to borrow money for running expenses.

HIGH ICE RATES

C. C. Jenkins, manager of the Imperial county farm bureau, has left for Chicago to attend a hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the subject of lettuce icing rates on shipments from Imperial Valley. Los Angeles lettuce shippers are expected to be there to protest against the proposed charging of full icing tariffs on lettuce cars shipped dry or without ice in the bunkers. Shippers here have found that early lettuce carries well by using a small supply of ice in the crates and scattered over the top of the crates inside the car. The cost is asserted to be about one-fourth the regular icing tariff published by the railroad companies.

SETTLE INSURANCE

BRAWLEY, July 12.—Brawley school trustees have agreed to accept a check of $13,500 from the Pacific Underwriters in settlement of insurance claims arising out of the damage to the union high school building by an explosion last March. The explosion was asserted to have caused at least $30,000 damages to the building. Bonds to the amount of $20,000 were voted a few weeks ago to raise money to repair the building while negotiations were on between the school trustees and the insurance companies. The repairs are expected to be completed in time for the opening of the school term in September.

TRACE BULLET HOLE IN ABANDONED AUTO

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12.—Long Beach police are endeavoring today to learn the source of a bullet hole found in the back of an automobile which, it is asserted Edwin C. Morris, now under arrest here, obtained by fraud. Morris was arrested by Detective Sergeants Gott and Alyea of the automobile theft detail after he had abandoned the automobile on East Fifth street.

ACCUSED OF BITING FINGER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, July 12.—That his wife bit the index finger of his right hand so badly that it had to be amputated is the charge made by John Smith in a cross-complaint filed in the Smith divorce action here yesterday. The original action was filed by Mattie Smith against John Smith. Smith also charges that his wife nags him, quarrels with him and occasionally hits him over the head with a club. They were married in Yuma on Sept. 16, 1922.

Snoozing Motorist Has Fall When He Undertakes to Walk in Sleep

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CITIZENS AT BEACH PUSH BOND ISSUE

Preliminary Steps Taken to Boost Election for City Gas Plant

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 13.—Plans for a campaign to put over the August 14 $3,000,000 bond election for the establishment or purchase of a municipal gas plant here were formulated today and a committee to handle the campaign is now being formed. Galen H. Welch, former Councilman and prominent in Long Beach and State politics, has been named chairman. Scott Alexander, who headed the Council's citizen gas committee, has been named vice-chairman and other members will be named tomorrow, it was said.

Long Beach, it was declared today by city officials, is determined to rid itself of the yoke of what is termed "exorbitant gas rates" and to that end proposes to establish a municipal gas plant and distributing system that will give domestic consumers a 50-cent gas rate. The proposed plant will be constructed if efforts to obtain the present plant of the Southern Counties Gas Company by condemnation or other proceedings fails, it was said.

Mystic Smile Order Views Oxnard Field

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OXNARD, July 12.—Oxnard may soon have a branch of the Order of the Mystic Smile. The order is a Protestant organization formed primarily to stimulate attendance at church among business men.

J. E. Ewing, Supreme Grand Master of the order, who was in Oxnard yesterday, attended a meeting of the representatives of the order in Ventura last evening. About fifty were present, including those from Burbank, Ventura and Santa Barbara. There are three secret degrees based on service.

Any protestant church can organize such an order. Members do not have to take any certain religious vow, but obligate themselves to lead a Christian life.

STAGE LINE DEMURRERS ARE UPHELD

El Centro Court Sustains Defendant Drivers' Plea for Second Time

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, July 12.—Superior Judge Conkling today for the second time sustained demurrers to an information charging Fred Ernsting, O. D. Hadley and sixteen other automobile stage drivers with violating an order of the State Railroad Commission restraining them from operating stages. The judge directed Dist.-Atty. Utley to amend the information to include the order of the Railroad Commission and also set forth all the proceedings leading up to the issuance of the order.

The amended information will be presented in court tomorrow and Attorney R. G. Hill representing the defendants announced that he would again demur to it, raising the question of constitutionality of the law on which it is based.

Ernsting, Hadley and the others are charged in one count with violating the Railroad Commission's order and in another count with conspiring to disobey the order.

The men formerly operated automobile stage lines in Imperial under the name of United Stages. This name was later utilized by a corporation operating out of Los Angeles under the management of Thomas Morgan. It was this corporation that obtained the order from the Railroad Commission, and later procured the warrants against the Valley men.

The Commission's order took effect June 11 last, but Ernsting, Hadley and their drivers are asserted to have continued to operate stages between the valley towns until arrested.

Blames Hurled Cigarette for Starting Fire

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, July 13.—Can a cigarette stub be thrown 100 feet from a moving automobile?

This was the issue that confronted Justice Morton in court today. R. P. Richmond of La Cresenta, was charged with leaving a brush fire without attendants. Richmond denied he left the fire and contended that it was started by a cigarette stub discarded from a passing machine on a near-by boulevard.

N. E. Thompson, a county forester and complaining witness, contended that it was not started in such a fashion and testified that the boulevard was 100 feet away from outbreak of the fire.

"If anyone here can throw a cigarette 100 feet I'd like to see them," Thompson declared.

Richmond was fined $15.

Church Will Be Moved to New Site in Pieces

"Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 12.—Every brick and stone taken from the First Methodist Church, now being razed by workmen, is carefully marked, numbered and indexed. Every window sash and every pane of colored glass has its number. The reason for all this painstaking cataloguing is that the church of handsome stone structure will again be erected at a location on Colorado street and Holliston avenue.

Workmen engaged in the task are working out a supereficient method of cataloguing and numbering so at the time of the re-erection every stone, cornice and window pane will be intact.

WELL SPITS MUD; RAGES UNCHECKED

Outlaw Gasser is Causing Heavy Damage to Nearby Property at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12.—The "outlaw" Union Community No. 11 well was still out of control today and the danger to nearby wells from the constant eruptions of water and mud was steadily increasing.

At noon today the "outlaw" gasser had raged unchecked for fifty hours, sending a huge stream of mud, sand and salt water into the air constantly and causing a suspension of activities in the field for a radius of three blocks.

The danger from the "outlaw" was accentuated when the Dabney No. 6, one of the largest producers in the field, which was shut in because of its proximity to the gasser, sprung a leak under 1400 pounds pressure. The water and mud from the gaser had filled the tanks about the Dabney Well, forcing officials to shut it in to save the oil.

The pressure at the Dabney well increased steadily and officials, fearing further damage, have ordered the well opened up to relieve the pressure. A crew of men from the Dabney Syndicate was attempting to lay pipe lines to the well in order to lead the oil into other tanks.

The Ryder No. 1, a 20,000-barrel producer, also has been shut in because of damage caused to its pipes and tanks by the mud and water from the gasser. Workmen have diverted the sea of mud and water from the wall to the north by the construction of dikes and ditches. City Manager Windham also has requisitioned all available trucks from the Graham Brothers' Company to haul mud and sand to positions about the well for the construction of enbankments so that the water and mud will not find its way from the hill into the city proper.

WINE DESTROYED; FINE IS IMPOSED ON OWNER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, July 12. — Destruction of 250 gallons of wine was ordered by Justice White today when he fined Y. J. Forster of Walnut $50 for having the liquor in his possession in violation of the Wright Act. Forster pleaded guilty to the charge. A similar charge against George Muldanado, an employee of Forster, was dismissed upon recommendation of W. E. Jordan, Deputy District Attorney. The defendant was unable to pay his fine and remains under bail until the payment is made.

GIANT STILL DISCOVERED BY OFFICERS

Complete Distillery With Large Daily Output Found Near Altadena

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 12.—What is believed by county officers to be one of the largest whisky-distilling outfits ever captured in Southern California, was raided in the foothills of Altadena today by Constable Sosey and a squad of deputy sheriffs. More than 600 gallons of mash and whisky were seized by the officers. The operators of the still escaped.

A fire that caught the upper story of the shack owned by the illicit liquor manufacturers, led to the discovery of the still on the J. Frank Weir Ranch in Altadena. Rangers, assisted by Mr. Weir, subdued the flames, but, during the conflagration, the operators of the establishment made a hurried getaway in a large truck.

The distilling outfit, officers state, has been producing 100 gallons of whisky a day which has been transported to some out-of-town distributing point. Four hundred gallons of working mash and seventy-five gallons of the finished product was confiscated, in addition to 100 gallons in the making, contained in the apparatus. The still and confiscated liquor will be turned over to the District Attorney's office.

A high wire fence circled the clump of trees and brush in which the distillery was concealed. According to Mr. Weir, the ranch owner, this section of his place was rented to some people several months ago. He further declared that he was not aware of the operation of the still.

Officers are tracing the former tenants of the Weir Ranch, the names of whom the officers will not disclose at the present time.

BOY SCOUTS LEAVE FIRE, ARE FINED

Hemet Court Assesses Youths $25 for Failure to Extinguish Blaze

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HEMET, July 12.—H. H. Martin and Sherwood Marvin of Troop 4, Boy Scouts of America, from Riverside, were given a lecture and fined $25 by Judge C. M. Dietterich for leaving their fire unextinguished in their camp at Domenigoni Flat, near Idyllwild, in the Cleveland National Forest. The boys had been issued a campfire permit, carrying rules for the prevention of fires, and had also, a few nights previous, attended a meeting at which a forest ranger addressed a company of Boy Scouts on the danger resulting from carelessness with fire in the woods.

Judge Dietterich yesterday fined Manuel Balvencia of Riverside, a post-hole contractor for the Southern Sierra Power Company, $50 for leaving a campfire unattended near North Fork Bridge on the San Jacinto Road in the Cleveland Forest, after the defendant had been repeatedly warned by a forest ranger to extinguish his fire before leaving camp.

Victor Beal of Garner Valley also was fined $25 on the same day for failing to go to help fight a forest fire when ordered to do so by Ranger W. J. Smith of Hemet. Owing to extenuating circumstances the fine in this case was suspended.

COMMISSION WINS FIGHT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, July 12. — Police Commissioner Downing is active head of the Calexico Police Department, according to an opinion by the City Attorney declaring that the ordinance creating a City Manager does not legally give Paul Steintorf, City Manager, power superior to that of the Commissioner. It has been proposed to call a special election next fall to give the City Manager the necessary authority. Commissioner Downing disputed the right of Manager Steintorf to run the police department and demanded a legal opinion.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12. — A ninety-nine-year lease has been obtained by the Bank of Italy on the property on the northwest corner of Third street and American avenue, it was announced today. The bank obtained an option on the land when it took over the American Savings Bank recently.

The lease was sold by H. R. Earp, president of the American Bank. It is reported that the Bank of Italy plans to erect either a bank or bank and office building on the site. Construction work is expected to start by January 1.

Recently the Bank of Italy also took over the Golden State Bank, but it is not known whether the two will be consolidated in the new building.

SAFETY FIRST BANDIT AT LONG BEACH TAKES EXTRA PRECAUTION IN HIS CRAFT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12.—Long Beach has a safety first hold-up man who takes no chances. After thrusting a gun in the face of E. B. Vaughan, Long Beach inventor and promoter, early this morning, the robber concentrated all his early efforts on the task of ascertaining whether his victim was armed.

"Have you got a gun?" he asked Vaughan. Vaughan assured him that he was unarmed, but the hold-up man searched his victim thoroughly for firearms. Even the search did not convince him, however, for he again demanded:

"Are you sure you ain't carrying your gat?" Vaughan reassured his captor and then the latter proceeded to relieve him of $15, all the money Vaughan had on his person. Police are investigating.

TRADES IN COW FOR CAR

Upland Man Sends Bossie on Jog Trot to Nearest Butcher to Find She is Bologna, Not Jersey

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

UPLAND, July 12.—Charles E. Puckett, motor-car dealer, admits today that as a butcher he is a good automobile man. Numerous cases are reported on record in which vehicles of all sizes and descriptions and in various states of decrepitude have been "taken in" on automobile deals, but it remained for Mr. Puckett to take as part payment on one of his cars a bovine which was described by the rancher concerned in the deal as a high-grade Jersey.

Having no satisfactory place to park the cow in his garage, Mr. Puckett called up a nearby wholesale butcher and after arriving at a satisfactory price by wire its new owner sent bossie merrily on her way to the slaughter house.

It was not a great while after her departure, however, when the automobile dealer was summoned to the telephone and the voice at the other end of the line was that of the meat buyer.

"I can't allow you as much as I thought I could for that cow you sent down here, Mr. Puckett," declared the voice, "for she's a bologna cow."

"Bologna nothing," replied the car dealer, "the man I got that cow of told me she was a Jersey cow and now you say she's a bologna cow. I don't know much about cows but how a Jersey could be a bologna is Greek to me, but if bologna cows are cheaper than Jersey cows they can't hand any more of 'em to me."

In the future Mr. Puckett declares he will confine his deals to "makes" with which he is familiar.

TOWN SELECTS OWN NAME

Monte Vista Chosen as Cognomen for Borough Known by Several Aliases

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, July 12.—The town of Monte Vista, alias Narod, alias Sunsweet, just east of Pomona, is going to proclaim itself to the world as Monte Vista.

Citizens of the town of many names have made up a purse to purchase a large electric sign to spread across the main highway entrance to the community, despite the fact that the packing-house on the Southern Pacific Railway proclaims to the world that the town is "Narod," while the sign on the two-by-four station on the Union Pacific right of way reads "Sunsweet."

The citizens will take matters into their own hands in a real progressive way, and the lighted sign will proclaim through the hours of darkness so all may see, the name selected at a mass meeting several weeks ago.

Plans are also being made for a big community picnic to promote a greater civic spirit among the residents. J. D. Jackman, R. N. Coffey, C. N. Marks, Mrs. G. M. Johnson and Mrs. George Pantasin are in charge of arrangements. It is expected that the event will be some time in August.

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

Coote Creditors Planning to Reorganize Company

Union Pacific Aids Central District Project

Money in Nails; Cinema Pays Fifth Dividend

Creditors interested in the reorganization of the A. W. Coote brokerage firm which went into involuntary bankruptcy recently refuse to coincide with the pessimistic opinions held out for rehabilitation by William H. Moore, Jr., receiver, in his statement published yesterday, and state that they will proceed with their plans with the intention of applying to the court for a dissolution of the bankruptcy petition.

Oliver C. Edwards, Jr., who heads the creditors' committee, said yesterday that over $300,000 in claims have been signed in Los Angeles and $100,000 in San Francisco. Other cities in which the firm maintained offices have not been heard from, but Mr. Edwards anticipates that a sufficient amount will be secured by the 20th inst., when the term of the involuntary petition expires, to warrant a reorganization of the business. The creditors represented in the reorganization plan, according to Mr. Edwards, are of the opinion that the receiver's conclusions are partially incorrect, and that the business is capable of being revived and operated.

Outside capital to the extent of $500,000 has been secured, Mr. Edwards says, and this amount will be utilized to start the business. Mr. Coote will be retained as manager, he asserts, provided "he comes out of this affair with clean hands." The creditors believe, according to Mr. Edwards, that Mr. Coote's experience would be invaluable in the capacity of manager, although some one else of training and experience will be secured if circumstances dictate.

The committee handling the work of reorganization in Los Angeles is composed of Mr. Edwards as chairman; F. Dukinfield Jones, secretary and treasurer; Dr. Perry Voorhees, J. W. Newell, A. C. Lightfall, William Moeller, Jr., and Charles Shipman. The San Francisco committee is headed by Vernon U. Wellman and Dr. Robert M. Jones is directing the work in Long Beach. Local headquarters are maintained in the Lankershim Hotel.

U. P. AIDS PROJECT

Through the assistance of Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific System who left yesterday for Omaha, Neb., after conferring with railroad officials here, the Central Manufacturing District will be provided with adequate transportation facilities for the development of the project. As a result of a conference with Mr. Gray, the Union Pacific will deed a spur track running from Downey Boulevard nearly to Santa Fe avenue to the management of the Central Manufacturing District in order to supplement the belt line railway proposed for the district.

According to Marius de Brabant, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific System, the possession of the spur track is significant of the success of the belt line railway, and also permits the Central Manufacturing District to obtain access to the Southern Pacific facilities at Alameda avenue. The Santa Fe already has established contact with the district.

SAVING THE NAILS

The Southern Pacific has interested its station agents in the economical practice of saving nails. Employees of the stations are encouraged to gather the loose nails found in the cars after unloading, and ship them to the railroad stores where they are sold, or bent and straightened and used in bracing less than car load shipments to prevent damage of freight. One agent, according to the Southern Pacific Bulletin, recently forwarded 660 pounds of bent nails to the store department, which represented only part of an accumulation of fourteen months.

CINEMA DIVIDEND

Directors of the Cinema Finance Corporation have authorized the declaration of the fifth quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the corporation's preferred stock payable the 15th inst. to stockholders of record the 1st inst. Maurice Barber is manager of the corporation, and the directors are John E. Barber, Harry Chandler, W. H. Davis, Garrettson Dulin, George E. Farrand, Thomas H. Ince, John B. Miller and Dan Murphy.

INDUSTRIAL BONDS

The Regan Forge and Engineering Company $200,000 first mortgage convertible 7 per cent sinking fund gold bonds brought out yesterday by Banks, Huntley & Co., and Howard G. Rath Company, are reported to be meeting with a good reception at the hands of investors. The Regan concern, located at San Pedro, has developed its net earnings from $118,190 for the year 1918 to $118,146 for the first months of 1923, according to the underwriters. The bonds offered are the only ones outstanding, are secured by a direct first mortgage on all the fixed assets, appraised at $599,285.

BRANCH BANKS

With the acquisition of the American Savings and the Golden State Banks of Long Beach through the medium of the Stockholders' Auxiliary Corporation, the Bank of Italy, according to officers here, will have seventy-two branches in forty-nine cities when the two Long Beach banks are actually converted into the Bank of Italy system.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Hawaii Would Snuggle Closer to Los Angeles; California Bank Expands; Silver Status

Irving H. Hellman, vice-president of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank is home from what he says is his first vacation in ten years. He spent it in Hawaii and is greatly impressed with the opportunity Los Angeles has to expand its business through the port with the Hawaiian Islands, the greater part of which is now handled through San Francisco. Hawaiian business men, he says, are beginning to realize the advantage to them of having a direct steamship connection with Los Angeles, appreciating that this city is the natural industrial and commercial center of the vast Pacific Southwest territory, and are desirous of co-operating in the work of bringing their chief city, Honolulu, into closer trade relation with Los Angeles.

"Our situation as regards trade relations with Hawaii, as well as our prestige there, has been tremendously helped," says Mr. Hellman. "By the establishment of the Los Angeles Steamship Company's direct passenger and freight service with Honolulu. It has no doubt been a difficult task to attract business this way, even though the advantage to many Hawaiian business men is obvious, in the face of long-established trade arrangements with San Francisco. But the influence of our Los Angeles Steamship Company's enterprise is being felt, and this will be increasingly so as time advances. A considerable amount of cargo routed to New York via Los Angeles came on the steamer from Honolulu on a recent trip, and this is a good indication of how the Hawaiian shippers feel toward Los Angeles.

"The leading business men of Honolulu manifest a keen interest in the progress of Los Angeles, and there is an increasing desire on their part to cement closer commercial relations with our Pacific Southwest field. They have been tremendously impressed by our growth and prosperity, and are fast coming to appreciate the many advantages of having their affairs linked to the business interest of the chief city of Southern California. Our shipping interests will do well to give practical encouragement to the cultivation of lasting commercial ties with Hawaii, particularly as the enterprise of the Los Angeles Steamship Company has convincingly demonstrated the advantage of a fast, convenient and efficient passenger and freight service independent of any other Pacific Coast port."

BANK EXPANDS

To meet the growth in the California Bank's business and in anticipation of the early removal to the new home office in the California Bank Building, the board of directors has elected an additional vice-president, five junior vice-presidents, four additional assistant cashiers, and two additional assistant secretaries.

G. L. Alexander, formerly cashier becomes a vice-president and T. E. Ivey, Jr., formerly assistant cashier, becomes cashier. H. M. Coffin, H. C. Hunt, A. A. Lamni, R. P. Lehmer and M. K. Salmon were elected junior vice-presidents. A. T. Brett, J. D. Farmer, H. M. French, C. H. Sundquiet, assistant cashiers, and R. P. Burt and F. J. Callinan, assistant secretaries.

Discussing this increase in the personnel of the bank family, President A. M. Chaffey said yesterday:

"The principal reasons for the promotions are to take care of the very substantial growth in California Bank's business, and at the same time provide an efficient working organization for the new home office. We expect to move to our new quarters in August, but will continue to maintain the Eighth and Broadway bank.

"A strong personnel is one of the essential elements of successful banking to which I attribute a large part of California Bank's success. The promotions just made are in line with our policy to promote to larger responsibilities, the young men who have grown up with our bank as they develop ability."

SILVER STATUS

What will happen to the price of silver? Opposing opinions on this question are reviewed by the National Bank of Commerce in New York in the July number of Commerce Monthly.

The bank points out that the pessimists have predicted sharp breaks in the price of silver when purchases under the Pittman Act are completed, but says that: "Others think the consequence not so clear. They point out that the break should at least come on the market slowly as a result of the Treasury purchases for future delivery. Indeed, they think it quite likely that the matter will be entirely discounted in price adjustments before any silver of the United States becomes available in the world's markets. This position finds support in the behavior of the market following the announcement by the Director of the Mint of suspension of purchases. On May 31 the price was 66 cents, a fall of only 7-8 of a cent from the previous quotation and only 7-10 of a cent below the average price for the first five months of the year 1923.

"There are those who emphasize again the relatively indifferent effect of irregularities in supply on the price of silver. In their opinion, everything rests on demand and this is averred to be unpredictable. As support for minimizing the significance of supply, the unusual nature of the commodity, silver, is evoked. The silver production year by year is not consumed as wheat and iron and other things that change their form and cannot be recalled. Silver on the other hand, goes into the stores of the world; that is into coins, into ornaments, into hoards and is easily melted and returned to compete with the new production when an unusual demand occasions it. The demand is the thing, they say; China and India have always been the most important factors in demand and are increasingly so today on account of the existing demonetization of silver in many lands. But the affairs of the Orient always contain latent surprises. Upon one of these may turn the course of silver prices."

PRICE DISCREPANCY

A correspondent recently from Sioux City, Iowa, who has interested himself in comparative food prices rises in his place to inquire why mid-West prices on staple products should be materially lower than the Los Angeles quotations, especially when the fact is taken into consideration that the growing season in that section is only four or five months long.

His basis for the comparison is founded upon advertisements appearing in newspapers of either city. Here are a few of them:

| | Sioux City | Los Angeles |
|---|---|---|
| Butter, finest creamery | 52c | 60c |
| Eggs | 30c | 40c |
| California oranges | 25c | 60c |
| Choice beef roast | 26c | 40c |
| Choice pork roast | 21c | 30c |
| California walnuts | 15c | 25c |

The list could be extended almost indefinitely with the advantage, according to the Iowan, in favor of his home town.

WITH THE TRADE

It is an off season with the milliners, but even after making allowances for seasonal conditions there remains considerable activity in the Los Angeles trade, and both manufacturers and retailers report fair business. Retail stocks are said to be low, and heavy restocking is in order for the anticipated heavy fall business.

Household linens are in seasonal demand. Bath towels and cheaper grades of table and other equipment are wanted due to the requirements of summer cottagers in the mountains and at the seashore.

Lighting fixture business is excellent, and the call from builders continues to be heavy. Electrical contractors report no diminution in volume and say that more houses and buildings are being wired than ever before.

NARROW FLUCTUATIONS IN COTTON TRADING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Cotton futures were 13 to 24 points higher today in a dull session in which price fluctuations at all stages were narrow. Business was mostly of a local character. In response to earlier cables from abroad the local market started at a net decline of 2 to 11 points, which was only moderately extended after the call. However, at that level scattered buying by commission houses combined with some short covering carried the market above the previous closing level. At the morning's high level the list showed net gains of 8 to 19 points. In the afternoon quotations developed a firmer undertone and the close was around the day's best.

Spot was quiet, 15 points advance 27.85 for middling upland. Southern spot: Galveston 27.65, unchanged; New Orleans 27.25, unchanged; Savannah 26.75, 25 points advance; Norfolk 27.50, unchanged; Memphis 27.50, unchanged; Houston 27.50, unchanged; Little Rock 27.75, unchanged.

Dropping Bones in the River

One of the first cases on record of an attempt to double one's capital is described in the familiar fable of the dog and the bone. Thinking that the reflection in the water was another bone, larger than the one he already held in his mouth, the dog jumped in the river after it. Result: Both the real and the imaginary bones were lost.

Without intending to be slangy, we wish to call attention to the fact that indiscriminate speculation is sometimes nothing less than dropping bones in the river. You can't hope to double your capital quickly without running the risk of losing it.

Prudent investors are satisfied with the certain income their money may be depended upon to yield when invested in the kind of securities which carefully guard the safety of the principal.

Here is an example of the kind of investments which we consider safe and productive:

SACRAMENTO BUILDING COMPANY
$675,000 6½% First (Closed) Mortgage Serial Gold Bonds
(Weinstock-Lubin Building)

Anyone familiar with Sacramento knows Weinstock-Lubin & Company as pioneers and leaders in the department store field.

This company has signed a lease on the building which is to be financed through this loan, and has paid one year's rental in advance. The annual rental is more than twice the interest charges on the entire issue, exclusive of taxes and insurance.

In addition to being a direct obligation of the Sacramento Building Company, these bonds are secured by a first closed mortgage on real estate and improvements appraised at $1,150,000. The bonds are free from Personal Property Tax in California, and application has been made to certify them as legal investment for California Savings Banks.

Distinguished Personnel

Ownership of the recently organized Pacific Southwest Realty Company is identical with that of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First National Bank of Los Angeles. The president is Henry M. Robinson and the directors are chosen from the directorates of the two banks. This fact has an important bearing on the desirability as an investment of—

Pacific Southwest Realty Co.
6½% Cumulative Preferred Serial Stock—Par Value $100

This company commences its existence as the owner of the buildings now occupied by the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and 23 of its branches, and also the Hollywood branch of the First National Bank. Rentals under the conditions of the 30-year lease taken by the bank amply secure both dividends and amortization of the Preferred Stock.

With a yield of 6½% this security constitutes an unusually attractive investment, which we strongly recommend.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Irregular Dealings
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Further irregularity took place in today's bond market with trading dull and the high class investment issues displaying a firm undertone. Except for a loss of 1 1-4 by the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean 6's and 1 point by Rio de Janeiro 8's of 1947, fluctuations in the foreign group were small and unimportant. United States government bonds held steady.

Losses exceeded gains in the active railroad issues. New York, Westchester and Boston 4½'s broke 2½ points, Minneapolis and St. Louis refunding 4's 1 3-8, and Chicago Great Western 4's 1. New Haven 7's and the 4's of 1957 each advanced about a point as did Chicago and Western Indiana 4's and Denver and Rio Grande refunding 5's.

Industrials showed moderate improvement. Gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Virginia Carolina Chemical 7½'s with warrants, Producers and Refiners 8s, People's Gas refunding 5s, Northern States Power 5s and Cerro de Pasco 8s.

Total sales (par value) were $8,044,000.

The largest offering today was the $5,000,000 Cleveland Union Terminal Company 5 per cent bonds which was promptly oversubscribed. Reports were current that a public offering would be made Monday of $7,000,000 Ohio River Edison Company first mortgage 6's, due in 1948, at around 98.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Following are the closing quotations on the New York Stock Exchange. Furnished by Logan & Bryan.

NEW YORK CURB

Trading Dull, Tone Firm
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Net changes were small in today's dull trading on the New York curb market, but the undertone was relatively firm.

Pipe line shares generally were slightly improved, Crescent Pipe moving up 1 point and Indiana Pipe gaining 2½ points. Oil company issues were irregular with the Standard issues holding steady. Ohio Oil lost 1¾ points while Prairie Oil and Gas moved up 1½ points.

Trading in industrial s was quiet and fluctuations unimportant for the most part. Gillette Safety Razor was in good demand and closed 2 points higher. Motors also were bought freely but gains were moderate.

Mining stocks were fairly active and prices inclined to strengthen. Net changes, however, were small.

SILVER WHEAT BOOSTING PLAN

Valorization Scheme Roasted by Critical Analysis

Peak of the Present Business Cycle Not Reached

Further Price Advances May be Anticipated

BY ARTHUR D. WELTON
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, July 12. — Friends and enemies of trusts, monopolies, combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade will pause to admire Gray Silver. It sounds like something in the fur line, but it isn't. It is the name of the Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Washington representative of the Farm Bureau naturally thinks of what the government can or may do to prevent the further collapse of wheat prices. Mr. Silver has analyzed the situation, as have a myriad of others, and he apparently concurs in the common conclusion that present conditions indicate a price of 75 to 80 cents a bushel for wheat. His suggestion is that the Secretary of Agriculture urge the President to advise farmers to withhold 200,000,000 bushels of wheat from the market this year and to finance it through the intermediate credit and warehousing system.

The intermediate credit system operates on capital supplied by the government which may be supplemented by the proceeds of sales of bonds to the public. Thus the consuming public is asked to supply the funds to finance wheat withheld from the market that the price may be run up from 75 or 80 cents to $1.40 or $1.50 a bushel. The figures are Mr. Silver's.

If Standard Oil tried to do such a thing it would forthwith be fined $1,000,000 and be sent to jail for 1000 years. When the price of sugar jumped two or three months ago, everyone, from the sleuths of the Department of Justice to the Housewives' League, went in search of evidence that would convict the sugar refiners of doing just what Mr. Silver asks Mr. Wallace to ask Mr. Harding to advise.

SCHEMES ALL FAIL

And if Mr. Wallace did it and Mr. Harding did it and the farmers did it and the public supplied the funds and stood for it, there is great doubt whether the price of wheat would be advanced to $1.50 or be advanced at all. Valorization schemes have been often tried, but they all fail in the end, unless the taxpayer is willing to pay to be mulcted.

Examination of the business barometers, with the statistics as nearly up to date as possible, warrants a forecast that the peak of this business cycle has not yet been reached. There is always a chance of error in contemporary interpretation of business movements, and forecasting can be done only on the assumption that developments will be conventional. When they are not conventional, there are invariably violent changes, due to violent departures from usual conduct by nation, rather than by business.

In general, the present cycle has been conventional and well behaved. The vast number and great variety of transactions that go to make up what is called the movement of business have no apparent uniformity. There are constant fluctuations by lines, by locations, by individuals and in other ways. It is only a long view back, made possible by statistical information, that permits a view ahead.

All these things have been studied and are being studied. Certain relationships are known and certain positions of things are taken to indicate the appearance of certain other positions because one has always succeeded the other. The degree of the certainty is not quite that of the truism that water will allay thirst; it is about as great as that bootlegging will bring rewards if the police don't interfere.

GENERAL DECLINE

Business for two months has been in a general decline. It must be called "general," because everything has been affected to some extent. It may be argued that Ford productio nhas been at new records and car loadings show great volume of business, or that bricklayers are getting rich and corporations are paying more and higher dividends. All of this is true, but — emphatic "but"—the price of industrial stocks has fallen more than 8 points, of railway stocks more than 6 points. Wheat has declined. So has the price of cattle and hogs, and wholesale prices—the mass of statistical evidence of a decline—accord with the pessimism that was rampant but is now receding.

But—a more emphatic "but"—money rates have also declined, and credit is easy. The banking position is so sound and pressure for loans so slight that there is a distinct variation from the phenomena that occur when the business cycle turns to the final long swing downward. When this occurs falling commodity prices and slowing up of business activity would call for liquidation. There would be a demand for the renewal of loans, due, of course, to the failure to sell goods or unwillingness to sell at lower prices. As funds become tied up credit shrinks and money rates advance. This forces further liquidation. Liquidation, falling prices and higher money rates are held to be necessary and conclusive evidence of the declining cycle. All must be manifested.

In the present situation two elements are missing—liquidation and rising interest rates. Therefore, the peak of the cycle has not been reached. Therefore, the present recession is a movement within the cycle that finally will be represented only by a valley in the upward curve.

Therefore, a further price advance may be forecast. When? The wise men have not yet found a way of measuring the time element in their forecasts.

Lower California Oil News

Did you read our ad relative to a well coming in with 8100 barrels of 52 degree Baume Oil in Lower California?

Here is some newspaper information taken from the Examiner:

"Mexicali, L. C. Representatives of the Doheny, Standard, Union and Shell Oil interests were here for a conference with Governor Lugo and State Engineer Acissio regarding permits for the drilling of oil wells in this district."

When these big fellows show interest you are bound to see some "real" excitement.

Inquire for information regarding one of the safest OIL offerings. Profit possibilities out of proportion to investment required.

We lease acreage directly adjoining our drilling tract at a ridiculously small price, and give you GRATIS UNITS in our 5000-acre drilling syndicate. Our plan has appealed to the most skeptical. Call or write for information.

The figures indicate a rather sharp falling off in our imports, no doubt a reflection of the decline in commodity prices. The total of $328,000,00 was $42,000,000 less than the imports for May, $36,000,000 less than those of April, and about $7,000,000 less than March.

STAGNANT MARKET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Extreme dullness characterized today's stock market, the quietest full-day session in more than a year. Price changes, as a rule, were narrow and irregular.

Stocks started off fractionally higher and early gains were extended as a result of short covering, prior to the publication of Premier Baldwin's statement in the House of Commons. Business was virtually suspended while a synopsis of the statement was being published on the financial tickers and Wall street's first reaction, as reflected on the ticker, was slightly unfavorable.

Large traders, however, seemed disposed to await the full text and make a careful study of the same before extending their commitments, and there was a continued absence of public participation so that afternoon trading continued sluggish with price changes generally unimportant.

American Car and Foundry dropped 5½ points on what was obviously forced liquidation. There was a thin market for the stock which broke 2½ points on five sales of 100 shares each, the day's total transactions being only about 2000 shares. Baldwin crossed 118 and then dropped back to 117¼, where it was up ¾ on the day. American Locomotive registered a small fractional loss.

Oils failed to make any appreciable response to the reported reduction in domestic production. Coppers were slightly firmer in reflection of a stiffening of commodity prices and an increased demand for the red metal. Steel showed little change on the day. United States Steel common again selling above 96.

Rail shares continued to disregard the unusually favorable carloading reports, although the seasoned dividend-payers showed the best buying support, gains of a point or more being recorded by Delaware and Hudson, Lackawanna and Canadian Pacific.

Some of the other individual strong spots were American Agricultural Chemical preferred, Famous Players, Liggett and Myers B, Air Reduction, Woolworth, South Porto Rican Sugar, Vanadium Steel and Pierce Arrow preferred, up 2 to 5 points.

Call money held at 5 per cent throughout the day. Time money continued firm with brokers paying 5¼ per cent. New commercial paper was slow in coming in and the demand was moderate, the bulk of the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Foreign exchanges held steady with no important changes in rates. Demand sterling sold just under $4.58½, and French francs were quoted around 5.90 cents. German marks again climbed above the .0005-cent mark.

Day's total sales, 844,000 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 87.64; net loss, .16.
High, 1923, 105.38; low, 87.64.
Twenty railroads averaged 78.11; net gain, .38.

Surgeon Says He Can Transform Ram into Merino

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, July 12.—Dr. Serge Voronoff announced today that he could transform any ordinary ram into a merino with sixteen inches of fleece by his simple rejuvenation operation.

Beginning with fifty young rams delivered to him today by the French Woolen Manufacturers' Association, he intends to start breeding a long-wooled race of sheep which will increase the wool production of the world two or three times and put wool suits within the reach of everyone.

"I find I can grow long hair on old men as easily as long hair on sheep, but the latter certainly will be the most useful achievement for mankind," Dr. Voronoff said.

SEEKS TO BAR DENTIST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, July 12.—Vernon M. Blythe, dentist, has asked an injunction forbidding Norman H. Morrison, also a dentist, from practicing his profession in Phoenix. It is asserted that Blythe bought Morrison's business here in 1921, for $9500, with stipulation that the seller abandon the profession in Phoenix for a least three years.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Sales of fresh fruits in the open market included 41 cars of California Valencia oranges, 3 cars of mixed Valencias and grapefruit and 2 cars of lemons. On the best grades of Valencias the market was firm with prices ruling slightly higher than the previous sale. On ordinary and common stock the market was weak and lower. Lemons were about 40 cents a box higher.

The oranges sold as follows: On 100s, from $2.65 to $4.35; 126s, $2.40 to $6.10; 150s, $3.50 to $6.60; 176s, $3.35@6.65; 200s, $3 to $6.65; 216s, $3.45 to $6; 252s, $2.50 to $5.15; 288s, $2.90 to $6.10.

DRIED FRUITS

The distributing trade has not jumped at apricots at the opening prices announced early this week and one reason for this is that independents have been underquoting the association to the extent of 1-2 to 1 cent a pound. This has tended to more or less of a deadlock between buyers and sellers which is likely to persist until the price has become more stabilized. Independent offerings of prunes continue to go the rounds, but they are apparently meeting with but little response. An jeasy tone persists in currants with demand rather light.

CANNED GOODS

It is still too early to formulate any accurate judgment with respect to most of the canned goods products. In the case of tomatoes most packers are withdrawn pending such time as a better line is available with respect to the outturn. In the meanwhile there is only a light jobbing supply available, numbers one, three and ten being quite scarce, although there are still offerings of No. 2.

The packer is facing the problem of high costs this year. The canner must figure closely in order to break out of this situation and is inclined to hold off as long as possible.

Most items in the canned fish market are decidedly firm.

In the market for canned fruits there is very little pep as chain stores and other leading buyers are taking required amounts only.

SUGAR MARKET

In suger some 10,000 bags of Cubas were being offered at 5 1-4 cents cost and freight without finding buying interest while Philippines were on offer at an equivalent of 5 cents cost and freight for Cubas.

In the afternoon the American entered the market for some 1250 tons Philippines in port at Baltimore at 6.78 cents c. i. f. which is the equivalent of 5 cents cost and freight for Cubas.

So far as the raw sugar situation was concerned the tone of the market was strong, but the fact that New York and out-of-town refiners were meeting the low prices of 8.40 to 8.50 cents a pound for refined sugar at consignment points in the middle West made for a certain amount of hesitancy.

Under pressure of selling from Europe and Wall-street sources, sugar futures sold off 15 to 23 points on the day on sales estimated at 18,000 tons. September and December switches at 51 points; December and March, 88, and July and September, 15.

COFFEE

The coffee futures market opened 17 to 21 points higher on sales of less than 2000 bags today. Cables were generally strong with an advance of 250 to 400 reis in the Santos term market while the Rio term market came in 75 to 175 reis higher and the Rio exchange on London was up ¼ d. Reports of frosts in some sections of Santos apparently influenced that market and the firm offers were from ¼ to ⅛ cent a pound higher.

At the close July sold at 8.60, up 42 points on covering operations. The market ended 22 to 42 points higher, on sales estimated at 25,000 with September at 7.68 cents; December, 7.20, and March, 7.15.

TEA, RICE

The influences of advancing tendencies in primary markets for teas are gradually making for a strong spot situation. Stocks are none too heavy on spot and trading is gradually showing an increase. Over the past few days the feature of the market has been the sustained improvement in few grade government standard Congous resulting from the increased volume of purchasing on the part of the United Kingdom. All varieties of teas are firm without exception, however.

Aside from the usual run of orders from the country the situation in rice was devoid of special features. Foreigns held steady under a fair inquiry.

BUTTER, EGGS

The butter market was a shade firmer than yesterday with prices showing an advance of ¼ cent a pound on the highest grades.

Call sales were 100 tubs extras spot at 39 cents; 300 tubs seller Friday, 39 cents; 100 seller this week, 39 cents; 200 seller July at 38¾ cents, and 50 seller Friday at 39 cents a pound.

The egg market is easier on nearly all grades, but barring a decline on extra fancy browns, prices showed very little change.

Call sales were 50 cases f. g. first extra at 27c; 50 cases s. p. extra firsts, 30c; 50 cases f. g. firsts, 25½c; 50 cases No. 1 dirties at 23c, spot delivery.

Pacific Coast white extra, 39@40c; white extra firsts, 36@35c; firsts, 33@55c.

CRUDE OIL

Domestic production of crude oil in the week ended July 7 is estimated by the American Petroleum Institute at 3,199,250 barrels daily, a decline of 11,200 barrels from the average of the week previous. While a small increase is shown for California which averaged 835,000 barrels daily as against 830,000 barrels the week previous; the Oklahoma output reduced 10,850 barrels daily to 495,700 as an average.

COPPER, ZINC

The copper market has hardened at 14¾ and sales as high as 14⅞c a pound for electrolytic delivered have been reported. The amount of metal available at the lower limit at this range is fast disappearing and higher prices are indicated. Most of the producers are still holding for 15c, and it would not be surprising if the market advanced to that level shortly.

London cables a further advance standard spot advancing 5s to £66 and futures 7s 6d to £66, 15s while electrolytic registered a gain of 5s at £73 for spot and £73, 10s for futures.

Another advance in zinc put the St. Louis market up to 6¼c a pound for July and August and 5 or 10 points higher for the two following months.

BOND MARKET

Limited operations in the bond market were due in part to the high call money rate.

Some enthusiasm in oil issues was awakened by the announcement of the crude oil production figures for the country for this first week in July showing an appreciable decrease.

The third Liberty Loan showed a much better request indicating government participation. Last prices of our government bonds today were off 1-16 to up 1-8.

Foreign bonds held steady all day despite a slight easing in foreign exchange which came late in the day.

As a rule the cheaper rail issues did better than the higher priced issues. Great Northern 7s were steady despite the publication of the drop in the earnings. Canadian Pacific debenture 4s closed at the low of the day off ⅝ for the session.

Copper bonds showed a flash of strength.

A recovery in raw sugar prices prevented sugars from suffering a further relapse.

MORE CUBAN SUGAR REACHES GALVESTON

DURING YEAR 786,710 SACKS WERE RECEIVED, DESTINED TO REFINERY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GALVESTON (Tex.) July 13. Raw sugar from Cuba to the amount of 786,710 sacks was imported through the port of Galveston and subport of Texas City during the fiscal year ending June 30, as compared with 754,447 sacks during the preceding year. All of this raw sugar was destined for the refinery of the Imperial Sugar Company at Sugarland, Tex. With the completion of the new sugar refinery which is being built at Texas City the imports of raw sugar from Cuba during the present fiscal year will be greatly increased, it is stated.

Each sack contains about 325 pounds of raw sugar, making the aggregate sugar imports for the year ended total 255,680,750 pounds as compared with 244,440,825 pounds the year before.

Sugar imports to date this season, beginning with a single importation during December, are considerably ahead of similar totals for last year, and it is believed that the imports for this season may run close to 1,000,000 bags, which would set a record far in advance of the usual movement, the sugar year corresponding almost identically to the regular calendar year. A total of 562,603 sacks of sugar had been imported into Galveston up to the end of June as compared with 532,538 bags at this time last season.

PAROLED MAN HELD

Fred Hartman gave himself up and accepted a place in the county road gang in Swartout Canyon, not because he was afraid of succumbing to liquor, as he said, but because he had given several bad checks, Probation Officer Carl May told Judge Reeve yesterday in Superior Court. Hartman had been on probation for stealing an automobile and surrendered in court two weeks ago. Judge Reeve set Monday for Hartman's hearing on a charge of violating his parole, and may send him to San Quentin, it was indicated yesterday.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Upsetting the geological dope of the Santa Fe Springs field, the L. B. Chase Oil Company drilling in the southwestern extension of the field is preparing to bring in a well or to make a production test at 2200 feet. Sixteen-inch casing has been set and the well has been cemented at 1900 feet, and 400 feet of screened casing has been set.

According to the drillers and the geologists, a deep oil sand has been penetrated and formations which differ in many ways from any found in other sections of the field have been brought to the surface.

The well was spudded in four weeks ago and is being drilled by the Stan-Ro Drilling Company.

The well is more or less isolated from other sections of the producing field being west and south of Little Lake Road, nearly two miles from any producing well. If a commercial producer results from the activity, other shallow wells will be drilled, it is believed.

Refinery Nearly Done

The Pan-American Petroleum Company expects to complete its new refinery at Watson Junction, near Los Angeles Harbor, about August 1 next. At that time it will be capable of putting into operation a plant that can handle 25,000 barrels of crude per day.

At about the same time it will have in readiness 7,000,000 barrels of oil storage consisting of three immense concrete reservoirs and eighty-one steel tanks. The Pan-American has a pretentious drilling program under way at Huntington Beach and Signal Hill, and is said to be taking oil from independents at Santa Fe Springs in order to get sufficient production to start the refinery off and keep it going.

Takes Big Lease

Dr. Louis Titus of San Francisco has just taken a lease on 240 acres of land at Playa Del Rey, from the Playa Del Rey Heights Company, according to an announcement made by David Blankenhorn, president of the company. It is understood that Dr. Titus will prospect for oil on the property. According to the announcement he pays the company one-sixth royalty, $50 per acre in cash, and another $50 per acre to be paid out of the first oil obtained on the property.

Supervisor's Report

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Collom during the week ending the 7th inst. show twenty new wells started, as compared with twenty-nine during the previous week. The total new wells this year is 790, as compared with 710 the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered thirty-seven, as compared with forty-one during the previous week. Yearly total to date 1053; total to same date last year 892.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered fifteen, as compared with eleven during the preceding week. Total to date this year 355; total to same date last year 465.

Abandonments this week numbered two, as compared with five during the preceding week. Total to date this year 130; total to same date last year, 153.

Refinery Takes Flow

The Rosenburg Refinery has arrange to take 7500 barrels of oil a day from the Louis Melczar well in Santa Fe Springs. The agreement has been made for one year.

The Melczar well came in several days ago with a flow of more than 11,000 barrels. Production was curtailed until today the well is making only 8000 barrels.

The potential possibilities of the well exceed 7500 barrels daily it is asserted, and more than that amount will be taken, but the refinery is by terms of the agreement compelled to take a 7500 barrel flow.

Basket Picnic Planned

The Victor Valley Land Owners Oil and Gas Company, which plans to drill a community test well in the west side of Victor Valley, is to have a basket picnic in Sycamore Grove, the 15th inst., according to an announcement mailed yesterday by A. P. Hockersmith, president of the corporation.

Mr. Hockersmith also sent out a call for a mass meeting of Victor Valley land owners, which will be at 232 South Hill street at 7 p.m., the 20th inst. This, Mr. Hockersmith announces, will be a business session.

In Close Touch

A private telephone and telegraph line, reaching from Los Angeles to San Francisco and following the general route of all its pipelines, has just been completed by the Associated Oil Company. This puts the company in close touch with all its principal places of business as well as with its pipeline and field activities.

Stimulating to District

The Cordray Thorpe No. 1 well, located on Willow street, near Gary avenue, came in yesterday with an initial flow estimated at 1200 to 1500 barrels a day.

The bringing in of this well, operators say, will have a beneficial influence on development in that section of the Signal Hill field, which up to the present has been more or less stagnant.

At the new well the gauges show a pressure of 200 pounds. The well was drilled by the McKeon Drilling Company.

Bethel is Made Lieutenant and Receives Fund

Assistant Police Chief Hilf yesterday presented to Sergt. A. W. Bethel a commission as detective lieutenant and about $5000, contributed by the public, for the brave officer who shot and killed two hold-up men who had wounded him in an automobile on First street hill.

When Lieut. Bethel recovers from his injuries, which cost him a leg, he will be given the choice of desk jobs at Central Police Station or of any other police work his physical condition permits him to undertake.

PHOTOGRAPHER GOING TO MEETING IN EAST

A. Putnam, of the Putnam Studios, delegate from Los Angeles Commercial Photographers' Association, is leaving for Washington, D. C., to attend the National Association of Photographers' convention. He is taking 2000 leaflets from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, inviting delegates to conduct the 1924 convention in California. On the 18th inst., California Day, he will distribute the leaflets and 1500 oranges donated by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. The San Francisco delegation will distribute nuts, raisins and peaches. If the convention is brought to California leading hotel men will co-operate with local photographers in offering prizes for the best photos taken in California by the delegates while the convention is on. About 2000 from all parts of the country will attend.

TEST CLAY FOR POTTERY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 13.—Tests of ceramic clay resources in British Columbia are being planned by the British Columbia government. There are many varieties of clays in British Columbia and some are reported to be particularly suited to the manufacture of high-class pottery ware.

Wheat Market Pauses; Prices Are Improved

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 13.—Wheat values pausedslightly in their downward movement and failed to get as low as the inside figures of the previous day although July sold at 99¼c and September at 99¼c. A resumption of rust reports from the American and Canadian Northwest and smaller country offerings combined with short covering led to an advance to above $1 at one time but the best figures were not maintained and the finish was ¼@⅝c lower. July closed at 99¾c, September at 99⅞ to 99¼c, and December at 100¼ to 101⅜. Corn was unchanged to ⅛c lower, oats ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower and rye ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher.

The break in wheat futures to the lowest figures at this season since 1914 effectively put a stop to selling of new grain in volume by the country, but there was considerable hedging pressure nevertheless, as grain moving on consignment in the Southwest is going largely to terants who use the future market to protect themselves. The four leading southwestern points had 383 cars for the day, making around 1100 cars in four days.

Northwestern markets showed slightly more strength than Chicago due to the rust talk with damage claimed in parts of South Dakota. Winnipeg finished unchanged to ⅛c lower and Minneapolis unchanged to ⅛c lower. Export demand was only fair despite unopposed strength in Liverpool which was unchanged to ⅛d lower at the last. Sales in all positions were 800,000 bushel and Kansas City reported 40,000 bushels sold to the Gulf. At the finish Chicago September was about 3¾c per bushel under Liverpool October.

July seem continues to eat congested, and the posting of 45,000 bushels more No. 2 mixed corn as getting out of condition in Armour elevators A and B failed to have any influence. The market, however, was inactive, selling at 82¼@82⅝c, the latter being within 1c of the best figure of the season and closed at 82¾ to 83c while September was 75¾c, and December 62⅛ to 62¾. Cash corn was in good demand with No. 2 yellow sold at 90c, equaling the high point of the season. The bulge led to increased country offerings with purchases of 150,000 bushels to arrive. Receipts sixty-four cars.

Oats futures held within relatively narrow limits and prices for the deferred deliveries are within a fraction of the low point of the season. July finished at 38¾c, September at 34¾c and December at 36¼. Receipts sixty-six cars.

Germany may buy 12,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels rye before September 15 when the government purchasing commission will be dissolved according to reports from the embassy but the market was not affected. Trade was light and largely of a local character.

LINISENT MAKERS TO FACE OPIUM CHARGE

Ng Sing and Ng Gin, merchants and manufacturers of "magic liniment," of 319 Apablasa street, must face a Federal judge and jury because detectives who raided their place Tuesday found seven cans of genuine Rooster brand smoking opium. Detective Lieutenants Mailheaux, Yarrow and Littlejohn, of the police narcotic squad, yesterday asked Federal narcotic agents to take charge of the case. Complaints asserting violation of the Jones-Miller Narcotic Act, the one with teeth, which calls for the deportation of foreigners convicted of trafficking, were filed against the two Chinese merchants. Ng Sing and Ng Gin already have fines of $500 each for possession of huge quantities of the "liniment," which the police said was nothing but highly-disguished Chinese brandy.

APRICOTS OFFERED FREE TO MOTORISTS

An invitation to the Los Angeles motoring public to pick ripe apricots, as many as it likes, without charge, was extended yesterday by Rex Clark, president of the North Corona Land Company. The company is building the town of Norco, south of Ontario, between Chino and Corona. In its tract is included thirty-five acres of apricot trees, at present loaded with more than 100 tons of ripe fruit. This fruit must be taken from the trees within the next three days. Rather than attempt to market the crop, the company is permitting motor parties to pick all fruit desired. Only dealers and fruit vendors are barred.

AUTO DEATH INQUEST

"It Couldn't Be Done"

Somebody said that it couldn't be done, That
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't" but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried, he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that,
At least no one ever has done it."
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it.
With the lift of his chin, and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quibbling,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure,
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that await to assail you;
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin
Then take off your coat and go to it,
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done" and you'll do it.

BRITISH ATTITUDE SET FORTH

Baldwin Tells Commons That There is Only Single Ground of Divergence on Reparations and That is Methods of Collecting Them

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, July 13.—Prime Minister Baldwin, in his statement on Great Britain's reparation policy in the House of Commons today, laid stress at the start upon the thought that there was but one ground of divergence among the powers concerned with reparations, and that this was as to the best means to attain the ends vital to all—the payment of reparations and the re-establishment of the security of Europe.

The Allies had grudged nothing in the past nor would they grudge anything in the future to insure those ends, he said.

"This responsibility" continued the Prime Minister," is acknowledged and shared in equal measure by France, Italy, Belgium and ourselves. Perhaps it may be held to devolve in more special measure upon the French and British nations by virtue of the great sacrifices they made side by side in the years of trial, by the intimacy of fact and memory which unites them today and, not least, by the experience these two ancient civilizations have shared throughout the centuries.

COMMUNITY OF THOUGHT

"A similar community of thought and action binds us in the present emergency to our other Allies whose interests are in no respect divergent to our own. In a common desire for settlement and pacifications, and still more for no further or unreasonable delay, we can speak together frankly and with the full comprehension of pareners bound by an equal destiny to the same task.

"The whispers of interested parties cannot be allowed on either side of the channel or in any part of Europe to deflect us from that duty by any reservations or by carefully fostered misunderstandings. In all we are about to say or do his majesty's government are moved, as we know the heart of France to be moved—and the same applies equally to our other allies—by the single desire that good will between the nations who have endured together shall be maintained and that each shall obtain what is due her.

"We are as determined as any of our Allies that Germany shall make reparations for the damages done in the great war to the fullest extent of her capacity. We have never wavered on this point; I do not believe our people ever will. Indeed, we go further, and we are ready, as we have said on many occasions, and, as was reported in Paris in January, last, to use every measure to compel Germany to pay up to the amount of her capacity.

CAPACITY TO PAY

"We are conscious, however, as a business nation, that if we ask Germany to pay in excess of her capacity we shall not succeed. We and our Allies will be the main sufferers and we are firmly convinced that methods which can only result in the ruin of Germany would be fatal to this country, to our Allies and to the whole of Europe.

"From the beginning we have made it clear that in our opinion the occupation of the Ruhr was not calculated to produce the maximum amount of reparation payment for the Allies. In January we made in Paris an offer which we regarded as a very generous settlement in order to avoid what seemed to us an economic disaster. That offer was rejected by our Allies, and since then we have stood aside, animated by a spirit of sincere loyalty to the alliance which has been and continues to be, in our opinion, the main security for European peace.

"Many of the consequences which were then anticipated are in course of fulfillment. The Allies are obtaining less reparations than they did before the occupation, and what reparation they are receiving is being exacted at the price of the growing dislocation of the German economic system and, as seems probable, of the future total collapse of the system itself.

DIFFERENCE OF METHOD

"The French and Belgian governments assure us that their whole object in occupying the Ruhr is to secure the payment of reparations. If that be so, the difference between us is one of method rather than aim, but we are convinced that the indefinite continuation of this state of affairs is fraught with grave peril.

"Germany herself appears to be moving fast toward economic chaos which may itself be succeeded by social and industrial ruin. Local populations are in many cases suffering severely, and there are genuine apprehensions of a shortage of food.

"Nor is this a situation that concerns Germany alone. In proportion as the productive power of that country is exhausted so does the recovery of her credit and the payment of her debts recede into the dimmer distance.

"Every country in Europe is paying the price for this condition of affairs. One country pays in a steadily falling exchange, another in diminished trade, a third in increasing unemployment. If we were called upon to state or defend the case of our own country alone we could without difficulty demonstrate the serious effect already produced upon British trade.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

In spite of very great expenditure by the state (the figure is some £400,000,000 since the armistice,) we still have unemployment on a large scale in this country. Not only does our devastation continue instead of being repaired, but it continues increasingly as the moral effects spread among our people.

"Public opinion throughout Europe, and not the least in Great Britain, is becoming more and more sensitive to these conditions and alarmed at their continuance. It is not too much to say that the recovery of the world is in danger and that the peace for which so many sacrifices were borne is at stake.

"It is in these circumstances that the necessity for action has been increasingly impressed upon his majesty's government. The exchange of friendly conversations, useful as they are, does not appear to lead in all cases to positive results. It is becoming evident that the attitude of the principal parties coscerned must be more clearly defined.

"If the situation has been at all correctly described in the preceding paragraphs, it cannot be left to right itself. There will, I believe, be a general agreement to these propositions:

"That the period of conflict should as soon as possible be terminated;

"That the indefinite occupation by one country of the territory of another in time of peace is a phenomenon, rare and regrettable in itself, to which an honorable end should as soon as possible be found;

"That the debtor should not merely be called upon to pay his debt but should be placed in a position where he can do so;

"That his capacity, where it is in doubt, should be tested and determined and that united efforts should be made to accomplish these ends.

"Peace will not be finally obtained and recovery will not be accomplished until a solution has been found to these three great questions. They are:

(1) "Payment of reparations;

(2) "Settlement of inter-allied debts;

(3) "Security of a pacified Europe.

"To these questions the attention of the world should be turned.

"In pursuit of these aims, his majesty's government are so far from desiring to deprive France and Belgium of their claim that they wish to assist them in their realization. Our desire is for advance, if it can be made, and for finality, if it can be obtained and in these aspirations, as well as in our view of the general situation, we are hopeful of obtaining the concurrence of France and Belgium no less than that of Italy."

STEPS TO BE TAKEN

"Indeed, we have every reason to believe that the views of the Italian government are in substantial agreement with our own. What then are the steps which we think ought to be taken?

"The German note of June 7, in reply to the definite suggestion which was addressed to the German government, proposed an investigation of Germany's capacity to pay by an impartial body coupled with an engagement to pay the amounts determined in the manner that might be proposed. It further contained the offer of a series of concrete guarantees.

"We are unable to agree that correspondence of this nature on matters affecting the interests of all should be wholly one-sided or that proposals which may be found to contain in themselves germs of a possible settlement should be treated with indifference.

SHOULD BE EXAMINED

"We hold that they should be examined and explored in order that we may discover whether there lies within them a possibility of progress. Understanding that the French and Belgian governments are not disposed to take the initiative in suggesting a reply—although we would gladly have welcomed any such action on their part—we have informed those governments as also the Italian government, that we are willing to assume the responsibility of preparing a draft reply ourselves.

"Adhering, however, as we do to the view which we expressed on the last occasion, that united action is better than separate or isolated action, we shall submit the reply with the least possible loss of time to our Allies for their thoughtful consideration for we indulge in the hope that we may be able to arrive at agreement with them on the terms.

"What the exact nature of the reply should be, it would be premature to discuss at the present stage.

NOT WITHOUT HOPE

"In formulating these views, His Majesty's government are not without hope that they will be expressing the Allied sentiments as well as our own. We do not believe that in principle we are widely separated, if at all, from them. Divergence of method should not be incapable of resolution."

Referring to the position of the Allies, Baldwin said the exchange of friendly conversations had not appeared to lead to positive results and it was becoming evident that the attitude of the principal parties must be more clearly defined. He held that the debtor should not merely be called upon to pay his debt, but should be placed in a position to do so.

In conclusion, Baldwin said:

"So far as united action is possible we shall continue to pursue it. We shall confidently invite the sympathetic consideration of the whole of our Allied and associated states to proposals which will have no other aim than the pacification of Europe and the recovery of an exhausted world."

SECOND MURDER TRIAL

ATTEMPT TO SAVE ENTENTE

Count von Bernstorff, counsel for the German Embassy, a nephew of Germany's prewar Ambassador to the United States. He seemed highly pleased with the Prime Minister's statement and particularly at the way it was received by the House. He had every reason to be pleased, for this is the first time there has been public hearing to restore German to a place among the nations of Europe.

DIFFERENCE IN METHODS

After the usual compliments to France and polite phrases about the necessity of the alliance, the Prime Minister declared the difference between France and England was not in the aim, but in the method. Both desired to get relations restored in Europe and a security of peace, but he made it clear that Great Britain differed gravely from France on the method, and he believed the French method was not only ineffective, but destructive, for these aims. He then referred to the German note of June 7, proposing an international commission to determine Germany's capacity to pay.

"We do not think this suggestion should be ignored," he said.

Baldwin's declaration that Italy agreed with the British view received a low roll of cheering, as indeed every reference to a restoration of peace and trade and every statement about the futility of the French policy did.

Loud cheers greeted the announcement that, as France and Belgium did not seem inclined to take the initiative in replying to the German note, Great Britain had decided to do so and it would submit a draft of the note to the Allies for consultation and comment before sending it to Germany.

There was a curious incident at the end of the speech. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, who had asked a formal question to which the statement was in reply, got up and declared it was the sincere hope of himself and all his followers that the Prime Minister would be successful. He then asked three questions:

First, would the drafting of the note to Germany be done immediate?

Second, would the text of the draft be communicated to the United States, if only for information.

Third, would an opportunity be given for discussion of it in the House?

The Prime Minister replied yes to question one and three without hesitation, but about two he mumbled something inaudible and sat down. McDonald repeated question number two, to which Baldwin replied:

"I don't know. I would rather the question be repeated tomorrow."

KEEP AMERICA INFORMED

I learn the British opinion is that a formal communication to the United States would be irregular, as the United States is not interested in reparations, but if the American Embassy asks for a copy of course it will be supplied.

The draft of the reply to Germany probably will be ready about Tuesday, and it will be sent to the Allies immediately. How long they will take to consider it is not known, but it is hoped the reply will be ready to send to Germany about the end of the month.

Baldwin's statement is almost as important in what he left unsaid as in what he said. It is distinctly implied that if France and Belgium are not willing to join the English views England will proceed alone and accept the plan of an international commission for which an American chairman is still talked about.

I have never seen the House so united since the war. The cheers for Baldwin came equally from Labor and the high Tory benches. There was not the least sign of dissent throughout the whole speech and not even an effort after MacDonald sat down to put supplementary questions, his being put solely in the interest of clearness.

The Prime Minister read carefully, pronouncing each word somewhat as a schoolboy reads a lesson. So careful was he not to stray from the literal text of the statement that every word was heard clearly throughout the House and galleries.

SUIT TO RECOVER FOR ACCIDENT IS DROPPED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VISALIA, July 13.—Suit of Polk McPherson against J. C. Walling, owner of the Valley Transit Company, scheduled to open before Superior Judge Wallace this morning, in which McPherson sought $25,000 damages for an auto stage collision on the State highway north of Tulare., May 26, 1922, was not called as expected. The accident occurred in a smoke cloud which blew over the highway from the Southern Pacific right of way, where workmen were burning weeds. Settlement out of court is understood to have been made.

REVIEW CLARK'S ARREST

Name of Los Angeles Man is Again Brought into Mann Murder Case Trial

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, July 12.—The name of Rogers V. B. Clark of Los Angeles was again brought into the trial of Capt. Louis Jacobs today, when Attorney Schenck of the defense sought to prove that Clark made contradictory statements to Los Angeles police when the mystery surrounding the death of the dancing girl, Fritzi Mann, first was being investigated.

Clark was under arrest in the early days of the mystery but later was released when he produced what appeared to be an air-tight alibi. Jacobs's arrest took place a few days later.

Detective Trainer of the Los Angeles police force, told of the interview with Clark in Los Angeles when the latter asserted he had spent the night of Sunday, January 14, at the Maryland Hotel with a man named Hensel. Trainer said that Hensel, when brought to Los Angeles City Jail, denied that he had seen Clark at the hotel after about 7.30 o'clock Sunday night; that Hensel had said Clark went downstairs from the Maryland Hotel to telephone to a friend and that Hensel never saw Clark until the next morning.

On cross-examination by the State, Trainer admitted that Clark had finally proved his alibi and had also shown that the blood on his automobile was that of a man injured in an accident near Los Angeles and that Clark had taken the man to a receiving hospital.

Testimony wis given by Maj. Harry Cohen, head of the medical service at Camp Kearny, and also by Miss Jane M. Landrey, chief dietitian at the hospital.

Miss Landrey said when she returned from a trip to San Diego on Sunday night, January 14, about midnight that she saw Jacobs's car parked in the garage.

David W. Rannells, garage man, who testified as a prosecution witness at the former trial but who was first called as a defense witness in the present trial, today again went over his testimony regarding the finding of the body of Fritzi Mann on the beach. The witness varied only in slight details from statements made at the former trial and excused any changes by saying his memory was not so certain at present.

BEACH MAN AND WOMAN CONVICTED

Couple Taken in Raid on Apartment Found Guilty of Immorality

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12.—Francis J. Hawkins, motion-picture distributor, and vice-president of the Producers' Security Corporation of New York, arrested some weeks ago in company with Mrs. Edna Nagles on a charge of immorality, was found guilty by Police Judge Hawkins today and fined $50. He was also given a ninety-day suspended sentence.

Mrs. Nagles also was found guilty of the charge and was given a ninety-day sentence in the City Jail. This was later revoked on the plea that she has a daughter, 4 years of age, whom she must support.

The couple were arrested by Long Beach police on May 27, last, in a raid on the apartment of Mrs. Nagles. At the time it was charged that Hawkins and the woman were living together as man and wife, although Hawkins is married.

A few days after the arrest of her husband, Mrs. Hawkins filed suit for separate maintenance, naming Mrs. Nagles in her complaint.

Negro Boy Saves Rancher's Young Son From Death

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, July 12.—Jim MacDonald, a negro boy of Ventura, saved Clifford Murphy, 10-year-old son of a rancher on the Ojai Road, from a horrible death.

Clifford was driving a hay rake and the team ran away. The teeth of the rake were in such a position that there was no chance for the little fellow to jump from the seat. He clung to his precarious perch as the horses raced to the top of the Ojai Hill. J. P. Gray, a rancher, saw the runaway at some distance and ran to give aid.

Then young MacDonald, coming along the road, met them. Without hesitation he jumped from the rig he was driving. He was too late to catch the horses by the head, but he reached through the rake and seized the reins, finally bringing the horses to a standstill.

"I expected every minute to see the Murphy boy cut to death," Gray said. He owes his life to young MacDonald.

TRAINING TELLS ON GUARDSMEN

First Week Shows Up Weak and Strong

More Efficiency Noted as Days Go By

Long Beach Company Leads With Credits

BY MAJ. JOSPEH P. McQUAIDE

The end of our first week of camp has brought out what was strong and weak in the men individually and as organized units. It is no mere formality to say that all the companies have done well considering things as a whole. Some, of course, stand out perhaps more strongly.

So here, there is a notion among officers and enlisted men that every day in every way they are becoming more efficient.

As early as Wednesday, last, when the Governor's party was here, the men demonstrated how fit they were becoming. The honors at handling the mortar and gun batteries were divided between San Francisco, San Pedro and Long Beach.

CITIZENS LINK INTEREST

We have an idea that one of the reasons for the lack of interest on the part of the citizens in the National Guard is that they do not see the boys in action. To read a small item or two now and then in the papers, describing a little social function, or to see them parading on a holiday, creates little or no interest on the part of the people. With this in mind we suggest that means should be considered whereby near-by communities might be encouraged to attend the closing days of encampments.

Next to firing off the mortars and guns with real ammunition, the subcaliber practice done would repay a visit to the batteries during the encampment days. Guard mounts and reviews might be advertised. We have never met one yet who did not like to look at a military parade with martial music accompanying. It sort of gets under the skin.

The review last Wednesday drew quite an audience. It was on the parade-ground proper of Fort MacArthur. There is no exaggeration to say that it was the best review we have ever seen done by guardsmen.

RECORD COMPANY

Among the interesting notes heard about the camp yesterday was the record that is being made by the 467th Company of Long Beach. It has made good in artillery firing; went on the records in the usual way of points and credits. The company made such a showing at guard-mounting, and in the policing of their quarters that two vacancies in the squad of four who carry and guard the colors were given the Long Beach men and yet there were so many men of merit to qualify for the coveted positions in the color guard that Capt. Barranger of the company was obliged to have a competitive drill with the result that Privates Osburne and Sweitzer were chosen. This company is another instance of "Tell me who's your captain and I'll tell you what you are." Capt. Barranger is one of the stamp who, during the late war, went overseas as a buck private and returned a commissioned officer in the engineers. He is happily and decidedly helped by Lieuts. Butterfield and Howard.

We have begun looking over the enlisted-men personnel to see how many ex-service men are on the roster of the regiment. We intend to give the matter the proper publicity, which will be good for all to know.

Tomorrow the physical tests, as ordered by the War Department, will be undergone. These tests are more of the nature of outdoor games, principally those of sprinting, broad and high jumping and vaulting. An athletic officer has been appointed to supervise these tests.

A challenge game of baseball between a nine from a San Diego company and one from San Francisco will be played on Sunday morning. The company of Capt. Mallett is chosen to represent the north and looks to cop the prize offered. Jack Gardinar will captain the team.

The Woman Power of America is well illustrated by the thousands of women who are entering every profession, almost every line of business and politics as well. They are bound to make good, and there is no question but what health is their greatest asset. Many women, however, develop weak, nervous conditions and cannot stand the strain of a professional or business life. Such women should remember when beset with headaches, backache, nervousness, irritability or any ailment peculiar to their sex that the greatest of all remedies for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring the women of America to health and strength. It holds the remarkable record of helping 98 out of every 100 women who try it.—(Advertisement.

LOST CHILD-WIFE ARRESTED

Seattle Bride Whose Husband Was Arrested After Her Disappearance, Found at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 12.—A search of six months for a 16-year-old wife whose husband in Seattle was held in connection with her disappearance, ended yesterday with the discovery in Long Beach of Mrs. Elma Joffery, alias Elma Niemi, alias Dolores Kennedy.

The girl was arrested at the Hotel Ascot here in company with a man who gave his name as R. Williams. She told her story to Probation Officer Agnes Stillson.

Rather than risk being sent back to the Washington State School for Incorrigible Girls, the girl wife admitted that she had kept silent when she read in newspapers that she was believed to be dead and that her husband was under arrest in connection with her mysterious disappearance.

Dispatches from Seattle tonight stated that Marcus Joffery, proprietor of a chili parlor, was arrested in January. He told police that he had married the girl December 23, 1922, after knowing her only two days. He insisted that five days after the marriage he had put the girl on the train with a ticket to Portland, where she had a sister.

While police were inclined not to believe his story, no definite charge was lodged against him. During the investigation, however, information developed which caused statutory charges to be made against him in connection with three other young girls. He was acquitted on one charge and two are still pending.

That his story to police was true, however, is indicated by the story his girl-wife told here today.

She declared her father is a well-to-do hotel proprietor in Aberdeen and that she was sent to the State school after a series of escapades in Aberdeen.

After a brief stay at the school, she said she escaped on December 16, fled to Seattle and there married Joffery. After five days of married life, she said she left him and ran away to Oakland.

"Then I read in the paper that my husband was accused of murdering me," she said. "But I knew if I went back, they would send me to the school again. So I kept still. I didn't care about him, anyway. I stayed in San Francisco several months and then came to Long Beach."

The girl and Williams were arrested by Detective Sergt. Murphy and Special Officer Imbros on charges of violating the city moral ordinance. Hearing was set for the 16th inst.

NEW ATTRACTIONS ADD TO CROWDS AT EXPOSITION

Public Takes Advantage of Chance to Visit Park Before Last Minute Rush Begins

Drawn by the welcome news that the promoters of the affair have put a generous portion of real zip and snap into their offering, a larger crowd than has attended the show any day recently, swarmed to the Motion Picture Exposition and Monroe Doctrine Centennial last night.

The "wiseacres" in the show business who have been guiding the destinies of the Exposition attributed the large attendance not only to the addition of new sideshow attractions but also to the awakening of the public to the fact that now is the time to see the show in comfort before the last-minute rush begins. They came by lone couples and whole families yesterday. Trooping along the Rue de la Paix the crowds visited the numerous bungalow studios built on the grounds by the various motion-picture companies, took a whirl at the interesting industrial exhibits, the historical displays and wound up at the great Coliseum.

CROWDS SEE SHOW

The three-hour show being held in the Coliseum played to one of its biggest crowds last night. The rough spots in the presentation of this unique entertainment having been ironed out by repeated performances, it came off last night at its best. The show is a rare combination of vaudeville, pageantry, circus stuff and cowboy sports.

Each number on the program got a healthy "hand" from the great crowd of spectators last night. The Indian pageant, George Washington and his colonial troops; Abraham Lincoln and the rest of them continue to please the crowds. The great Pendee vaudeville troupe and the acrobats also are good for a large share in the applause.

DANCERS PLEASE

Theodore Kosloff and his eighty dancers in the ballet number ran off with bouquets last night. The Kosloff number is considered one of the best ballet offerings staged locally in some time. It was learned yesterday that negotiations are under way to take the entire troupe to Mexico City for a ten weeks' engagement immediately at the close of the Exposition. The offer is said to have come direct from the Mexican capital.

The daytime attractions at the Exposition are proving to be unusually popular. Yesterday was Child Welfare Day, dedicated to

CENTENNIAL ENTERTAINS 'TIMES' BOYS

More Than 300 Carriers Will be Given Freedom of Grounds Tonight

More than 300 carrier boys of the Los Angeles Times circulation staff will be guests of the Monroe Centennial and Motion-Picture Exposition this evening.

The boys, including carriers from Pasadena, Long Beach, Hollywood, Alhambra, San Pedro, Redondo, Venice, Santa Monica and other Southland cities, will be given the freedom of the entire exposition, including the pageant and entertainment in the coliseum, motion-picture shows, fireworks display and all the other countless attractions which the exposition has to offer.

The party will begin at 7 o'clock when the carriers assemble at the exposition gates, and will end only when the big show closes for the evening.

The entertainment is to be the opening gun in the announcement of a campaign of training to be conducted by The Times. According to C. J. McDonald of The Times circulation staff, $5000 in gold will be given away to the carrier boys during the months of July, August and September.

The course of training is intended to school the carriers in salesmanship, with the object of developing future salesmen for The Times organization.

Executives of The Times circulation staff, and representatives of the exposition forces will poin in entertaining the carriers.

The program for the evening which the visitors will see includes an animal novelty act to be staged by the Mack Sennett studios, with the famous motion-picture dogs, Teddy and Cameo, as the performers. This act, together with the regular pageant and entertainment program, will be staged in the coliseum.

COUNCIL THANKS AUTHOR

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution thanking J. R. Prince of the City Engineering Department for his preparation of a pamphlet entitled "Guide for the Preparation of Subdivisions of Land," which is deemed a valuable work in practical city planning. The booklet was prepared for the Regional Planning Conference, and is being distributed through the County Supervisor's office.

MAYOR ASKS WIDER POWER

Cryer Presents Recommendations for New Charter in Address to Board of Freeholders

The present Los Angeles charter was depicted as a somewhat rickety, ramshackle, inadequate and antiquated document by Mayor Cryer last night in an address to the Board of Freeholders. The Mayor not only outlined his objections to the existing charter, but presented specific recommendations for the proposed new charter.

He advocated the centralizing of executive power in the office of Mayor, thus assuring, he said, "not only centralization of power, but centralization of responsibility."

Other recommendations of the Mayor contemplate:

Creation of the office of a Commissioner of Police and the office of a commissioner to administer the affairs of the fire department, the two officials to form, with other department heads, a cabinet to confer on all municipal affairs with the Mayor.

Abolition of the power of City Council to confirm or reject the Mayor's appointees.

ON CITY PURCHASES

Abolition of power of Council to purchase supplies and materials and transfer of such duties to a City Purchasing Agent, "who shall be an expert."

All of Mayor's appointees to serve during term of Mayor or "at the pleasure" of the Mayor, "thus assuring appointment or retention of officials in sympathy with policies of the executive." Under the present charter, the Mayor explained, the city's chief executive serves for a term of two years, whereas the mayoralty appointees serve for terms of four years.

The Mayor of Los Angeles under the present charter, Mr. Cryer said, "is a mere figurehead and it is impossible for him, under the limitations imposed, to carry out any constructive policy." The charter permits six Councilmen, he said, to govern the city in such fashion as they may decree within legal limits, ignoring the wishes of Mayor and all other city officials.

Drawing attention to the fact that the Mayor of Los Angeles has no right to participate in the deliberations and conclusions of the Council, Mayor Cryer said, however, "the Council seems to take the Mayor's veto as a personal affront despite the fact the Mayor has no chance to pass upon the Council's acts until adopted measures are presented to him."

And in the matter of contracts approved by the Council, said the Mayor, the lack of executive authority or responsibility is even more pronounced, refusal of the Mayor to approve a contract presented to him by the Council merely resulting in the designation by the Council, under the charter, of

WOBBLIES ZERO HOUR IS FIZZLE

Less Than 300 Are Out in Harbor Strike

Ships at Full Capacity and No Tie-up Feared

Peterson Says Reds Should be Eliminated

The first day of the five-day general sympathy strike of the I.W.W. at Los Angeles Harbor passed yesterday without an untoward incident. It was a decided fizzle. Instead of the solid walkout of the 3000 workers which the Wobbly spellbinders forecast on Liberty Hill Wednesday night, less than 300 longshoremen pocketed their cargo hooks at 10 a.m.—the zero hour. Aside from the 100 sailors and firemen who quit on coastwise lumber craft in port, there was nothing to indicate that marine workers of the local port are in sympathy with the twenty-seven convicted Red leaders who today begin prison terms in San Quentin.

The service bureau of the Shipowners' Association, through which all marine workers are employed, carried a surplus yesterday of approximately 300 longshoremen with waterfront conditions normal. Desultory attempts at picketing were attempted by the Wobblies, but these were broken up by the police, now operating under increased personnel.

Seventy-five patrolmen from central division in charge of Inspector Charles A. Jackson were added yesterday morning to the division in command of Capt. Clyde I. Plummer. Special attention will be directed to the policing of wharves and all waterfront property during the strike, Capt. Plummer said.

Capt. Walter J. Peterson, general manager of the service bureau of the Shipowners' Association, has assumed charge of the employment situation. An apathetic attitude on the part of citizens of this city and at Los Angeles Harbor is responsible for present conditions at the port, Capt. Peterson declared.

"There is no other port on the Pacific Coast where these Reds are permitted to congregate and spread their inflammatory doctrines as they do here on Liberty Hill with such a free rein," Capt. Peterson said. "This port is becoming notorious on both coasts as a Wobbly hotbed, simply because this red-hued windjamming is permitted.

"We have the Reds under our thumb; they can't hurt our industries, but such a condition as the one we have here today annoys us," he continued. "Our shipping pay roll here totals $600,000 monthly, a big item toward the commercial prosperity of this port.

"But if these Wobblies are permitted to carry out their plans and spread their insidious propaganda unmolested, we can easily divert our lumber and our freight ships to San Francisco. It's up to the people of Los Angeles to clean up this harbor."

The shipping interests anticipate no tie-up of coastwise shipping, according to Capt. Peterson, as a result of walkouts by seamen and firemen.

WOBBLIES AT SAN QUENTIN

Group of Twenty-Seven Placed in Prison, Largest Number in Eighteen Years

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN QUENTIN, July 12.—The cold gray doors of the prison tonight clanged shut on the twenty-seven convicted wobblies brought from Los Angeles today. Their official terms of from one to fourteen years begins at midnight.

The wobblies, with N. O. Gaard, convicted of grand larceny, left Los Angeles at an early hour this morning. The trip was sprung as a surprise just twelve hours ahead of scheduled leaving, in order that the threat uttered by sympathizers during the trial might not be carried out.

Extreme precautions were taken all along the route. A heavily guarded private car with a heavy force of deputies all the way and an additional force of San Francisco police from the station to the Ferry Building made the task a safe, if not an easy, one.

Chief of Police O'Brien himself led the squad in San Francisco. The waterfront had, at his orders, been cleared of loafers and no word of sympathy met the wobblies' song and shouts, though, had they come on scheduled time, they would, they say, have received an ovation at the Ferry Building.

Details of the trip were guarded and arrangements were made to take special precautions along the route. The transportation was under the personal supervision of David L. Larimer, superintendent of Los Angeles constabulary, and arrangements were made by him to guard the car at all points, to cut out all but the necessary stops for water and for a special force of police to meet the train in San Francisco to escort to the ferry.

The wobblies were roused at the usual time in the jail on Thursday morning. One by one their names were called, they were led downstairs and told that they were "on their way."

MISSING GIRL IS FOUND IN STUDIO

Leota Bray, Sought by Her Parents, is Here

Declares Relatives Are by Adoption Only

Begs to be Allowed to Stay in Film Work

The story of a girl's flight from her supposed parents in Tacoma, Wash., to a good position as motion-picture extra in Los Angeles was related to deputy sheriffs last night by Leota Rosemont Bray, 17 years of age.

The girl was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Fox, after a month's search, living with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southern of 910 West Thirty-second street.

After her discovery, the girl pleaded to be allowed to stay at work in the studios, insisting that Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bray, who say they are her parents, are really not relatives at all. However, she was held in the juvenile department of the County Jail.

The girl declared that Mr. and Mrs. Bray had left her behind in Deadwood, S. D., to attend school, after they went to Tacoma and that Mrs. Alice Plummer, wife of a prominent Deadwood attorney, told her that she had been taken from an orphanage by the Brays and called their own daughter.

Believing this story, the girl said she refused to join her supposed parents in Tacoma, as they directed, and instead came to Los Angeles. She quickly found work in the studios. On June 24, last, Mr. Bray made a trip here in search of the girl and set the deputies to work. Deputy Fox finally traced her.

Motorist Hit by Pacific Electric Car Badly Hurt

Roy Troub, 30 years of age, of 6712 Leland Way, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday when his automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric Gardner Junction car at the intersection of Hollywood Boulevard and Las Palmas avenue, Hollywood.

The victim was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where physicians stated he was suffering from internal injuries and concussion of the brain. Little hope is held out for his recovery.

Troub attempted to stop his automobile when he saw the Pacific Electric car bearing down on him, but the machine skidded directly in front of the oncoming street car. The automobile was carried for a distance of sixty feet by the street car, and was totally wrecked. Motorman W. S. Schmidt and Conductor P. S. Steg were in charge of the street car.

LEGION MAN RAPS VOTE SLACKERS

Citizens Who do Not Use Franchise Are Dangerous, Says Adjt. Bolles

"The man or woman who does not register and who does not vote, is a peace-time slacker, more dangerous, more insidious than any slacker who was hunted in wartime," declared Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, in the course of an address before Los Angeles Post No. 5 last evening.

Adjutant Bolles is making a two-day stop in Los Angeles on an itinerary which has taken him from Legion headquarters in Indianapolis to San Francisco, southward and eastward via this city and El Paso and then north to Indiana, with incidental stops en route for the purpose of inspecting posts and injecting into the membership some of the boundless pep and enthusiasm of which he is possessed.

The primary object of his visit to San Francisco was to confer on matters relative to the national convention to be held here next year. An important part of his stop here was a conference with Thomas H. Ince relative to several motion-picture productions in which the Legion is interested and which are being made under the supervision of Mr. Ince.

Mr. Bolles's reference to politics formed a part in a series of five cardinal points which he declared are being promulgated and stressed by the Legion throughout America.

During his Southern California visit today, Adjutant Bolles was taken on an auto tour of posts in this vicinity and these will be continued tomorrow.

State Trolley Men Will Hear Safety Papers

The first meeting of the newly created superintendents' committee and publicity committee of the California Electric Railway Association will be held this morning in the Pacific Electric Club, adjoining the Hill-street depot. This afternoon the party will ride to Torrance in a special car to inspect the Pacific Electric shops.

Ex-Policeman is Found Innocent in Murder Case

The case of W. A. Cornelius, former police officer, accused of the murder of Gilbert Greenwell, was placed in the jury's hands in Justice Cole's department of Superior Court at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. After an hour and a half the jury returned a verdict of acquittal.

The shooting took place January 14, last, on a street corner where Greenwell and the police officer, who was off duty, quarreled. According to Cornelius, Greenwell reached for his pocket as though to draw a weapon and he fired in self-defense. At the first trial, several weeks ago, the jury disagreed.

MAYOR PRESENTS CHARTER PLANS

some official willing to sign the document.

Mayor Cryer assured the freeholders that "it is folly to designate the boundaries of the city, as is done by the present charter; for any specific definition will be obsolete before the people can have an opportunity to vote on the charter." The Mayor indicated that "civil service very often is a severe handicap," and he advocated "considerable latitude in the appointive power." At the conclusion of his remarks he was given a vote of thanks by his auditors.

SUB-COMMITTEE REPORTS

The board's sub-committee on the proposed form of government to be provided by the new charter submitted a report in which it was recommended "that the form of administration provided in the new charter shall be that known as the Mayor and Council form, with emphasis upon the necessity for adequate executive power in the office of Mayor." On motion of Mrs. Tolhurst, chairman of the committee, the freeholders voted to consider this recommendation at the regular meeting of the board the 26th inst.

The secretary was instructed to invite the heads of all city departments to prepare recommendations for submission to the charter builders, and provision was made to hear a number of department heads at next Thursday's meeting.

Freeholder E. P. Clark, who was absent in Europe at the time of the recent municipal election, and who returned to Los Angeles several days ago, attended last night's meeting and, upon invitation from the chairman, former Judge Robert M. Clarke, spoke briefly of his observation of the operation of municipal affairs in England and France.

ASKS POLICE HELP; FINDS LOVER DEAD

Heartbroken because a rival suitor kept telling her she would never wed Mike Fernandes, her sweetheart, who for nearly a week has been missing from his home at 800 Mission Road, Miss Delphina Granados, 813 Laurel street, a pretty Mexican girl, went to the Central Police Station to see if they couldn't locate Fernandes for her. She always had believed Fernandes among the living, although the rival suitor had told her he was dead.

The police showed her a photograph of an unidentified man who, on the 6th inst., had been found at the end of LeRoy street, Los Angeles River bottom, with nineteen stab wounds in his body and his throat cut from ear to ear. Half fainting, she said the picture was a likeness of Fernandes.

She was accompanied by J. P. Martinez, who had roomed with Fernandes at the Mission Road address. He also identified the picture.

The police are now investigating the cause of Fernandes's death.

Later the hulk of the City of Honolulu, a menace to navigation, was sunk by shots from the U. S. S. Shawnee.

Mayor Cryer said in part:

"On this occasion it becomes my privilege to voice what I believe to be the sentiments of the people of Los Angeles and Southern California, an expression of our responsiveness to a fine example of American heroism, loyalty to duty and acceptance of responsibility by three young men, which resulted in saving the lives of some 250 of our people, and an appreciation of the miracle of radio communication, the instrument through which their loyalty and faithfulness was manifested.

"We marvel at the scientific achievement, but we remember, too, that without the human soul, these inventions would be of little use. We are here to pay a slight tribute to these stalwart young Americans whose intrepidity made effective the work that science had instructed to them."

"There are thirty-six syndicalist prisoners now at San Quentin in solitary confinement," said Mr. Mullins. "All thirty-six refused to work. Those who left this morning will be accorded the same treatment if they likewise refuse."

Why Not Feel Youthful —and Be Beautiful

Science Offers You Lyko, the Great General Tonic to Give You Health, Strength, Attraction

Men who win in business and women whose beauty and charm make them popular in society are invariably healthy people. It is health which gives the vivacious spirits, the sparkling eyes and the attractive personality which brings success and makes friends.

Thousands of people have awakened to the importance of keeping the body in normal condition and have found wonderful help in Lyko, the great general tonic.

Take, for instance, Mr. Mitchell Murray, well known in northern Missouri. Mr. Murray writes, "When I began to take Lyko I was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. Now I am able to do a pretty fair day's work and my neighbors are surprised at the effect."

Mr. W. L. Lawler of Alabama says: "This is one of the greatest tonics for vitality, digestion and liver trouble. A general rebuilder for run-down persons. It made me an entirely new man at 55. I feel like I am only 30 years of age today."

These are only two out of the multitudes of letters from grateful people who have recovered their strength and energy by the aid of Lyko and who recommend it as the best medicine they have ever used to restore the system to a healthy state.

The amazing power of Lyko to quickly build up run-down conditions is due to the fact that it supplies to the system those vitalizing elements which are lacking in the body and which cause ill health. Lyko contains the general tonic properties of Cascara, Iron, Nux Vomica, Pepsin, Gentian, Aloes, Ginger, Glycerine, Saw Palmetto, Cardamon, Cinnamon, Peppermint, Anise, Caraway, Fennel, Coriander, Cassia, Cloves, Nutmeg, Sassafras, Quassia, Capsicum, Calamus, Cubeb, Juniper, Buchu, Uva Ursi, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Cinchona, Colchicum, Gentian, Rhubarb, Dandelion, Burdock, Stillingia, Poke Root, Prickly Ash, Mandrake, Blue Flag, Yellow Dock, Queen's Delight, Red Clover, Licorice, Wahoo, Sodium Salicylate, Potassium Iodide, Lithia, Sodium Phosphate, Sodium Bicarbonate, Sodium Sulphate, Sodium Chloride, Magnesium Sulphate, Magnesium Oxide, Calcium Carbonate, Calcium Phosphate, Ferrous Sulphate, Ferrous Carbonate, Ferrous Phosphate, Ferrous Iodide, Ferrous Arsenate, Ferrous Citrate, Ferrous Lactate, Ferrous Tartrate, Ferrous Oxalate, Ferrous Gluconate, Ferrous Hypophosphite, Ferrous Pyrophosphate, Ferrous Ammonium Citrate, Ferrous Ammonium Sulphate, Ferrous Ammonium Phosphate, Ferrous Ammonium Oxalate, Ferrous Ammonium Tartrate, Ferrous Ammonium Lactate, Ferrous Ammonium Gluconate, Ferrous Ammonium Hypophosphite, Ferrous Ammonium Pyrophosphate, Ferrous Ammonium Citrate, Ferrous Ammonium Sulphate, Ferrous Ammonium Phosphate, Ferrous Ammonium Oxalate, Ferrous Ammonium Tartrate, Ferrous Ammonium Lactate, Ferrous Ammonium Gluconate, Ferrous Ammonium Hypophosphite, Ferrous Ammonium Pyrophosphate.

The recital by Juan Aguilar's artist pupils yesterday afternoon was a credit to the teacher. Mr. Aguilar commands the respect of the public and his fellow-musicians. He is organist for the Sacred Heart Church and pianist and arranger for Boos Brothers' orchestras. In addition he has won note as a composer.

ARTISTS TAKE TURNS

One of his finest selections, a nocturne, was played by Myrtle Perriseau. It is a musical mood of serene beauty, tracing the velvety canopy of night, flecked with stars, depicting soft murmurs and impressing the mysterious shadows of a woodland. Two Schumann numbers were also given by Miss Perriseau.

Alice Bray's pianistic excellence was displayed in "Sonata," by Grieg, (a) allegro, (b) andante molto, (c) minuetto ma poco pin lento, (d) finale, molto allegro. She rendered the sonata with fine melody and ease.

Rose O'Connor showed a partiality for the songscrapes of W. A. Quinke. She gave a melodic picture of "The Distant Lake" and "Drifting Clouds."

Henrietta Peralta's renditions were "At Morn," by Godard, and "Valse in D Flat," by Chopin, pleasingly and accurately interpreted.

Rose Marias favored with "Ventilenne," by Godard, acquitting herself skillfully.

Carmen Navarro played "The Mill Race," by Quinke, and "Ballade in G Minor," by Chopin, both admirably presented.

Manuel Navarro gave a splendid rendition of "Etude in G Minor," by Moszkowski, and "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 11," by Liszt.

TWO SONGS PLEASE

Maria Peralta, a soprano whose voice it was a pleasur eto hear, sang during the noon and matinee broadcast periods. Her songs were "Where My Caravan Has Rested," by Lohr, and "Sognai," by Schira.

The children's program was delightfully entertaining, featuring George "Buddy" Hamilton, 3 years of age, and George P. Pros, Jr., pianist, 9 years of age, a pupil of Sigrid Mulligardt.

"Buddy" Hamilton sang popular numbers as only a 3-year-old can sing them. George Pros gave piano selections for his young friends, playing "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell, and "March," by Bach.

Uncle John of KHJ Honored in Radio Magazine

Radio Doings, a weekly magazine devoted to the news and development of radio, published in Los Angeles, issued its anniversary number this week. Contained in its pages are three likenesses of Uncle John, announcer of KHJ, The Times. One shows him surrounded by the lads and lassies who entertain listeners-in, another is a sketch by an admirer and the third shows him in his best "off the air" pose.

Radio Doings boasts the youngest editor of a regularly issued magazine in the country. He is R. A. Horwood, 19 years of age. He announced in the last issue that the publication would be doubled in size in order more fully to cooperate with broadcast stations and radio dealers in Southern California. Schedules of programs for local and near-by broadcast stations are published a week in advance.

THE BETTER PART

There is a strong feeling in certain circles that if the Filipinos were highly competent for self-government they wouldn't want it.

NOT YET READY

Advices from Hollywood assert that we are still a long ways from the return of the nickel movies. The high cost of actors is a stumbling block in the path.

MORE WORRY AHEAD

Even water has gone up in price since the Eighteenth Amendment went in. At least many towns and corporations have raised their rates. We may yet have a bone-dry country.

THE HOME BUILDERS

At last we are catching up on houses. It is possible for some of the fresh arrivals to have a choice of two opportunities for shelter. In most cases the families have been camping in front waiting for the painters to move out. Folks are now breathing easier.

THE INCOGNITO

The Prince of Wales is going to visit Canada this fall, but is coming over as a private citizen. It is not to be an official tour of the heir to the British throne. It is a safe prediction that some of those keen-eyed Canadians will recognize the Prince in spite of his disguise.

THE BEST POLICY

It having been demonstrated that persons who deliberately plot to defraud the government in their income-tax returns may be sent to prison for a term of years the average citizen will proceed to check himself up and decide to tote fair with Uncle Sam. It pays to be square, even if there is sometimes a feeling that it is not being appreciated.

STILL LOSING

Almost everybody went broke on the Dempsey fight except Dempsey and Jack Kearns. Some of the speculators at Shelby got hold of about 3000 pairs of opera and field glasses which were to be sold or rented to those who could not get seats near the ringside. The crowd was so small and the final admission rates so cheap that everybody in town got to see the fight from a coign of vantage. Nobody had any use for the magnified peepers. The town is stocked up with opera glasses for 20,000 years ahead.

WOULD HELP THE HARBOR

Congressman Madden, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, is strongly in favor of reducing our army and navy stations. He urges the immediate abandonment of the Presidio at San Francisco and insists that it is absolutely unessential. He is also implacably opposed to the new naval station at Alameda and says that Mare Island can be made all that that section of the coast can need. He does, however, favor the work at Los Angeles Harbor. He says that the government can well afford to pay $5,000,000 toward this when the people are putting in $15,000,000 more in addition to what they have already invested. Congressman Madden is also committed to San Diego as ideal headquarters for the air forces. From his point of view it costs less to operate and experiment from that point and just now he is bent on saving money. Anything put into Los Angeles he considers a good investment. We can hardly quarrel with him on that score.

THE FALSE ALARM

One of the leading railroad officials of the country demonstrates that the cost of making a complete government survey of the valuation of the railway systems of the country has exceeded $35,000,000. Of this the government has paid $23,000,000, while the roads have contributed $12,000,000. Senator La Follette was responsible for the valuation act and he solemnly assured Congress at the time of its adoption that all the railways of the nation could be valued at a cost of not exceeding $2,400,000. It was his idea that the valuation would show that the American railways were overcapitalized and were paying dividends on watered stock. He promised that an official revaluation would pay many times its expense in making possible a reduction of freight rates on the strength of the showing made. Now it turns out that the people have paid $35,000,000 to find out that the lines are not overvalued; that they are, in fact, worth much more than their capitalization and that they cannot be replaced for anything like their bonding charges. Most of Senator La Follette's political capital comes from his capacity for baiting corporations. It doth now appear that he is not only unjust, but grievously in error. On top of that it further appears that Americans have paid $35,000,000 in money merely to prove that he was wrong. This is entirely unnecessary. It should be taken for granted. That the Senator is wrong is further emphasized that he now refuses to accept the findings of his own commissioners. He is not even a good sport. It is hardly worth $35,000,000 to disclose this frailty. That had also been suspected.

THINGS WORTH WHILE

Many persons who have visited international displays are commenting on the new note, a note of progress, which has been struck in the Monroe Centennial Exposition. While there have been vastly greater and more diversified displays, no exposition of the past has been so free of cheap buffoonery and features verging on the salacious; and in no other exposition has there been an equal verging of all the parts into a harmonious whole.

Only those things have received a place in the grounds that are worth while. The exhibits are all historical, educational or instructive. There is no pike or midway, no galaxy of forty famous beauties. These have been replaced by industrial displays, by art galleries and by one vast living picture of the birth and development of the moving-picture industry.

Those in charge of other expositions have dreamed of similar displays; but they have never attempted them because they were under the impression that they "wouldn't pay." But the Monroe Exposition represents a new valuation on such events. Those who are responsible for it have not sought to put it on a paying basis at the gate; they have not expected to have money in the bank when the exposition closes to repay the cost of installation and operation. They have proceeded on the idea that it pays to give to what is perhaps the community with the highest average education and culture of the great American cities a purely historical and constructive exposition.

The only dividends will be of an educational and cultural nature. They will come in the form of higher and purer ideals and a better understanding of Southern California, its past history and the possibilities for the future. It is a collective contribution to the public welfare.

Those who visit the exposition for pleasure only will miss the best that is offered; for its most important parts are its educational and artistic features. The ensemble is a triumph of the architectural and decorative arts. The style and grouping of the buildings and the lighting effects illustrate the advance made in architecture and designing since the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

The whole is of historic value. The Spanish and Moorish styles of architecture have replaced the Grecian, the Gothic and the oriental. It is a type devolved from the early architecture of California, that of the missions. There are no imitation marble columns, nothing copied from the Pantheon. In its stead one sees the possibilities of cubist architecture—not the weird near-cubist effects of a disappearing school of painters and decorators, but cubism in its sculptural effects.

As one views the stately towers, the vaulted entrances to the courts and the charming plazas one regrets that the material used is unsubstantial, that it is only bristol board in place of cement. For permanent structures on these types would give to Los Angeles a group of buildings without equal in modern architecture.

But they are only illusory, only an example of what might be accomplished in the collective spirit if Los Angeles were awakened. Perhaps they may be likened to the dream that is in the mind of an architect, but has not yet been produced in marble or cement. And it is well worth while for every citizen of Los Angeles to see and study them; for they offer a motif for future building construction here. They point to an avenue of escape from imitating the colder, cruder architecture of the north that has no place in our land of sunshine.

Greek architecture would be out of place in Los Angeles; for the Greeks were effeminate in their art. Here are the stronger, bolder lines that symbolize modern progress. The whole is of educational value in showing the possibilities for constructive progress that the moving-picture industry affords. We discover that the trivial is only the foam tossed up on the beach and that a serious purpose is being accomplished, but one that does not appear on the billboards announcing the different film plays.

THE WEALTHIEST PEOPLE

The great English economist, Alfred Marshall, in speaking of wealth, says: "Other things being equal, one person has more real wealth in its broadest sense than another, if the place in which the former lives has a better climate, better roads, better water, more wholesome drainage; and again better newspapers, books and places of amusement and instruction."

Judging by the above standards the residents of Los Angeles city are the wealthiest of any of the larger cities of the world, for our climate has for years been acknowledged to be of the best. Since the completion of the aqueduct our water supply has been ample, of good quality and derived from a source that never will be thickly populated. This city is the center for an extensive system of good roads. The elevation of the main portion of the city of from 200 to 500 feet above the sea affords excellent opportunities for drainage, as compared with those cities that are built directly on the coast or in the delta regions of large rivers. Our public library has a large number of well-selected books on its shelves and, what is better yet, has a very high per capita circulation. We have a large number of places of amusement, several great theaters and one of the world's great stadiums.

No other city has finer school buildings than Los Angeles and the instruction given is of the very best kind. We have two great universities, a number of splendid church structures and have made a good beginning in the way of buildings and collections for museums. It has been a hard task to grow fast and at the same time provide for the finer side of life. Los Angeles will not only be the wealthiest city, but one of the most highly cultured and beautiful of the world.

COMMUNIST PRESS FAILS

A prominent Moscow Bolshevik gloomily remarks that "we have no press; all we have is an elaborate machinery for spoiling paper." The educated classes not only refused to write for the papers, but even to read them. And their extreme dullness finally palled on even the rank and file of the Reds, who became weary of perusing nothing but highly colored propaganda when they were in search of news. They are so poor and crude, he complains, that they are beneath criticism.

Nothing but selected Communist news can be printed in them. One large daily enthralled its readers with character sketches of factory directors written by the workmen, many of whom had only recently acquired a working knowledge of the intricacies of Russian grammar. Snappy sketches of Communist doings in the villages, written by the local wit, had to be abandoned because so many of the correspondents were murdered, from which we may judge how atrocious were their efforts. The Pravda lost two of its choicest raconteurs in this fashion.

The leaders of the Communist government have come to the conclusion that a single-track newspaper is not a success. People do not read it for the purpose of gleaning further news of a political program with which they are already painfully familiar, but to learn something of the world's news and the latest scandals. But the radical element will not permit information of the capitalistic world to be printed, unless presenting an unpleasant picture of existence there. So the press is expiring, unwanted and unread by the very people who uphold the Communist doctrine.

BEAUTY AND STRENGTH

Sir William Orpen, the famous English portrait painter, maintains a low opinion of the pulchritude of women. Those of former ages, he states, were lovely enough, but the present generation is much less beautiful, and what attractions the girls possess are constantly diminishing. He even goes so far as to state that he has never seen a truly beautiful woman, one entirely free from imperfections, which is a most ungallant remark.

He blames the automobile. The use of this is responsible for the "bony shoulders and skinny legs" that the painter particularly objects to. His criticism has aroused the ire of Chicago artists and clubwomen, who have issued a defi to the renowned painter whose especial talent appears to be walking on the toes of his own countrymen and the nationals of other lands as well. If the artist wants to see some exquisite women, the Chicagoans aver, just let him visit the Windy City and be prostrated before beauty's shrine there.

Should he come to Los Angeles, however, a real treat would be in store for him. The use of the automobile here in no way curtails the development of the strength that the artist so much admires. Any woman who can successfully pilot a car inch by inch through the downtown traffic will acquire a set of muscles that will lift her out of the "skinny" category to which he alludes so derisively. And nearly all women drivers have firm and bulging biceps. Besides developing alertness and a quick mind and the love of adventure from the knowledge that one is constantly flirting with death, automobiling in Los Angeles is highly conducive to muscular development. It is certainly no pastime for the anemic or absent-minded.

NATURE FILMS

The largest theater in New York is just now running a program of three pictures in none of which the human actors dominate the story. All the films are foreign—as the house seems to have a grudge against Hollywood this month. One of the plays is based upon a ski race in the Alps and is a fox-and-hounds affair. Another is a film of English bird life called "The Cuckoo's Secret" and is the life story of a lazy and selfish bird. The third is called "Ivan the Great" and is the story of a huge brown bear. All the plays are full of action and also furnish much interesting scenery. The program is attracting crowds and is said to furnish a touch of excitement for all classes of spectators. In Europe they have made more progress than we have in this country in the matter of making films without the use of high-priced actors. The salary list for the performers in these pictures would not exceed $100 a week. Some of these $2000 birds of paradise are not as essential to the movie game as they would have us believe.

AN IMITATION

The new constitution of the soviet union in Russia is said to be modeled on that of the United States. This is a good joke on Tom Jefferson.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

When the Elemental Calls

The gentlemen who know almost everything tell us that we have more of strikes, domestic infelicity and general human cussedness and rambunctiousness in the summer than during any other season of the year.

They point out that most holidays celebrating revolutions and such, July 4, for instance, occur during the prickly, warm weather period of the calendar.

When nature gets hot, irritated and testy, human nature, it seems, is only too glad to take the tip and quickly follows suit.

Scratch most any one of us in the good old summer time and you are more than apt to catch a savage.

For the summer is the time when the aboriginal in us fights desperately for a way out.

We want to get outdoors. We want to spend our days looking into the limitless sky. We feel the irresistible urge to live in and drink in the open. And it upsets our thoughts, slows up our works and usually gets on our nerves.

With summer comes the deep-rooted, primitive hungering for field and for farm, for sea and for mountain. And we are miserable till we find ourselves in the woods gathering dead branches for the crackling camp fire; or digging wriggling worms for wary, elusive fish; or breasting life-giving breakers at Mother Nature's Fountain of Eternal Vigor; or recklessly challenging sunstroke in roasting, broiling bleachers; or doing any of the hundred and one things that for a while, at least, take us back to the elemental.

And it is strange what a few weeks, or even a few days, of intimacy with nature does for a man's disposition, for his mental and physical resources, for his outlook upon life and humanity.

A man finds himself healthier, saner and better for having for a short time indulged this bottom-most, instinctive craving of the human race.

Most of us have many depths well worth tilling, and that is why the right kind of a vacation is a sort of subsoil plowing that answers surely and truly when the elemental within us calls, and that fertilizes and enriches our ordinary life of the year's routine.

A periodic reversion to tempered savagery makes most of us fitter to endure "civilization."

RIPPLING RHYMES

FIERCE TIMES

What awful times! The daily crimes present a frightful story; the robbers steal the plunk and wheel, the slayers' hands are gory. The sinful cranks are robbing banks, they're using guns and axes; the crime wave rolls and daunts our souls, as greater still it waxes. Each day I read of deadly deed, of cold and clammy bodies knocked out by wights who spend their nights consuming bootleg toddies. The baffled cop can't make crime stop as up the town he sallies, and thieves and yeggs on busy legs are sprinting through the alleys. And toughs and bums infest the slums and kidnaped maids are squealing; such grisly news I must peruse, it keeps my senses reeling! I read these tales, my spirit quails, while yet the wave advances; and it seems queer that year by year no evil to me chances. No robbers meet me on the street and tell me to deliver; no bandits bold bear off my gold or steal my priceless flivver. My skull's intact, it's not been whacked with black-jack or with bludgeon; I've not been shot by gunman hot or other grim curmudgeon. I stay at home, I do not roam by night in darkened places; home life enchants when one has aunts with many charms and graces. I read my book and josh the cook and play a game of checkers, and so avoid the graft employed by slayers, thieves and wreckers.

EASY-CHAIR SCIENCE

BY RANSOME SUTTON

XII. THE PHYSIOLOGY OF PLANTS

Plants are nearer and dearer to us than sand dunes or stones, because they are alive, as much alive as human beings. The same kind of protoplasm which lives in us also lives in them; and, in order that plant protoplasm may continue to live, it has to be nourished and protected the same as animal protoplasm. Plants require the same kind of foods as animals, the difference being that plants prepare the food for both the animal and vegetable kingdom; they take the raw materials (as will be shown in the next article) and manufacture the starch, sugar and proteins upon which all living things, except the lowest bacteria, subsist.

Plants suffer from bacterial diseases the same as animals. Within recent years the "spreading chestnut trees," which long graced the estates of country gentlemen from Virginia to Maine, have practically been killed off by an incurable epidemic. The San Jose scale has likewise destroyed thousands of peach orchards. Fruit growers must understand the physiology of trees in order to be successful, and persons living in cities would be surprised at the amount of practical botanical knowledge successful growers possess. Every part of a plant—root, stem, flowers, buds and leaves—must function properly to produce profitable fruit, and each part is susceptible to peculiar diseases, which fruit growers treat as scientifically as human diseases are treated.

Plants have no nerves nor any organ comparable to an animal's brain, so injuries to one part are not felt in other parts. No doubt the living cells in the leaves you plunge into boiling water when making spinach feel the hurt, but each cell suffers by itself alone. When you drive a nail into a tree the cells in the path of the nail are killed, yet their distress cannot be communicated to neighboring cells.

Do plants feel? If not, how does it happen that sensitive plants close their leaves when touched? There is one family of sensitive plants, the mimoseæ, which close their leaves only when tapped three times. Now, if the mimosa did not feel and remember the first and second tappings, how would it know the time had come to respond to the third tapping? Many students of plants believe impressions produced by the first and second tappings are somehow stored or accumulated within the plant protoplasm and that the impressions are deepened by the third tapping to such an extent that movement follows. If this be true something akin to incipient memory resides in plant protoplasm, for stored impressions mean memory. It would perhaps be going too far to say

EQUAL RIGHTS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

We have done rather well on the Liberty, sisters. We take most of the liberties we want to.

And now the Woman's party is about to tackle the "Equality" at its convention July 20.

It seems that there are all sorts of equal rights we are still being dished out of. One of them appears to be our maiden name after matrimony. I take it that we greatly prefer father's to hubby's last name.

Under this amendment, which Miss Alice Paul thinks so essential to our happiness, we are to have absolutely equal rights with men. Positively no discrimination against us—or for us. No special privileges for them—or for us. Equal rights—and equal duties.

Ahem. That should include the royal right to pay alimony, to pay damages for breach of promise, to be sued for nonsupport of hubby and the children and numerous little things like that. Oh, I am sure we are passionately anxious for these rights. It will also entail our being hauled up for contributing to the delinquency of young men.

Perhaps we may also smoke pipes, chew tobacco, cuss out loud and join the Free Masons. We may even have the privilege of financing a Jack Dempsey fight and busting the bank of which we are president. Nay, we may even become Jack Dempseys ourselves and expose our natural beauties in a pair of trunks.

One thing the Woman's party insists upon with passionate enthusiasm is our right to our own nationality, even if we marry some foreigner. It is absurd to expect us to relinquish our nationality for a foreigner, even if we fall in love with him, permit him to feed and clothe us, be me the mother of his little foreign children and, even in some cases, assume his handsome foreign title. If he really loved us enough to confer all that upon us he ought to adopt our nationality, anyway.

Yet, with all these glittering advantages dangled before our eyes, I cannot find it in my heart to be a crusader. I am afraid there is a catch in it somewhere.

For instance, take that smoking and prize fighting. They are so likely to be included in prohibition ere we get that amendment of ours. And I verily believe the Free Masons would rather disband than let us in. In fact, the "Equality" is so likely to be denuded of all its charms by the time we get there. I can only see the alimony, breach of promise damages and nonsupport and delinquency items left on the program.

Of course, it may also mean that we shall have the privilege of joining the army and navy and be real fighting patriots. But there again, there seems to be a marked tendency to abolish war and cheat us out of that.

And, even in that little matter of nationality—well, don't you know, in war-time they are very reasonable about expecting us to remember to which particular country we owe our allegiance. And it's generally the one that claimed us before we married the despised foreigner. American wives of Germans will recall this condition in

TO HEAR INCOME TAX CASES HERE

Field Subcommittee to Meet About August 1

Orders of Procedure Are Expected Soon

New Plan for Appeals Means Big Savings

Income-tax payers who now have appeals pending in Washington and who are residents of California, Utah, Nevada or Arizona were notified by Collector of Internal Revenue Goodcell yesterday that by their own request their hearings may be conducted at Los Angeles, beginning about August 1, by the field subcommittee on appeals and review.

This means a tremendous saving for income tax appellants, who otherwise would be forced to procee dto Washington or to send an attorney there, where the expense would approximate hundreds of dollars.

The appeals filed both in Los Angeles and Washington are now being assembled and it is expected that the subcommittee will sit in Los Angeles for five weeks. The subcommittee now is in session at St. Paul, Minn., where the success attendant upon its visit has induced Commissioner Blair to order its hearings to include the Southwest. The members of the subcommittee are Robert J. Service, LeRoy Russell and a third committeeman to be appointed.

The list of the cases is expected by Collector Goodcell within a few days, in addition to directions for the procedure of appellants.

Hearings for residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming, in some city in the Northwest, are expected to follow the Los Angeles sessions.

Safe is Robbed of Pure Gold and Platinum

The robbery of $5000 in pure gold and platinum from a safe in the offices of the Pacific Platinum Company at room 614 in the James Building, 814 South Spring street, was reported to police yesterday afternoon by A. M. Draper, president.

Mr. Draper said the robbers entered the offices sometime between 6 p.m. Wednesday and yesterday noon, pried open the safe with a jack and a crowbar, and took the entire contents of the strongbox. Detective Lieutenants Murray, White and Adams investigated.

HOSPITAL INMATES ARE ENTERTAINED

Soldiers at the tuberculosis hospital annex, Sawtelle, were entertained yesterday with a program put on by the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce. Today the Woman's Auxiliary of the Hermosa Beach Chamber of Commerce will give a picnic for fifty of the men from the main hospital, and the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale will entertain 150 patients from the annex. Vaudeville entertainments were given for the men at the annex on Wednesday morning and evening. Luncheon was served by the Post-War Service League.

VAST SUM NEEDED IN ROAD PLAN

Approximately $1,000,000 to be Spent on Highways of County Within Year

Approximately $1,000,000 will be spent by the county for the improvement of roads within the next year, according to announcement made by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The plans call for the immediate expenditure of $683,000, and in addition $300,000 will be spent on the harbor truck boulevard and $30,000 for the improvement of Garvey Road.

Boulevards to be improved include the following: Artesia street, $55,000; Anaheim Boulevard, north of Long Beach, $15,000; Center Summerset avenue, $90,000; Durfee Road, $40,000; Vernon-Downey Road, $90,000; Painter avenue, connecting Whittier and oil fields, $75,000; Norwalk-Puente Mill Road, $35,000; Compton-Clearwater Road, $35,000; Tenth avenue, Puente, $10,000; Erwindale avenue, Covina, $20,000; Long Beach Boulevard, $30,000; Downey-Norwalk, $34,000; Pomona Boulevard, from El Monte, two miles east, $120,000.

The harbor boulevard will connect Alameda street and the harbor via Willow street. The Garvey Road work will connect Monterey Park with El Monte.

Federal Land Scrip to be on Sale in August

Surveyor-General Klingsbury announced yesterday from Sacramento that scrip for nonmineral government land in California will be placed on sale August 17 next. The price will be $6.50 an acre. Purchases can be made by filing an affidavit with the Surveyor General showing that the buyer is qualified to hold State school land.

Homesteaders and desert-land entrymen can relinquish their entries through the Surveyor General's office and acquire title to their land through the purchase of scrip, provided that the land is not withdrawn by the government for public purposes prior to the date the land is scripped.

Township plats showing the land which may be selected can be obtained from the government land office in the district in which the land is situated.

WHITNALL'S TRAFFIC REPORT SUBMITTED

City Planning Director Whitnall's report on street development for the relief of traffic congestion and confusion went before the City Council yesterday, after having been adopted by the City Planning Commission. The Council referred it to its public works committee. Mr. Whitnall's report, as made public on the day before, calls for a program of street widening, straightening and extension similar to that of the Traffic Commission. In addition, it advocates a program of finance in which a city-wide bond issue is the chief part.

PERCIVAL POOCH NIPS PLOT

Wholesale Murder Would be Order of Day Save for Capture of Back Fence Feline

A wholesale murder plot, which would have endangered the lives of thousands of residents of Los Angeles, was revealed yesterday when Officer Percival Pooch arrested a black cat at the City Pound. It was caught in the act of digging a tunnel from the pound to the alley, through which it hoped to make its scoot for liberty. The prisoner, refusing to disclose its identity, is held at the City Jail on a charge of suspicion.

Officer Percival Pooch stated that after a thorough investigation he learned that the suspect had planned to cross today the paths of 14,033 persons who, according to the officer, would have dropped dead.

An ordinance forbidding the lighting of three cigarettes from one match and carrying a penalty of life imprisonment in the City County chamber was unanimously passed yesterday.

Deacon Cubeb, father of the ordinance, stated in an exclusive interview that 53,099 cigarette smokers would have met with fatal accidents today if the ordinance had been defeated. An amendment to the ordinance, which would have resulted in the destruction of every third cigarette in every package of smokes sold within the city limits, failed to receive the necessary votes for its adoption.

Ezekiah Dingledud, nationally known inventor, announced yesterday that he has perfected the greatest disaster preventative ever presented to the scientific world. It is a rubber mirror.

"Throughout the period which began with the invention of the first glass mirror," said Prof. Dingledub, "the history of the world has been splotched with great disasters, most of which have been traced to the looking-glass. Those primitive and fragile mirrors for ages have been crashing to earth and heaping seven years of bad luck upon their owners. Disasters will cease, superstition will be abolished and the world will in the future rest easier with the introduction of my rubber mirror to the universe. It cannot break. When it falls from the moorings it will bounce back into place."

A fire of incendiary origin destroyed late last night all the ladders in the city. Though the material damage rose to many thousand dollars, the news of the fire was received with great acclaim throughout the city.

E. Didit, the suspected fire-bug, surrendered to the police shortly after the blaze was extinguished. In a signed confession, according to the police, he admitted his guilt and stated he had been prompted to commit the crime by rumors that several hundred painters and window washers had plotted to tilt the ladders against downtown buildings today. He did it to prevent hundreds of people from walking beneath them.

WOMEN IN AUTO CRASH BADLY HURT

Pacific Electric Strikes Car; Two Occupants May Not Recover

A Pacific Electric train, inbound, struck an automobile yesterday at Sixteenth street and Harvard boulevard, causing injury to two women occupants, from which one of them, Miss Maud McAfee, 55 years of age, a teacher, of 715 East Forty-second street, will probably die. Her skull was fractured and she had many bruises. The driver of the auto, Miss Anna L. Williamson, 55, also a teacher, of 1147 West Twentieth street, was less seriously hurt. Mrs. Michael Mann of 1035 South Plymouth street, who saw the accident, took the women to the Hollywood Police Station, and from there to the Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Jilson, 45 years of age, of 1739 Carmona avenue, had her skull fractured when she was struck by an automobile truck at Washington Boulevard and Rimpau avenue. At the Receiving Hospital it was said she was expected to die. The truck, which the police say struck Mrs. Jilson as she was boarding a street car, was driven by S. Nifai of Palms.

Action Against Kin of Grant is Off Calendar

Charges of social vagrancy brought against U. S. Grant IV were withdrawn from the calendar in the Police Court of Judge Chambers yesterday at the request of Grant's attorney, Wallace Davis, mentioned by City Prosecutor Eugene T. McGann.

When the case was called at 11 a.m. it developed that the arresting officers, Patrolman W. J. Jolin and C. F. Perdice, were absent from the court, having understood that 2 p.m. was the hour named. A lengthy postponement being unavoidable because of the crowded calendar, Attorney Davis then requested the withdrawal.

The status of the case is that it may be recalled at any time by the prosecutor for the setting of a trial date. Grant is said to be a grandson of President U. S. Grant and a son of U. S. Grant, Jr., owner of the U. S. Grant Hotel in San Diego. The arrest took place in Westlake Park.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER CITY PENSION PLAN

Efficiency Director Eldridge's report of his recent pension survey in which he recommends pensions for city employees will be considered Monday afternoon by the Finance Committee of the City Council. At present only policemen and firemen are allowed pensions. Mr. Eldridge suggests that the matter be brought before the Board of Freeholders so that it can be embodied in the new city charter. He recommends that a committee of fifteen be appointed to consider the question and bring it before the Freeholders. He would have this committee composed of seven city employees, three Councilmen and five representatives of civic organizations.

CITY ENGINEER'S FORCE SWAMPED

Office is Two Years Behind, Reports Griffin

Unprecedented Prosperity Piles Up Orders

Official Asks for More Men and Higher Pay

The growth of Los Angeles has swamped the office of the City Engineer, demanding an expansion and improvement of its personnel, says Col. John A. Griffin, City Engineer, in his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, which was filed yesterday with the Board of Public Works. He declares that the work of his office is two years behind.

"Los Angeles is in an unprecedented wave of prosperity and expansion," he says. "Ninety per cent of the orders for street improvements are based on petitions representing a substantial majority of the frontage. The property owners have invested thousands, nay, millions, of dollars in new homes and naturally want the ordinary conveniences of life, such as curbs, sidewalks, pavements and sewers.

FORCE INADEQUATE

"With the present force and with the present loss of efficiency due to a continually shifting personnel, it will be two years before orders filed today can be presented to the City Council for adoption of the ordinances of intention.

"To stem the constant stream of resignations and to attract additional men of the proper caliber, it is essential that the salaries of the technical men in this department be increased about 15 per cent."

The report is an epitome of the population and industrial growth of Los Angeles which in some regards has been faster than the development. The delay in some cases is due to the congestion of the city departments and in others to industrial causes.

CEMENT SUPPLY LOW

For example, Col. Griffin points out that street projects have been delayed by the huge demand on the local cement mills, which have not been able to meet it and that it will be some time before shipments can be made from mills in other States and even in Europe.

The City Engineer's office now has on file orders for 122.75 miles of street paving; 54.95 miles of grading and oiling; 12.60 miles of curb, sidewalk and gutter building, and 5.33 miles of resurfacing and oiling of streets. The last fiscal year brought completion of 181 street improvement projects, as compared with 132 in the previous year, and yet the congestion is by no means cleared up.

$60,000 POSTS

The city now has 2251.12 miles of streets of which 1393.62 have not yet been improved. In the last fiscal year $1,402,751.98 worth of street improvements were completed.

Col. Griffin estimated the city's population at 866,000, which is an increase of about 10 per cent in the fiscal year. The vast amount of engineering business done by the city is eloquently shown in the fact that in the last year city engineers filed 3545 plans, profiles and maps.

In the year the city constructed 5.6 miles of storm drains at a cost of $171,434, and 54.1 miles of sewers costing $803,394.43.

PLANS DIRECTORIAL SCHOOL

Roach Proposes to Overcome Shortage of Pilots for Comedy Film Productions

In an effort to overcome one of the most serious needs of the motion-picture industry today—capable comedy directors—Hal Roach has decided to inaugurate a school for directors at his Culver City studio. The plan is to go into effect immediately. Classes will be held every Monday night, with the Roach directorial staff acting as instructors. Announcement for the formation of the school was made at a banquet given by Mr. Roach to his staff and stars at the studio last night.

For the present it is Mr. Roach's intention to limit the school to the assistant directors of his various comedy units but as the work progresses it will be opened to other members of his organization. In all probability, the school will later welcome outside members of the profession.

The crying need of the comedy producers today is directors. Good ones are as scarce as big stars. Mr. Roach feels that while some directors may be born to their work, the majority are "made." He wants to give every man inside his organization an opportunity to advance, and if they demonstrate at this school that they are capable of being intrusted with the directorial reins they will be given every encouragement to go ahead. Roach himself started as an "extra" and assistant director.

Probably $300,000 is the loss underwritten by the Roach studio each year through the inability to find directors who know their business. At present there are little more than half the directors on the Roach staff his product requires. Yet the Culver City producer has found it impossible to obtain men to fill the open berths.

When he elected to turn over the active management of his production affairs to a trio of his associates H. M. Walker, Warren Doane and T. J. Crizer, Mr. Roach had the idea of establishing this school for directors. He will devote a good part of his time to it.

Among the directors who will comprise the "faculty" of the Roach school are Bob McGowan, Charles Parrott, Ralph Cedar, George Jeske, J. A. Howe, Pete Pembroke, Fred Jackman, Lee Powers, Robin Williamson, Bert Clements and Val Paul.

"I do not look for the development of a director under our new plan for at least six months," Roach said," and perhaps it may be a year. But I feel that we have the right idea. It is up to the boys. If they have the ability they are sure of advancement."

MAIL-THEFT SUSPECT HELD

Man Answering Description Believed One of Robbers Who Held Up Arcade Postoffice

Halted by Patrolman E. Stonebreaker as he was running down Santa Fe avenue, near First street, Michael A. Borsella was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery of the Arcade-station postoffice. He answered the description of one of the bandits and is being held on suspicion of robbery pending an investigation.

The robbery occurred at 7:30 a.m. yesterday, while Miss Fannie A. Schofield of 1642 West Twenty-Third street and Owen E. Weirbach, postal clerks, were assembling the receipts of yesterday from the wholesale-stamp division to be taken to the bank. Entering the room with drawn guns, two men, apparently Italians, ordered the clerks to hold up their hands. Miss Schofield, who was protected from the range of the menacing weapons by a large pillar, ran into another room and called for help.

The bandits, disconcerted by Miss Schofield's quick-witted action, hurriedly seized a portion of the currency lying on the desk, and ran. A short time later as Patrolman Stonebreaker was receiving the description of the two men sent out by police headquarters, he saw Borsella running down Santa Fe avenue. The man did not halt when Stonebreaker called and was brought to a stop when the officer drew his revolver and took aim to fire.

The bandits in their hurried departure, overlooked several thousand dollars in currency and money which was lying near by.

The police, having secured an excellent description of the hold-up men, are confident of the apprehension of the man still at liberty.

SELF-GOVERNMENT AT HOME

With few exceptions the best of the women's colleges now permit their students to govern themselves. The freedom thus given the girls is not as great as it may appear, but it is a long step in advance of the old system of rules and espionage.

Given self-government, the first duty of the student body is to decide what expansion of the old regime is legitimate and possible, and to draw up a new code. The second duty is to see that this new code, once put into effect, is followed as rigorously as the old code—and the entire student body is bound in honor to uphold it.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The excellence of such a system is apparent at the first glance. Students appreciate and value the new independence given them. Girls who deliberately broke the old rules as often as they could now realize that breaking the new rules is a very different proposition. It brings discredit upon the whole student body. It may even bring hardship and loss to that body by causing the new system to be rescinded and the old system restored. In other words, every girl student has instilled into her the vital fact that when she is a member of a community she must accept the community as more important than herself. She is learning her first lessons concerning the value and beauty of the community spirit. She comes out of college the master of this lesson, and prepared to exercise it in the larger community of the outside world.

So far as I know, no college which has given self-government to its students has ever recalled the gift. It is unlikely that such a disaster will occur. In every college, as in every other community, there are a few hot-headed, heedless, irresponsible or actually dishonorable members. These are soon discovered and in the majority of instances, are converted to the higher viewpoint. If they are not they are eliminated from the community, in colleges at least, for the sake of the general welfare.

All of which leads to this reflection. If self-government and the so-called honor systems succeed so well in college, among girls 18, 19, 20 and 21 years old, why shouldn't the same system succeed in the homes of girls these ages, living in the larger community of their towns. Wouldn't it, if successful, eliminate half the worries of the mothers and fathers of today?

Why not establish and carry out the Home Honor System, to which the girls of today must and will subscribe?

The first step, as in the colleges, would be, of course, to find a satisfactory middle-ground between the privileges the daughters of today demand, and those their parents think advisable. Both sides must concede something. The daughters must be given an amount of authority over their own lives which may appall their grandmothers. They must be allowed to make their own rules, subject to agreement with the higher powers over them. They must be put on honor to follow these rules. If the experiment proves them unworthy it must be dropped.

Trust appeals to us all. The girl or boy is pretty far gone who deliberately breaks a rule which in honor must be kept.

Suppose, as a trial experiment, young Jane, a popular debutante, and her father and mother go into executive session together. What does Jane want to do? What are her parents willing she should do? What compromise can be effected?

The chances are that Jane wants to go out or entertain every night. Her parents think one or two nights of diversion each week are sufficient. Let Jane have three nights, even four nights a week, on three months trial.

When does she want to be home? Her parents say 11. Jane says 12 or even 1. Jane should be in bed by 12 o'clock every night she goes out. Let her try it for three months—on honor.

Thus Jane, feeling that she has a little more liberty than before will value it and preserve it. She knows her parents are trusting her. She is proud of that trust! Her parents feeling that at least a definite limitation to Jane's social activities has been established and will be followed, are less troubled about her.

The experiment is certainly worth trying.

OLIVE OIL BRINGS SILKY SHEEN TO DULLEST HAIR

What is the secret that is giving beautiful hair to thousands of women? Simply the use of Olive Oil in the shampoo! Hair specialists say that hair should never be washed without it. For it keeps hair from dry, brittle dullness. You can have this luxury at home now, cheaply. Just get a bottle of PALMOLIVE SHAMPOO—at any drug or department store. ### ANGEL'S FLIGHT

A cheerful, neatly-dressed woman of perhaps 40 years of age sat on the bench at the top of Angel's Flight. It was about 10 p.m.

A young girl of perhaps 23 climbed the steps to the top and sat down beside her.

"You are quite breathless," said the older woman. "It's quite a long climb, isn't it?"

"I do it every night," said the girl, "and try to save a soul for Jesus. That's my mission. I always find someone here. Are you saved?"

"I feel safe," smiled the woman. "What is your religion, my dear?"

"You feel safe! But are you saved? Have you repented? Have you given your heart to Jesus? Have you told Him you are a miserable sinner and that only He can cast out the devils? How can you feel safe if you haven't done that?"

"Well, I don't think I am a miserable sinner. I am a very cheerful person," smiled the woman easily. "I love everybody. I am happy. I don't believe there are any devils in me." And she laughed good-naturedly.

But the young girl was very intense. She was quite obviously shocked at this comfortable complacence.

"How can you be happy if you haven't repented? We all have devils in us and they can only be cast out when we confess and repent, and are washed in the blood of Jesus Christ. What church do you belong to?" she said earnestly, passionately.

"I don't belong to any church I just do my best and keep cheerful. And, my dear little girl, I am happy. I think my religion is just keeping cheerful, just making light of troubles, just loving people, just believing in general goodness, just not being a miserable sinner, you see," said the woman. "I don't think I quite believe in the devil at all."

"Oh but you must. That isn't enough. Everybody is a sinner. The devil is working all the time. Oh, you must repent and give your heart to Jesus. Aren't you afraid you will go to hell?"

"No, I don't believe in hell. Anyway, I mean, I think we have our hell here on earth when we suffer for our mistakes. There isn't any other hell, my dear. Why do you believe in a horrible hell and everlasting suffering? How could a merciful God condemn any mortal to a place like that?"

The woman's tone was almost bantering. The girl looked utterly horrified. This sort of soul was the very hardest kind to save.

"But you must repents Oh, you must repent," she cried, anxiously. "It is wicked to believe you are not sinful. It is wicked to believe you have nothing to repent and confess."

"Is it wicked not to believe in the power of the Devil and the power of Evil?" bantered the amused woman. "My dear, aren't you making life very unhappy by thinking so much about sin and devils?"

"Oh, how can you be happy if you think that? Oh, you must know you are full of sin and need to repent. It is the Devil making you think you are good," urged the girl.

"I can't oblige you," said the older woman, dryly. "I am not sinful and I have nothing to repent. I was a good daughter and I have been a good wife and a good mother. And now I am a cheerful old woman. But, you funny child, tell me how you came to set yourself this task of casting out devils," coaxed the woman, kindly enough, but not very seriously.

"You are laughing at me. It is the Devil making you laugh at me. Nobody laughed at me before. Sometimes they have cursed me, though. But this is my mission. I must not mind. Every night I climb the Angels' Flight, and sometimes I have won souls for Jesus. I never heard anyone say they were not sinful before. How can you say you are not sinful, if you have not been saved? How can you say there is no Hell, when it says in the Bible that there is? Oh, please don't talk like that. Do come and give your heart to Jesus, and confess your sins and repent."

"I am sorry, my dear. But I haven't any sins to confess. I hope you will have better luck next time, a real miserable sinner, if that it what you are looking for. But you seem very young to go round the world looking for miserable sinners. You ought to be dancing somewhere and having a good time. Or else at home in bed getting your beauty sleep."

"Oh, oh, oh. It is the Devil talking. Oh, please let me pray, with you. I shall pray for you anyway."

And the young girl jumped up and ran away down the Angels' Flight.

"And I think the child was actually crying," said the older woman as she told me the story. "It simply broke her heart because I wouldn't admit I had any devils to cast out. Pitiful, wasn't it? What a lot of funny people there are in Los Angeles. They all seem to be crusading for something or other. That dear child would have been so much happier if she needed saving. But I dare say I have been happier at times. Gracious, what have I got to repent?"

But it is curious. I can't get the little girl out of my head. Some night I think I shall have to go on that seat at the top of Angel's Flight myself. I am afraid I have a good many things to repent of, perhaps it would make her very happy if I let her help me cast out my devils.

Only 23—and another waif of the Los Angeles dopper.

Ah, yes, and 40—and another variety of Los Angeles curse.

They were both a little queer in their way, weren't they?

Children Will be Entertained by Elks' Lodge

Children of members and their playmates will be the guests of the local Lodge of Elks No. 99 at a frolic and circus to be given in the lodge rooms tomorrow from 3 to 4:30 p.m. All children between 3 and 13 years of age are invited.

The children's party is an annual affair but this year the committee has made arrangements to make the frolic somewhat more elaborate than in the past. Pop, pop, double-jointed peanuts, cream and eskimo pie will be in abundant evidence and the guests will be looked after by a committee composed of lodge members and a corps of trained nurses.

No grown-ups will be admitted to the party because of the limited space.

ASSERTS HUSBAND LOVES ANOTHER

Because, she asserts, her husband told her he was in love with another woman and although he tried to give her up but could not, Mrs. Edna O'Neil filed suit yesterday against Sidney O'Neil for separate maintenance and a share of the community property. When her husband was driving a stage, the plaintiff asserts, he often obtained a pass to take his wife driving, but instead of his wife he would take Mildred Coe. The community property mentioned in the complaint is valued at $25,000, and consists mostly of an interest in a contracting firm.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

When Cleaning

Add a little common table salt to the gasoline when cleaning garments and that ugly rim around the place cleaned will be avoided. Brush off all salt before pressing.

Kitchen Kinks

Cover egg yolks with cold water and they will keep for several days.

Rub the surface of the new pie or cake tins with lard and then heat the utensil in the oven. It will prevent rust.

Coffee should be kept in a container that has a tightly fitting lid if you wish it to retain all of its original flavor.

To Dry Salt

Always dry table salt on a piece of paper in the oven and crush it finely before filling the salt cellars.

Just a Thought

I always leave the door of my clothes closet open at night when the room is full of fresh air. Consequently it is never stuffy, and, incidentally, I have never seen a sign of moths.

A Coffee Test

Stir a teaspoonful of ground coffee in a half-glass of cold water. It should show very little discoloration and very few grounds should sink to the bottom of the glass if the coffee is of good quality.

Prevent Skidding

If you want things to cool quickly and wish to put the dish directly on the ice, place a rubber ring from a fruit jar under the dish. The ring will adhere to both the ice and the dish and the contents will not spill.

Things Other Women Know

All fruit should be carefully washed before eating.

Iodine is useful for covering scratches on mahogany furniture.

Lace that is not too badly soiled can be cleaned with fine oatmeal.

Silk stockings should be washed after each wearing to insure durability.

Use a fork when creaming butter and sugar, and the process will be hastened.

A few drops of turpentine added to the starch will make collars and cuffs beautifully glossy.

OFFER TO AID CITY

The Allied Architects' Association in a communication to the City Council yesterday offered the co-operation of its sixty members in construction of any of the several public buildings in prospect, especially in working out plans for the administrative center.

PUTTING UP THE SEASON'S BERRIES

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast—Fresh berries, cereal, scrambled eggs, coffee, toast.

Luncheon—Baked rice and cheese, wholewheat bread, lettuce, iced tea, jam.

Dinner—Corned beef, boiled potatoes, cabbage, carrots, fruit salad, caramel custards, coffee.

To can blackberries or blueberries by the cold pack method.—Wash the berries and put them into hot, sterilized glass jars, then pour over them a hot, medium-thin sirup made by boiling three quarts of sugar and two quarts of water together for five minutes. Partially seal the jars (that is, put top wire up but do not press down side wire) and process the jar in your washboiler canner for sixteen minutes in boiling water which rises almost to top of jar. Remove from canner, completely seal, cool out of a draught and store after inverting to test for leaks.

Blackberry jelly.—Wash and mash freshly picked blackberries and put them into an agateware or enamelware kettle; cook slowly, adding no water, until they are tender, then turn them into a jelly bag and let drip till no more juice comes. Quarter two quarts of apples, put removing cores, and stew these in the preserving kettle with only just enough water to keep from sticking to the bottom; when tender, drain and measure the juice. To every cupful of blackberry juice add one cup of the strained apple juice and bring to the boiling point; add an equal quantity of granulated sugar and boil until two drops will form at once on a spoon when a little of the juice is held high in the air and dripped back into the kettle. Turn at once into hot, sterilized glasses, let cool, then cover with melted paraffine.

Raspberry Jelly.—This may be made in the same way as the blackberry jelly, with an equal quantity of apple juice combined with the raspberry juice. Or current juice may be used in place of the apple juice. If desired, commercial bottled pectin can be used with the raspberries to make jelly. (Follow directions which come with the bottled pectin.)

Gooseberry-Red Currant Jam. "Top and tail" three pounds of ripe red gooseberries and put them into a saucepan with one pound of stemmed red currants and three pounds of sugar; let stand five hours, then bring to the boiling point and boil for thirty minutes, stirring often. Turn into hot, sterilized glasses, cool, and cover with melted paraffine. This makes a delicious jam.

In My Garden

By Jessie A. Currey

In almost any border rudbeckias are good for backing up the other flowers, but of all the species which make an appeal I think rudbeckia subtomentosa is the strongest. It is not a tall growing variety, seldom reaching more than thirty to thirty-six inches in height, and is very effective in small gardens as well as in more extensive plantings. If you are looking for large masses in a medium border this variety will be found quite useful. The flowers while small are produced with great freedom and the best description I can make of them is that they are like a yellow daisy with a purple brown center. The stems are stiff and sturdy and grow in a straight upright position. While not particular as to soil this rudbeckia loves plenty of sun and should be divided about every third year.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

FORM LETTERS

To our Followers: The following rules of the Column will have to be followed in asking for diet and health material which we offer. Otherwise your letters cannot be given attention:

First: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope (s. a. e.). The envelope must include your full name, city or town, State and street number. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must also inclose 4 cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails.

Second: Write legibly with pen or typewriter and not more than one side of your handwriting is read. If your handwriting is not clear get some one to write for you.

Third: When you ask for material to be sent, have your s. a. e. of at least a full-sized envelope. It is very difficult to stuff a whole pamphlet into a baby envelope.

Fourth: Address your letters to me in care of your paper. They will be forwarded to me at my office in New York City.

Fifth: Please sign your name as evidence of good faith. We promise that we shall not use it in any way.

Sixth: Do not ask for material to be sent you unless it is something we have offered to send in addition to write on any subject of general interest which I have not covered and I will be glad to do so as soon as possible.

Seventh: Do not ask for diagnosis or for individual treatment. I could not safely give you these even if I had the time, which I have not. This is the province of your personal physician.

Eighth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is ignored. And allow very much longer than that for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear there.

Ninth: Whether my answers to individuals and articles such as my column similar to the one you read discussed, and answered when you call, whether your initials are appended or not. Many persons ask the same questions and I must answer them all together to save time and space.

Tenth: If all of the first seven rules are complied with your letter can-not receive any attention. I dislike to have to put all of these restrictions on you, but unless you do follow them it is going to be impossible for us to handle our mail.

If you remember that my "Diet and Health" is a syndicated feature, appearing all over the United States and Canada and in every section of the country creating great interest, you will realize the extent of my mail. I want to be able to read all of your letters. They are an inspiration and a help to me, but I shall not be able to do it unless you follow these rules because of the tremendous number of them.

You may never see your answer under your own initials for in the column I can answer very few and I try to choose those letters by the answering of which I can help the largest number. Probably 80 per cent of our letters have to do with the question of reducing so, naturally, that subject being of the greatest interest—and, incidentally, of the greatest general importance—there will be a great deal on that subject always.

You will find I have to repeat my advice very often. But it is by repetitions that we learn, so that is desirable. I shall prepare many of my articles so that you get them again by sending the s. a. e. and following the other directions. But unless I have written on a subject and have offered to send it to you, it will not be available for distribution.

Please remember that I cannot take the place of your family physician, I cannot make diagnoses for you, nor treat you personally, nor write individual diets. I appreciate very much the wonderful confidence you are showing in me, but if you think for a moment you can realize that diagnoses and personal treatment would be impossible. I can only take up in the column questions that will be of general interest to all my readers.

I feel like adding a tenth rule. It is this: Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much help you are getting from it. For that is an inspiration to me and, of course, makes my work happier.

I shall probably have to run this article just as it is once a month at least to keep the newcomers in column order and probably to remind you, too, though I hope you will help me and hasten my reply to you in remembering to observe our rules.

SECOND BOWL CONCERT

SPELL OF HARMONY IN OPEN ATTRACTS THRONGS

By Edwin Schallert

Music's message, blending with the spell of the infinite spaces, where dwell the constellations and the planets, and with the magic half-illumined background of earth and hillside, again was conveyed to thousands of listeners, happily removed by the walls nature herself has provided from the day's toil and care, last night in the amphitheater of the Hollywood Bowl. Again was there rapt attention to the influence of beauteous melody and harmony, and again a measured satisfaction in the choice of composition and interpretation under those auspicious conditions which are peculiar to the night and the open.

Interest in the program was perhaps heightened by the presence of a soloist, Alfred Mirovitch, but it was perhaps to the combination of orchestral attractions and to the special feature that the audience gave most of its appreciation. To Emil Oberhoffer in particular they offered a response and respect that must indeed have been gratifying.

In the instance of two selections there was evidence of such genuine pleasure, in fact, that the conductor offered an encore. These were the Westerhout Rondo d'Amour and Herbert's Air de Ballet, both light and airy of texture, and perhaps appealing because of their very delicacy, which subtly permeated the vastness of the outdoor theater.

Novelties of this kind are naturally popular and in a degree rare, and though they do not allow Mr. Oberhoffer the full sway of his artistry, they are engaging indications of his understanding of the broader taste. His playing of them has the quality of charm in its finest essence, which contrasts pleasingly with the bigger dramatic farce that he commands in such compositions as the Symphonic poem, "The Moldau," by Smetana; the overture, "Carneval," by Dvorak, which, with Raff's March from Symphony No. 5, "Leonore," were rather dynamically presented by him also as a part of the concert.

The bigger and more sweeping qualities were uppermost in Mr. Mirovitch's playing of Tschaikowsky's Concerto for piano in B flat minor. The work seemed to lack something of the more vital flavor, and needed as a whole more highlighting. A piano concerto in the open presents difficulties, however, and Mr. Mirovitch's rendition was in all worthy if not completely satisfying.

More and more as one watches Mr. Oberhoffer does one realize the superior qualities of his musicianship and his feeling. Veritably he possesses an exceptional poetic magnetism. It is remarkable indeed the reaction of instrument and player to his every gesture. The fineness, the precision of each separate motion of his hand counts for so much in the interpretation, and there is a constant variety as well as a splendid nobility, to everything that he does.

I have faith that he will make a constantly deeper impression as the season progresses and that he will build to ever more vivid climaxes. I felt at times a clarity lacking in certain of the passages of the bigger works that he gave last night, but I have no doubt that he will overcome this as the season gets really under way, and that as he assumes a growing control over his forces will come those larger and more potent contrasts that mean so much where the space is ample as it is in the open.

Mrs. J. J. Carter's talk during the intermission was an enlivening feature that was missed last night. She has been suffering from hoarseness due to the strain on her voice of many talks in behalf of the Bowl, but there is promise of her early resumption of her informal speeches, which have added so much in their way to the success of this big community project.

"NIGHT IN ARABY"

"A Night in Araby" with atmospheric entertainment will be staged at the Cinderella Roof this evening. The Shiek Band, a group of gaily costumed Arabs, will introduce the seductive melodies of the desert. Against a background of sky and stars showing through the columns of the open-air promenade, the Shieks will be heard in a continuous serenade of vocal and instrumental music. Karena, an oriental dancer, has been secured to perform her "danse Sahara." Within the ballroom Herb Wiedoeft and his boys will furnish modern dance music.

Forty per cent of the drivers of one large city taxicab company are stockholders in the concern.

BUSTER'S NEW LEADING LADY

Coming to Symphony in "Balloonatic"

Phyllis Haver

BUSTER KEATON, frozen-faced comedian, is said to reach the dizziest heights of fun in his latest three-reel comedy, "The Balloonatic," which comes to the Symphony Sunday.

Through circumstances as funny as they are strange, Buster falls heir to a balloon. His downfall comes when he discovers a shotgun in the equipment and undertakes t oshoot pigeons off the gas bag. He drops the pigeons, also himself.

He meets with a certain blonde Diana — the charming, shapely Phyllis Haver — who wears sport clothes with no little charm. Buster's wooing of the fair Phyllis and the events that follow on his balloonatic courtship are said to make the cleverest and funniest Keaton comedy since "The Boat," which has always been regarded as Buster's high-water mark.

FUTURE BRIGHT

SCHULBERG PREPARING FOR LARGE PROGRAM

By Grace Kingsley

Over at the Schulberg studios, B. P. Schulberg is getting ready for a big year. He is already preparing for his next productions, to be made following those on which three companies are already at work.

Mr. Schulberg announced yesterday that the new films for which scenarios are being prepared would include "The Boomerang," which Victor Schertzinger is to direct. The feature is to have an all-star cast, but nobody has as yet been chosen for it.

Kenneth Harlan is doing so well as the hero of "The Virginian," that he will have the leading part in George Agnew Chamberlin's "White Man," which Tom Forman will direct.

Following "Maytime," in which Gaston Glass, Ethel Shannon and Netta Westcott, the new English beautly, have leading roles, Louis Gasnier is to direct Robert W. Service's "Poison Paradise." This is a story of Monte Carlo.

It is likley that Netta Westcott will have the leading feminine role in "Poison Paradise," says Mr. Schulberg. She films excellently, it seems, and while she has never done any picture work at all, and had never seen herself on the screen until she behald her test at the Schulberg studios, she seems to have an uncanny sense of screen values, in acting, and is expected to be a great success.

Miss Westcott came from London all alone, and was very homesick at first, she admits, but fellow-players have been taking her to tea at the Country Club, which made her feel at home, and then somebody took her to the ball game the other day, and though she doesn't like baseball nearly as well as cricket, she thinks it dashed lively and all that sort of thing, you know, and believes she will really like it in time.

When Frank Craven's "The First Year" is made into a picture, it is Victor Schertzinger who will direct.

Al Lichtman is stopping along for a few weeks, but will later go back to Europe, where it is quite possible he may sign up other foreign stars, and where he also expects to establish some exchanges.

At present Schulberg and Lichtman declare they are running a ranch several miles up in the mountains beyond Lone Pine, where "The Virginian" is being filmed.

"There we are raising pictures and cattle and the cowboys are raising h—l," Schulberg explained. "Oh, no, the boys aren't behaving badly, but they are surely having a great time.

"The company has to travel twenty-five miles by pack train to get to location," he went on, "and since I have seen the bills I know they are far away!"

TINY CROESUS GIVEN DIVORCE

Smallest Millionaire Says Wife Was Cruel

Charges Love Cooled Soon After Honeymoon

Complaint Avers She Wanted Too Much Money

Will F. Meyer, reputed to be the smallest millionaire in Long Beach, was granted a divorce from his wife, Aline E. Meyer, by Judge Summerfield yesterday after the husband had testified that his wife was cruel.

Said to weigh only sixty-five pounds, the diminutive Croesus testified that following a honeymoon trip to China, his wife's love grew cold and her chief interest in him seemed to be in obtaining as much money as possible.

He stated that she would come to his store and demand money and that he was forced to comply with her requests to avoid trouble. Her asserted habits finally became so fixed, the husband testified, that he would seek a hiding place whenever he was informed she was approaching his place of business.

Meyer stated that he feared the vengeance of his wife so greatly that he would buy her good will with large cash contributions. He further stated that she would not prepare his meals and that it was a rare occasion when he could eat in his own home.

The couple were married in 1919 and separated April 21, 1922. Meyer is said to have inherited a large fortune from his father. Attorneys Newton, Todd and Kendall Perkins represented the plaintiff.

French Society Will Celebrate Fall of Bastille

The executive committee of the Society Francaise of Los Angeles has completed arrangements for exercises in Hollenbeck Hall, First and Chicago streets, celebrating the great national holiday of France, July 14, the anniversary of the storming of the Bastille in 1789.

The literary exercises on the program, including addresses in French by Lucien N. Brunswig, of the Brunswig Drug Company and prominent in numerous French organizations along the Pacific Coast for the relief of French orphans and devastated France, and G. De Werthemer and also an address in English by Gen. Frank C. Prescott will commence at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Following the speeches Andre Rouseyrol will sing "The Marseillaise" and Mlle. Betty Christianson will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner." It is probable that M. Randon de Saint-Amand will sing "La paix va fleurir au pays de France," the song composed by Paul Hutin in honor of Marshal Petain's march into Metz.

A dance in the costumes of the regency will be given by the children of M. and Mme. F. Lescoulie. Miles. Victoria Verges and Marion Trace will execute a character dance and an exhibition "jazz" fantasie will be given by Lorraine Platt. Following other dance and musical numbers M. Louis Sentous, Consular Agent of France, will present M. Louis J. Christopher, the president of the executive committee of the French colony.

A ball will be given in the evening.

DEALERS' DOLLARS TO BE DINNER SUBJECT

"The Motor Car Dealers' Dollar" is the subject of an address to be given tonight by C. A. Vane, general manager of the National Automobile Dealers' Association, at a dinner and meeting of executives of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association in Elite Hall, 633 South Flower street. Following Mr. Vane's address sales managers of the local organization will confer to settle the question: "Are sales managers' to blame?"

WILL HELP CELEBRATE DRUG WEEK

Gamut Club Expected to Join in Parade Due to Speech of Capt. Hobson

Following a plea by Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson at the monthly banquet and entertainment of the Gamut Club, that organization is expected to take an important part in the celebration of Narcotic Week, which starts on the 21st inst., with a parade, culminating in exercises at Exposition Park.

Capt. Hobson invited club members to donate automobiles or trucks to the International Narcotic Association to be used in transporting marchers to Exposition Park. E. G. Judah, on behalf of the club, pledged assistance.

In the midst of a musical program, Capt. Hobson revealed astounding data on the menace of the drug evil, and told of the "Los Angeles plan" for eradicating it. He predicts that the method being used here in educating school children against the evil will become world-wide.

In recognition of his services to the nation as a naval hero, a national legislator and a crusader against narcotics, Capt. Hobson was made an honorary member of the club.

A musical program was presented by A. D. Hunter, well-known band music instructor. Among those featured were the Euterpean Quartet, Maud Reeves Barnard, director and teacher; J. Howard Johnson, first tenor; J. Malcolmson Huddy, second tenor; Theodore H. Johnson, baritone; Norman Keich, bass; Pearl Cole McMullen, dramatic soprano; Raymond McFeeters, pianist, and Otto Lederer, in a humorous monologue. Yeatman Griffith, English vocal instructor, was present, as was Mrs. Gouverneur Hoes, great-grand-daughter of President Monroe.

FEDERAL AID ASSURED IN DRUG FIGHT

Officials in Washington Indorse Education Plan of Citizens' Committee

Government officials at Washington yesterday telegraphed to the headquarters of the Los Angeles Citizens' Committee on Narcotic Education their indorsement of the plans of the organization to extend the educational activities to every State in the Union and to foreign countries.

The officials pledged their support and co-operation, and members of the committee received the expressions of sympathy enthusiastically as they worked out the details of the parade and ceremonies for "Narcotic Education Day," the 21st inst.

Hundreds of prominent men and women of Los Angeles and Southern California are actively engaged in assisting the officials of the committee in the arrangements for the inaugural ceremonies and parade.

The parade and ceremonies will celebrate the inauguration of the extending of the narcotic educational activities to every State in the Union and to foreign countries.

Two Are Held as Shoplifters After Hearing

Earl J. Main and Mrs. Bertie Bird, arrested on six counts as shoplifters and from whom $300 in various wearing apparel was recovered, yesterday were held on charges of grand larceny by Justice Follette. Both are in jail.

Testimony at the hearing showed that Main and Mrs. Bird had entered various of the downtown department stores with a large hat box, carried by one or the other. Into this, it is asserted, various apparel, such as furs, women's clothes and quickly handled articles disappeared as fast as the lid of the box could be lifted and slipped back again. More than $300 worth of goods was an exhibit at the hearing which lasted for three days.

WOMAN HURT BY AUTO

Walks from Behind Street Car and Is Struck

Mrs. Nora Clark, residing at the Marengo Hotel, Pasadena, last night was struck by an automobile driven by G. F. Williams, 1410 Hope street, as she walked from behind a street car near Colorado and Marengo streets. Probably fatally injured, she was taken to the Emergency Hospital and later to the Pasadena Hospital. Her injuries are internal. Witnesses said Williams was going slowly when he struck and ran over Mrs. Clark. He is being held by the police, but probably will be released.

LAWYER INDICTED UNDER DRUG ACT

Attorney Guy Rockwell learned yesterday that he had been named in a secret indictment returned several weeks ago by the Federal grand jury, charging violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act. He stated that he would be prepared to face Federal Court next Monday and enter his plea. Rockwell is now free on $5000 bond, furnished when he was arrested last February. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriffs Bell, Dewar and Conly and investigators. The asserted deal for which the attorney was arrested was the result of a series of negotiations carried on with an official of a large motion-picture studio, it is charged. It was planned to buy sixty-four ounces of morphine from the attorney, to be delivered by Ercole Maglione, who was indicted with Rockwell, officials assert. Rockwell has been out of the city several weeks, for which reason the warrant was not served after the indictment.

PACOIMA CREEK PLAN ATTACKED

Councilman Allan Charges Waste of Money

Resolution for Survey Sent to Committee

Engineer of Project Replies to Assertions

Construction of the channel from the mouth of the Pacoima Canyon to the Los Angeles River is a misapplication of public funds, and will cause more menace than protection, according to charges made yesterday by members of the City Council. The project is a county one.

The presentation of President Workman's resolution calling for a city survey of flood conditions was the signal for the attack. Councilman Allan declared that the Pacoima project was costing the county government ten times what it should.

"I should like to have the job for 10 per cent of what it is costing," said Councilman Allan, who recently made an inspection of the work.

Mr. Workman's charge of misapplication of public funds was based on his contention that the project was not properly a flood-control measure, but merely one of diverting water, and that since the flood waters of the Pacoima watershed would be dumped into the Los Angeles River, it would menace the city should a serious flood occur.

Mr. Workman said that the project calls for a canal seventy-five feet wide and twelve feet deep. Then Mr. Allan made his charge of excessive cost for this work.

CALLS FOR SURVEY

Mr. Workman's resolution, at his request, was referred to the Finance Committee. It calls for a special survey made by a competent flood-control engineer. It points out that the present county project is the only measure under way, although several have been advocated without any conclusion. It declares that the increase in population and property development in the Los Angeles River watershed, particularly about Van Nuys, demands immediate protection.

When asked by a representative of The Times for a statement on the charges that money was being wasted on the Pacoima channel project, Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors stated that the matter is as yet only in the embryo stage, and that co-operation by the engineers of the city force would be heartily welcomed by the county officials, and especially by the flood control board.

The county is endeavoring, he stated, to aid the people of Van Nuys and surrounding country in their efforts to save themselves from the dangers of floods, and inasmuch as the entire valley is a part of Los Angeles, assistance from the city will be entirely welcome.

J. W. Reagan, chief engineer of the District Flood Control Board, stated that, to begin with, the project is not a diversion of the waters of Pacoima Creek at all, but merely the enlarging of the channel to enable it to carry flood waters and so save the city of Van Nuys and surrounding country from inundation in times of flood.

ASKED COUNTY FOR AID

He further stated that the people of Van Nuys, since being made part of Los Angeles, repeatedly have asked for aid from the City Council, but always have met with rebuffs, and so had to come to the county authorities for aid in a matter which should in reality be strictly a city undertaking. He further stated that the people of the San Fernando Valley feel that although the city is glad to collect taxes from them, they have been given only slight consideration.

The present project was adopted at the request of the people of the San Fernando Valley, made both by petition and by a personal committee, and the plans for the project were worked out partly by the city engineering force and partly by Mr. Reagan's staff, but were approved by the City Engineer's office.

While the project is something entirely new in engineering feats, and so has to be worked out piecemeal to some extent, Mr. Reagan states that he estimates that its completion so as to afford something like adequate flood protection to the people of the San Fernando Valley will cost about $300,000.

Referring to the charges of extravagance in the project, Mr. Reagan said:

"In regard to Councilman Allan's statements to the effect that he recently made a trip of inspection over the works and that he would like to have the job for 10 per cent of what it is costing, Councilman Allan some months ago spoke to one of the Supervisors about the cost of the rock and wire matting which he saw placed upon the embankments in San Fernando Valley.

ASKED FOR INFORMATION

"He was called on the telephone by the Chief Engineer to give him any information which he wished upon the matter and he repeated the statement to the Chief Engineer that its present cost was too great; that he had inspected the work and taken two men out with him who were familiar with that kind of work and who had done a great deal of it. He was told there was not a square yard of that kind of work to be found anywhere else in the United States. He was then invited to come up to the Chief Engineer's office and accepted the invitation.

"The Chief Engineer will readily recommend Mr. Allan for the contractor for doing this work at what it is costing now. If he can do it at 10 per cent of what it is costing now, and we will give him the contract at what it will cost, he will have an opportunity to make 900 per cent.

"In regard to the quoted statement of Mr. Workman of a misapplication of job funds, and that the matter was not properly a flood control measure, but merely one of diverting water, and since the flood waters of the Pacoima water shed would be dumped into the Los Angeles River it would be a menace to the city should a flood occur,' it is generally believed by all the people who have lived in Los Angeles in the past that the Pacoima water has always flowed into the Los Angeles River. Hence Mr. Workman either must be misquoted or he has not attempted to inform himself."

HEADACHE PLANT IN STOVE

Detective's Sensitive Nose Leads Him to Bootlegger's Still Doing Business in Furnace

The morning was a little muggy, and smoke and other things, instead of rising high in air as they usually do, sought lower levels.

Something to do with the building department. Contreras cocked his ear as he conversed and was convinced he heard a sizzling sound. Then he went away and laid his surmises before the proper authorities.

The officer, a warrant and a squad returned to Ninety-fifth street yesterday. They met the dog.

The dog advanced. They retreated.

They advanced. The dog advanced. They retreated.

FIND THE STILL

Falling back to a previously prepared position, they supplied themselves with bricks and other weapons and advanced again. This time they managed to outmaneuver the dog.

Contreras says he found the still after a careful search, inside a furnace in the basement, the flues of which carried off the fumes. It was of fifty-gallon capacity. Besides the still, there was a fifty-gallon barrel of white headache, three ten-gallon kegs of the same, and 180 gallons more in other receptacles, according to the officers.

Mrs. Grilick was charged with violation of the Wright Act.

The dog was fierce, but the clubs and sticks finally subdued him.

The furnace was good camouflage.

No, gentle reader, this is not an exercise in typewriting, nor the start of one of those Main-street novels, nor an Ezra Pound poem, but a plain recital of everyday life in Los Angeles and an explanation of why Mrs. N. Grilick, of 1359 West Ninety-fifth street found herself in jail.

Detective George Contreras of the District Attorney's staff, whose keen scent has caught the odor of mash on many occasions, was tripping along Ninety-fifth street the other day, sniffing the air as is his custom. The old, familiar, slightly sour pungence assailed his nostrils, brought down by the high fog overhead.

STARTS ON TRAIL

"Where is it?" said Contreras to himself. He circled about a few times and knocked at last on Mrs. Grilick's door.

"Yes, we have no bananas," said Mrs. Grilrick, or words to that effect, in response to Contreras's politely worded inquiry about who owned a sewer opening in the vicinity and his mumble that he had

SISTERS BATTLE FOR BABY

Defendant Says She Took Name of Child's Mother to Save Husband and Girl from Scandal

Two sisters faced each other in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday, battling for the right to possess June Shosted, a 5-year-old girl. Mrs. Lois Pollan, one of the sisters, who declares she is the child's mother, is asking for a writ of habeas corpus to take the little girl from Mrs. R. C. Shosted, its adopted mother.

A strange story of the girl's birth in Independence, Kan., five years ago, was related on the stand yesterday by Mrs. Shosted.

At that time, Mrs. Shosted said she was married to Earl B. Shanholtzer, who later died. Before the baby's birth, she said, her sister came to her and confessed that she was to have a child by Mr. Shanholtzer.

DECEPTION RELATED

To save her sister's honor and her husband's name, Mrs. Shosted declared that she agreed to deceive all their relatives and friends. She said she went away with her sister and at a hospital the sisters changed names. After the baby was born, she declared, she came back, telling her mother and her friends that the little girl was her own.

After her husband's death, Mrs. Shosted said, she supported the child with great difficulty, working for $7 a week. The real mother during that time did nothing for the little girl, she said.

As the years passed, Mrs. Shosted said, she grew to love the little girl as much as if she were her own child and that the child loved her as a mother.

FIRST SUIT FAILS

But three years ago, she said, the real mother married Capt. Clayton Pollan of the Regular Army. Before the marriage, Mrs. Pollan is said to have confessed the entire incident to her future husband and he promised to help her get back her baby.

The first suit to get the baby was brought by the mother in Duluth, Minn., a year ago. The court there denied her plea. The feeling of the sisters was so intense during the trial, Mrs. Shosted said yesterday, that Mrs. Pollan threw pepper in her eyes and was arrested.

After that trial, Mrs. Shosted came to Los Angeles and married her present husband.

The hearing will be continued today, when Mrs. Pollan will tell her story.

TWO HELD AS INCENDIARIES

Suspects Arrested Following Investigation Into Fires in Orange and Riverside County Cities

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FULLERTON, July 12.—Investigation into the series of apparently incendiary fires which have swept Fullerton, Anaheim and Riverside during the past few days resulted in the arrest yesterday of two suspects, one of whom is held here and the other at Orange.

The two suspects are F. B. Padilla, a Mexican, held at the City Jail here, and Jess A. Janeway, 30 years of age, who is in the Orange County Hospital with a bullet wound in each leg. Janeway was shot down by police after they had called on him to halt. The suspect ignored the command and broke into a run. He was brought down by a bullet fired by one of the officers, which passed through both his legs.

CAUGHT PROWLING

The Mexican was arrested early yesterday morning by Fullerton police while prowling about a house near Spadra Road and Santa Fe avenue. Shortly after his arrest, Fullerton police said, he was definitely identified by several persons who had seen him prowling about various packing-plants and homes just before these broke into flames.

It is the theory of Orange county authorities that the two suspects are either deranged or are members of a band of radicals which is seeking to revenge itself on the communities for the fight waged against them. The I.W.W. is mentioned in this connection.

Considerable property damage was caused by the series of fires. At Fullerton six fires were reported in rapid succession Wednesday. On Tuesday three incendiary fires broke out in Anaheim and a few days before that Riverside was swept by a series of fires, all of them apparently of incendiary origin.

Four Fullerton packing-plants were among those fired by the incendiaries. In each case the flames were quickly extinguished by the fire department. One of the plants was fired twice, but having been warned by the first outbreak of the flames the second fire was detected before it could make much headway.

Guards were stationed throughout Fullerton during Wednesday night to prevent a recurrence of the fires and none was reported.

Janeway's condition was said by physicians at the Orange County Hospital to be not serious, the wounds being superficial.

OFFICERS IN SEARCH FOR PHYSICIAN

Dr. Fisher, Accused as Drug Law Violator, Fails to Appear in Court

The expected appearance of Dr. James T. Fisher, for whom a warrant has been issued, charging violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act, failed to materialize yesterday and deputy United States marshals were sent in search of him.

It had been understood that he was to face United States Commissioner Long yesterday morning to answer to the complaint filed against him and to produce bond. This he failed to do.

Federal Agent De Spain stated yesterday that bond in the sum of $5000 would be asked to insure the doctor's appearance in court.

Inquiries at Dr. Fisher's offices in the Pacific Mutual Building and at his home were met with replies that he is "out of the city."

The complaint was filed with Commissioner Long Wednesday afternoon and a warrant issued after Agents De Spain and Wood had reported that investigation of the doctor's records failed to show certain sales of narcotics. Agent De Spain declared that on Tuesday he was sold seventy-five grains of morphine by Dr. Fisher for $100.

The Los Angeles Times, J. E. Zapp will pilot the plane with Miss Chadwick aboard.

FIRST TIME IN AIR

Although this will mark Miss Chadwick's first experience in the air, she promptly accepted the invitation of The Times to fly over the beaches and release the tickets.

At 3 o'clock the plane will appear over Venice. It will circle the beach twice and on the third trip will release 1000 tickets in 200 lots.

At 3:20 the plane will appear over the beach at Ocean Park and will repeat the process. Another 1000 tickets will come fluttering from the sky to the waiting crowds.

TO FLY NEAR CROWDS

Pilot Zapp will bring his plane down as close as possible over the crowds so that no tickets will go astray. Miss Chadwick, meantime, is warming up her pitching arm so that she may be able to hurl the bundles of tickets with accuracy.
